OUR BOYS OVER THERE
For God, for King, for country we serve, protect and guard that knightly Isle across the sea The Huns they must retard.
Again the call to colours came We're not thirty years before This very foe had dared har might Once more she must be low'd.
From every corner of the globe They rallied to her side Of England, Mistress of the Seas Her right can't be denied.
Canadians, English, Anzacs, Americans, Indians too For which they fight we truly know That Democracy shall rule.
For Liberty and Justice They sail, they march, they fly They fight for us, yes, one and all To conquer or to die.
Thinking of their wives and mothers While the bugle swells anon In a vision one imagines He is back, the victory's won.
Sees his tear-filled wife's eyes peering Through the dusk at end of day Matching, waiting, ever saying "Bring him back, I pray you may."
Then she sees his shadow nearing How she's overjoyed to see him back How he loved to gaze upon her As she said, "God bless you, Jack."
But all too soon the vision faded Hark! he heard the bugle sound And he prayed for God's protection As the standard he rallied round.
Now let us all appraise them Remember them in every prayer And help to uphold our Liberty For which they die so nobly there.
