MRS. ANNA F. MACLENNAN

Mrs. Anna F. MacLennan died at the home of her sister Mrs. Allan MacDonald in Glen William on Sunday morning, May 5th. For several years she had been greatly afflicted and the end came as a sweet rest after years of affliction. There remained a rest to the people of God. She was born in Flat River on May 5, 1844 and died at the age of 85 years. She was the daughter of John D. Ross and his wife Catherine Martin. She was married to Laughlin Matheson and lived with him for many years in Caledonia South. About 30 years ago she was left a widow by his death and she latter married Donald MacLennan. For the past seven years she has made her home with her sister Mrs. Allan MacDonald of Glen William. Two other sisters survive her, Mrs. Margaret Mulari and Miss Sarah Ross of Lot 16, P. E. I.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday May 7, and were conducted by the Rev. Quincey A. McDowell, Interment in the Caledonia Cemetery.

Western Guardian

WESTERN AGENT—Mr. C. J. Bellant is Guardian Agent in Howland, and will be pleased to receive new and renewal subscriptions.

NEW PARSONAGE—The United Church people at Lot 16 are having a new parsonage built for their pastor, Rev. Mr. Aitken. Mr. Charles Ramsay, of Summerside, is the contractor, and hopes to have it completed this summer.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES—Among other building activities going on in Summerside this spring, is the enlarging of Mr. C. B. Jelly's house on Spring Street. Mr. Jelly is extending the house on the north side and is also raising the roof. When all the alterations are completed, they will greatly improve Mr. Jelly's nice residence.

KENSINGTON — KINKORA—The Kensington Dramatic Club scored another success on Monday night, May 6th, at Kinkora, where they were greeted by a capacity house for the presentation of "An Old-Fashioned Mother." After the play the members of the caste and their friends were royally entertained at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McIvor. They returned to their homes in the wee sma' hours loud in their praise of the hospitality accorded them and assert they will never miss an opportunity of going back to Kinkora.—K.

CANINE SAGACITY—That a dog can be useful as well as ornamental is proven beyond a doubt by the action of an ex-fox ranch dog owned by Miss Annie Gorman, the popular mail-driver on Kensington route. Each morning when his mistress drives past her home he is waiting to receive the mail which he catches firmly in his teeth and carries safely to her house—some eight chains distant. Once he starts with the parcel, no amount of whistling will coax it away from him. This particular dog must have a "single-track" mind—which may be the best after all—either in canines or humans.—K.

ROAD ENGINEERING—A very bad bog on the Kensington-Summerside road opposite Jervis Tanton's goose ranch, was a bad impediment to traffic—especially by motor car—for some hours on Tuesday. The highway superintendent James Tuplin, who lives nearby used heroic measures with brush and gravel but all to no avail. He then phoned to Summerside and soon had 1200 ft. of plank on the spot—with which he bridged the mess—in much the same manner that the railway builders laid track over the muskegs on the Hudson Bay railroad. In the meantime he had Tom Tuplin with the power machine, stand by till late at night, pulling cars over till the bridge was completed. Such snappy and efficient action is appreciated and admired by the public.—K.

SOCIAL EVENING—A very pleasant function took place in Holman's Toyland on Thursday evening, when the Summerside Golf Club held one of their delightful card parties, which are always very pleasant affairs. The spacious room was decorated in green and red for the occasion and assumed a very pleasing appearance. There were twenty two tables of bridge and ten tables of auction forty-fives. The bridge prize were won by the following:—Ladies' first, Mrs. James Wood; Consolation Miss Lulu Robinson; Gentlemen's first, Mr. Lorne MacFarlane; Consolation, Mr. John Jack. Prizes for forty-fives were won by, Ladies' first, Mrs. Annie Hunter; Consolation, Mrs. S. K. Todd; Gentlemen's first, Dr. J. J. Jardine, of Kensington; consolation, Dr. H. T. Colvin. At the conclusion of play a very delicious supper was served by the committee composed of Mrs. H. T. Holman, Mrs. G. Ennis Smith, Mrs. H. T. Colvin, Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, Mrs. (Dr.) J. C. Simpson and Mrs. Musson. Mr. W. J. Whitney acted as master of ceremonies in a very efficient and entertaining manner. S

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN MURRAY—There passed peacefully away at her home in Enmore, on Saturday May 4th, Mrs. John Murray, in the 70th year of her age. She had been in her usual health until about two weeks before her death, when she was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia and all that medical skill and tender nursing could do was of no avail and her spirit took its flight to her Saviour in whom she trusted. She was a devoted member of the church of Scotland for about fifty years, a home loving, social, kind-hearted neighbor, and a friend to all who knew her and will be greatly missed in the community in which she lived. She was born at New Argyle, Lot 65, daughter of the late Duncan and Sarah McEachern. There are left to mourn, besides her sorrowing husband, two brothers and one sister, Dugald of Enmore, John, of New Argyle, and Mrs. Nell McLaughlin of Bonshaw. Her sister Annie, of Charlottetown, predeceased her by a few hours. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McCowan, who preached an eloquent sermon from St. John's Gospel, and her favourite hymns and psalms were sung, "Jesus lover of my Soul," "Nearer My God to Thee," "The Comfort Christians" and the 103rd Psalm. Then all that was mortal of a loving wife and a kind Christian neighbor was laid to rest in the beautiful cemetery, at Victoria West, by the side of her brother, Duncan, there to await the glorious Resurrection. The pall bearers were Messrs John H. Bryant, Theo. Enman, Wm. Bryan, Alfred Frost, Roland Wyrant and J. E. Campbell. Floral contributions by Mrs. Majo Hope, Mrs. Alfred Frost, Mrs. Wallace Enman, Mrs. Gordon McArthur, Mr. Geo. J. Bryant. S

VERY SUCCESSFUL PLAYS—The young people of Trinity United Church put on two very successful one act plays in Epworth Hall, Summerside, last-Friday evening to a capacity house. The stage was very tastefully decorated to suit the plays which were put on. The play entitled "The Boy Comes Home" was the first to come on and was a striking comedy-drama with very fine characters which were splendidly portrayed by the young people taking part. The characters were as follows:—"Uncle James," Lorne Campbell; "Aunt Emily," Sybil Gordon; "Philip," nephew, Roy Hayes; "Mary," Parlourmaid, Mary Nicholson; "Mrs. Higgins," cook Miss Sophie McQuarrie. Time, the day after the war. The scene opens in a room in Uncle James' house in London, where he rules with an iron hand, everything goes by clock work. Philip has returned from the war and, no longer a boy, he has a will of his own and means to use it. He tries to upset the order of the household and comes up against his Uncle's strong will. However, after much by-play, he succeeds in having his own way and the order of things is completely reversed. The play was of a very high dramatic and literary order and besides being entertaining was of great value in teaching the amateur players the art of expression and also literary talent. The second play was called "Followers," a Cranford Sketch, and was laid in the eighteenth century parlour of an elderly spinster of the period, overcrowded with fragile furniture, spattered with anti-macassars and bric-a-brac. The four characters were taken by the following players: Lucinda Baines, "Maiden Lady," Miss Florence Brooks "Helen Masters," young lady, Laura Campbell; "Susan Crowther," maid, Ruth Campbell; "Colonel Redfern," Wallace Bradshaw. The players all acted their parts extremely well in this rather amusing play, in which ran a touch of sadness. Miss Brooks as the old maid, who would not allow a man in her house but ended in having one herself, did exceptionally well. There was a sale of candy during the intermission. Miss Strong was the pianist and Messrs. Albert and Harold Huestis played instrumental music during the plays. S

PERSONALS—Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, of Springfield, on the birth of a son in the Prince County Hospital on Friday morning, May 10th. S
