Western Hospital Ladies Aid Meeting

The June meeting of the Western Hospital Aid was held in the Nurses' Home on Friday evening, June 10th at eight o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Bertha Wade, in the chair. There were fifteen members in attendance. The minutes of the last monthly meeting were read and approved. The treasurer read the financial statement for the month showing a balance of $80.99 on hand. Dues were gratefully received from four new members.

The secretary announced that with the aid of the treasurer, a report had been prepared and given Mrs. Edwin MacDonald, who so kindly accepted the appointment as delegate to the Maritime Hospital Aid Association Convention held in the city of Halifax.

The convenor of the sewing committee sincerely thanked the ladies for the vast amount of work they had already accomplished but she urged that a little more help be given in the near future, since a considerable amount of quilting is as yet to be completed. "Members," she said, "could meet in the Nurses' Home every Wednesday for sewing."

It was moved and seconded that this Ladies' Aid with the help of outlying districts, parishes, and etc., take charge of the tables (meals) at the West Prince Exhibition. Motion carried. A lengthy discussion on means and ways of carrying out this enterprise followed. It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that the tables be allotted to the different districts, parishes or any group of church people, who would accept the responsibilities of same.

It was moved and seconded that a committee be appointed in charge of the "management of tables." The president reported that in conjunction with the Alberton Hospital Aid a well attended sewing club has been organized in Kildara Central, and a remarkable amount of sewing was being prepared for the exhibition booth.

At the conclusion of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the staff of the Hospital.

SUMMERSIDE

MICKEY ROONEY, GLORIA DE HAVEN TOP TALENTED "SUMMER HOLIDAY" CAST
—Utilizing a striking and revolutionary technique in its handling of tunes and lyrics, M-G-M's Technicolor musical, "Summer Holiday," brings a wealth of talent to the Capitol screen in one of the most satisfying musicals to emanate from Hollywood in many a year.

Here is a picture which seems to use of its song hits as spot numbers. Instead, the various songs, written by Harry Warren and Ralph Blane (and, incidentally, you'll be hearing two or three of them on the Hit Parade) are skillfully integrated as part of the dialogue itself, ranging on such varied topics of the dawn of the Twentieth Century as rides in a Stanley Steamer, Fourth of July beer-drinking contests, Gibson Girl frolics on a picnic—and, of course, love!

The picture is based on Eugene O'Neill's now almost classic play, "Ah, Wilderness!" which described in nostalgic terms the pleasures and near-tragedies of small-town life in America of the early 1900's, and particularly the case history of young Richard Miller who tries to carry the problems of the whole world on his frail shoulders. Mickey Rooney is Richard Miller, bursting to preach the "evils" of capitalism in his impassioned high school valedictorian speech; confronted with the difficulties of making his adoration articulate to eager but shy Muriel, played by Gloria De Haven; experiencing his first taste of worldly wisdom when he falls into the clutches of honky-tonk Belle (Marilyn Maxwell).

SWEDEN'S EARLY FOUNDER
Early in the 11th century, King Olof Skottkonung united Sweden into a strong nation and established Christianity there.

MacLean-MacLaurin Wedding

—A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, June 23rd, at the Summerside Baptist Church Parsonage when Campsie Jean MacLaurin was joined in holy matrimony to Alexander Roger MacLean.
The bride looked lovely dressed in a dove gray suit with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of Crimson Beauty roses. The bridesmaid was Vivian MacLaurin, sister of the bride. The best man was Robert Neil MacLean, cousin of the bridegroom.
The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Ernest J. Barras, Minister of the First Baptist Church, Summerside, P. E. I., in the presence of relatives and friends of the happy couple.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacLaurin of Belmont, Lot 18, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold MacLean of South West Lot 16.

Following the marriage ceremony the happy newlyweds left on a brief honeymoon trip to Moncton, N.B. and other New Brunswick and Nova Scotia centres.
On their return Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Roger MacLean will reside at South West Lot 16 where the bridegroom is a successful farmer.
The best wishes of a host of friends follow the newlyweds.

AURORA TRAVELS

The "Northern Lights" have been seen as far south as New Orleans and the Florida peninsula.
MONTREAL — (CP) — This city's June heat gave police radio cars an extra job. Officers kept their eyes open for householders sprinkling lawns against a city order barring lawn-watering to conserve water supplies.
