Modern Gymnasium Facilities In New Y

The gymnasium in the new Y. M. C. A. building will contain many modern features. The 75' x 45' gymnasium will provide two regulation badminton courts, a standard basketball court and a volleyball court.

Gymnasium apparatus will be easily accessible in the apparatus storage room adjacent to the gymnasium. Bleachers for spectators can be placed along both sides of the gymnasium for games and exhibitions.

Two locker rooms are located at the west end of the gymnasium. Each locker room is equipped with a shower room in which seven showers are installed, drying rooms are placed between the shower rooms and the locker rooms, where members can dry off completely after taking showers.

Members' gym clothing will be stored in heavy gauge wire baskets in the tote box room. After gym clothing has been used, it will be placed in tote baskets and placed in the dryer for several hours, where it will be completely dried out, ready for the next usage.

A special hot water control valve has been installed to regulate the water temperature as a precaution against hot water scalds, frequently encountered in shower rooms.

The new Y.M.C.A. building will facilitate carrying on a full program of physical education activities. Gymnasium class work will include development gymnastics, gymnastic apparatus, tumbling, indoor athletic events, and competitive activities such as fencing, wrestling, and boxing.

All of the resources of the Y. M. C. A. movement as a pioneer organization in physical education for nearly seventy years will be at the disposal of Charlottetown boys, girls, men and women in the new youth centre building.

JUNIOR FARMERS At Rotary

Executive members of the Junior Farmers Federation of P. E. I. were guests at Rotary luncheon yesterday. President Donald Anderson, St. Peter's, Vice-president Lloyd Martin, Cherry Valley, and Secretary Ralph Raynor, Mt. Herbert were introduced by chairman R. C. Parent.

Mr. Donald Anderson was guest speaker and addressed the members as follows: "It is a very great privilege to be present here today and on behalf of Lloyd, Ralph and myself I thank you for your kind invitation so generously extended to us by Mr. Parent. At his request I shall speak briefly on the aims and objectives of the Junior Farmers' Federation."

"This organization came into being February last after a series of meetings of young farmers, following an Agricultural Leadership Course in January, which created much interest and enthusiasm. From that meeting emerged a desire for some tangible organization which would give rural young people an opportunity to come together and develop and maintain a greater interest in Agriculture. Accordingly the Junior Farmers' Federation of Prince Edward Island was organized. It is made up of rural young people between the ages of 16 and 30 and is the second Junior Farmers' organization on a provincial scale in Canada - the first in the Maritimes. It is primarily designed to give rural youth a chance to be heard and to be heard in a friendly circle but by all who knew her and marveled at her hospitality and the sympathetic understanding with which she ever strove to help those in trouble."

Although confined to a wheelchair for nearly five years she has never been able to take a keen interest in everyday affairs, enjoying the company of her neighbors and friends, and loved to be constantly busy at her knitting, praying or reading. During her illness she was frequently visited by her pastor who brought her the consolations of the Holy Catholic Church, of which she was a devout member. Death occurred after an illness of only two weeks.

She leaves to cherish her memory, four sons and two daughters: Daniel and James at home; John A. Post Office Dept., Charlottetown; Austin, Dept. of National Revenue, Ottawa, Ontario; Mrs. Pius Walker, Watertown, Mass.; and Penelope, Mrs. Alex J. MacDonald of Blooming Point. A daughter, Laura, predeceased her in 1923.

The funeral, which was largely attended was held on July 27th at St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, where Solemn Mass of Requiem was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Louis Callaghan, assisted by Rev. W. V. MacDonald and Rev. Urban Gillis, Vernon River; and Rev. William Simpson and Rev. George A. MacDonald of St. Dunstan's University.

Services at the grave were conducted by Rev. Fr. Callaghan, assisted by Rev. W. V. MacDonald and Rev. George A. MacDonald. The pall-bearers were: Messrs J. J. MacDonald, Hugh Hayes, Daniel MacEachern, Dennis Shea, Donald MacDonald and Damien MacDonald.

Interment was in the family plot in the parish cemetery where her mortal remains were laid to rest beside her late husband, used since once more to await the final resurrection.

May her soul rest in peace.

NEW HOMES AT BORDEN - The Town of Borden is one of the busiest spots just now in this Province, and unemployment is a thing of the past to anyone who is willing to work a state of completion. The Guardian learned that they are the enterprise of Mr. H. W. Bernard, merchant at Borden. Knowing the great scarcity of living quarters, Mr. Bernard is building a series of self-contained houses and bungalows, all complete with hardwood floors, up-to-date plumbing and central heating. Mr. Bernard's idea is to sell each home outright on easy terms and if his investment is satisfactory will continue building more, as he is firmly convinced that Borden will be one of the outstanding towns and summer resorts in the next few distant future. Mr. Willard MacNeill is Mayor of the progressive Town of Borden.

In Memoriam

MRS. MARY LOUISE MACDONALD

The death took place at her home in Glenfannan on July 25th, 1948, of one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the community, Mrs. Mary Louise MacDonald, widow of the late James MacDonald.

Born at Indian River on Jan. 14th, 1865, she was the daughter of Donald S. MacLellan and Penelope MacDonald, formerly of Beauce, Que. The last surviving member of that family, she was predeceased by Austin J. and Alban of Indian River, John L. of Bath, Maine, Laura, Mrs. James A. MacDonald of Los Angeles, Cal., and Dr. Archibald, who died in Gloucester, Mass.

On her marriage to James MacDonald in 1895 she came to live at Glenfannan where she dwelt continuously until the last few years when she spent the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Alex MacDonald in Blooming Point. Widowed by the early death of her husband in 1909 she possessed in great measure the qualities of mind and heart required to carry on with the duties of a good mother in her difficult position, and her courage and faith in God helped her in the task of bringing up her family. Her kindness and Christian work together and exercise their full influence in the development of themselves and of our province. By working in close co-operation with Senior groups as well as the Departments of Agriculture, we plan to develop rural organization, more satisfying home life and a higher type of citizenship.

"In short, 'Junior Farmers' is an association of young people, for young people—organized to raise the educational status of its own members, to develop an interest in agriculture and a love for the soil, to preserve the sanctity of the home and its surroundings, and to add zip and pep to the recreational and social life of our rural communities. Through our efforts we aim to put life and meaning into our plans for community betterment."

"To date we have eight local groups organized in widely separated centres and we aim to foster a spirit of unity between those clubs and also to acquaint clubs in one section with the life and work of clubs in other parts of the province—whereby members may discuss ways and means of improving themselves and aid in bringing the farms of Prince Edward Island to the highest state of efficiency, production and prosperity."

"Our policy is to maintain strict neutrality on all racial, religious and political matters. Its aim is to improve the social, educational and recreational standards of farm life through active youth centres and programs. Such centres could include a community hall to provide for the local Junior Farmers headquarters and a sports field."

"The following are a suggested list of spring and summer activities: Ball teams, Field Days, Livestock and Judging competitions, Reforestation Projects, Rural Beautification, Soil Conservation, organization of Calf, Poultry, Swine and Home-making Clubs."

"The field is unlimited and the need insistent. We have a marvelous opportunity through this program to improve rural conditions. For example, today we are having our first big rally at the Experimental Station. On behalf of the Federation I extend a cordial invitation to you all to be present."

"We are, and we want to continue to be famous for the quality of potatoes we export, or maybe the high grade registered cattle or swine, but not for the quality of the youth we export. To this end the Junior Farmers will bend all their efforts towards a common objective, namely, the enrichment of life in our rural communities."

"We hope succeeding generations will reap ever increasing benefits from our efforts and that a keener sense of responsibility will affect the whole people—especially on matters pertaining to education, health, social and economic conditions."

"Through debating clubs, plays, discussion groups and public speaking we hope to develop leadership and a community spirit that will enable us to overcome many problems and accept various responsibilities. Although thus far we are just feeling our way we know that already we have a knowledge of organization and executive work which we might never have had otherwise. We are also learning to work together and finding out the true meaning of the words 'Service and Co-operation.' Few things are impossible in themselves. We believe it is want of perseverance rather than of ability that generally causes failure. We of the Junior Farmers' Federation are sure that we will succeed but we realize that there is hard work ahead."

"We have the vigor, ambition and enthusiasm of youth. You have the tried and mature judgment which comes from successful experience. We feel that your sympathetic consideration, your suggestions and wise counsel can aid us in our effort to make our communities and the Province a happier and better place to live in. Can we count on you?"
