SECURITY ... FOR THE PEOPLE ... BY THE PEOPLE

How can a dollar be in two places at once?

THAT'S easy, if it's an insurance dollar. You put this dollar into an insurance premium, and you say to yourself, there's my dollar, as safe as a church. And so it is. But if you think that your dollar just sits still in a big vault and twiddles its thumbs until you're ready to take it back in some form of benefits—either for yourself or your family—you're mistaken. If you looked for that dollar you'd find it was busy. You'd find that that dollar has gone to war! Just where you'd want it to go. Your premium dollars, and millions of others, have been loaned to your government to help carry our arms to victory. Instead of these dollars in the vault, there is a pile of War Bonds. And they are as safe as a church, too. All the enormous resources of Canada are behind them. There is no safer investment in the world. That is why over another hundred and fifty million dollars of insurance savings have been invested by life insurance companies in the latest Victory Loan—making a grand total of over four hundred and fifty million dollars in war bonds. And that's an average of over $112 so invested for every insured person in Canada. So you can feel doubly happy about every dollar you have put into insurance. It protects you and your dependents—and at the same time it helps to protect the whole nation—by supplying the tools of victory. Victory is everybody's business. Everyone should work, save and lend to the limit.

IT IS GOOD CITIZENSHIP TO OWN LIFE INSURANCE

This message is sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada

FRED: "Who? Me? How does my insurance help finance the war?"

FRANK: "Why, brother, on an average, Canada's four million policy owners have premium savings of over $112 invested in war loans, enough to buy 10,000 of these battling Spitfires!"

Fashion Note

(The Printed Word) Even an ill-wind rising in the offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board may prove beneficial to somebody. Consider, for example the case of the middle-aged gentleman who discovered the secret of rejuvenation in one of the Clothing Administrator's edicts. He was meek, grey-haired, mild-spoken and fifty. He entered the tailor's bearing on his arm a pair of pants—economy pants, cuffless and unpleated. "Why certainly sir," said the tailor who knew his regulations and knew that students were allowed cuffs. "Glad to do it. Just step this way."

one, "I'm studying something special all right. I'm studying the regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board—and you'd be surprised what a help it is sometimes." HAIR RIBBONS ARE WORN BECOMINGLY NEW YORK. Hair ribbons are something a lot of women have learned how to wear becomingly. One ribbon department has some new arrangements, made of bits of ribbon and combs and veiling, that you could wear for fairly dressy occasions up to and including dinner at a restaurant, the theatre and dancing later. One that takes a yard and three-quarters of veiled ribbon is simply a bow over your curls in front, another low at the back of your head, with a double band of ribbon between. It is most chic, in black or colored velvets. A veer girl at the store will tie the bows for you, she says the pieces together yourself. A baby could do it. Another dinner "hat" is a velvet bow in front secured on a comb or a head-fitting band of transparent plastic, with a short brim cascade of fine black tulle behind.
