"Fruit-a-tives" Performs Another Miracle

BRISTOL, N. B., July 25th, 1911
"I had a stroke of Paralysis in March 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself, and the Constipation of the Bowels was terrible.
Nothing did me any good and I was wretched in every way.
I then took "Fruit-a-tives" for the Constipation and it not only cured me of this terrible trouble, but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the Paralysis.
By the use of "Fruit-a-tives", I grew stronger and stronger until all the Paralysis and weakness left me.
I am now well again and attend my store every day. I say "Thank God for Fruit-a-tives!"

ALVA PHILLIPS.
"Fruit-a-tives" not only cured the terrible Constipation, but so toned up the nervous system and the general health as to completely overcome the palsy.
Truly "Fruit-a-tives" is a wonderful medicine.

USE BEST WHITE SOAP ON LINEN.

For washing linen suits, said an expert landress, use only the best white soap and never rub the soap on the cloth unless there is a lot of hard dirt to be taken out. In the majority of cases the suits soak for an hour or so in soapy water, putting them in when the water is quite hot. By the time it is cool enough to permit washing freely, the soiled spots are sufficiently soft to admit of cleaning without very much scrubbing. Rinse in several waters, until the last water is perfectly clear, then pass the garment through the stiffening water, after which it is pressed as dry as possible in a cotton sheet.

Some stiffening is necessary to give the linen the appearance of freshness which it has when it comes to you from the tailor. On the other hand, the greatest care should be taken not to have too much stiffening. That ruins the appearance of what would otherwise be a perfectly washed suit.
You want just enough to give the linen body and yet not take away from its suppleness.
In washing colored linens, excepting tans and browns, color all the waters and try always to avoid putting soap on colored linen, and also do not use water hotter than blood heat, allowing the linen to soak only a few minutes before washing it out and putting it in a second water of the same temperature and colored.
These waters are generally enough for a colored linen suit. Where the suit is not much soiled two will be enough. The stiffening water must be colored just as was that in which the washing and rinsing was done.
After wringing in the cotton sheet care must be taken in hanging both coats and skirts for the drying process. Fresh air for colored linen and sun for the white—that is the ideal drying process. House drying never gives the satisfaction that a good laundress wants for her work. Steam drying should be a last resort. It induces the texture of the goods and leaves the colors less brilliant.
The figures on which suits get their final shaping are the kind used by good dressmakers and tailors. I have all sizes and covered so that the suits are as nearly as possible the shape of their owners. I keep the figures arrayed in fresh petticoats and shirt waists, and when the freshly washed suits

THE TOUCH OF SYMPATHY.
Here are the words: "I have thought of you more than once lately and wondered how things were going. It is a comfort to look back through the years and think what good friends we have been, and then to make a jump into the future and know there the real summer season of friendship comes. The best things we have known on earth can be but small beginnings, little eyes and buds on the tree of life that look on to the real unfolding of all that life and love can mean. I have no doubt that is rather a wearisome thing for you nowadays, but comfort yourself by knowing that you will fight the fight bravely and keep the faith loyally." Ah, the touch of such a heart often changes the whole song of life!

KNIFE AND FORK RIGHTLY USED Think how often knives and forks are used, and yet how many persons do not know the correct way to handle them! Much can be guessed concerning the training in little things after seeing how a person holds and uses his knife and fork.
The large knife which is usually placed at the right is used for cutting meat, etc. It is never used to convey food to the mouth. The same shape, or a very short knife with a wide blade, is for spreading butter on rolls or bread. If a butter plate be used, it is rested on that when not in use.
The knife should be held gracefully, and cutting should be done as noiselessly as possible.
The fork should be handled not as a shovel. Its handle must be covered in the palm of the hand. It should be held gracefully and daintily with the least display. It is held in the right hand when conveying food to the mouth. During cutting of food it is held in the left hand. Never should it be placed in an upright position like a spear. Its slant should be very slight, almost horizontal.
When passing a plate for a helping of food, the knife and fork should be placed together at one side of the plate. Do not hold them in the air, and, above all, do not rest one end of a knife and fork on the edge of the plate and the other on the table a-if you were making a gangway.
At the conclusion of a course or meal the knife or fork should be placed with the tip at the center of the dish and the handle resting on the edge.
Fish, meats, all made dishes like patties, croquettes, etc., and vegetables, are eaten with a fork. Besides these, frozen puddings, melons, salads, oysters, clams and terrapin are conveyed to the mouth with a fork.
It is considered an error to cut lettuce, endives or chicory with a knife.
The leaves should be cut with the edge of a fork and, let us hope, are placed with the tip at the center of
the edge.
Do not pat and crush vegetables, etc., with the prongs of a fork. Eat one thing at a time with it. Make no noise whatever when taking the food from the plate.
The second fork placed at the left of a plate is for salad. When finished it is allowed to rest on the salad plate.
An ice cream fork resembles a spoon with prongs, and cannot be mistaken for any other course in a meal.

AVIATORS MET DEATH.
COLLEGE PARK, Maryland, June 12—Lieutenant Leighton W. Hazel-hurst of the 17th Infantry, U. S. A., of Macon, Ga., and Al. Welch of Washington, D.C., were killed here at 6.13 o'clock last night when a new army aeroplane of the Wright type in which they were flying fell to the ground at the Army Aviation School and was wrecked.

WANT AN OLD GUN.
OTTAWA, June 12—Colonel, the Hon. Sam. Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defence, has received a request from the Bunker Hill Association that the old gun captured at Bunker Hill in 1776 in the war of the revolution by the English and now resting in the Citadel at Quebec be returned.
The Massachusetts Historical Society which is interested in the movement for the preservation of such relics is backing up the request.
It is probable that in view of the "Peace Centenary" the gun will be returned by the government and the Minister of Militia has communicated with General Robert Shaw Oliver, Assistant Secretary for War for the United States, through whom the gun would be returned.

OLD WIVES IN ENGLAND
AS LATE AS 1832.
It was long a popular belief among the ignorant in England that if a man sold his wife at public auction such a sale had all the legality of a regular divorce. The latest case of the kind on record occurred in 1832.
John Thompson, a farmer, had been married for three years, and he and his wife agreed to separate. Thompson brought his wife into the town of "Arilise and by the bellman announced he was about to sell her.
At twelve o'clock Thompson placed his wife on a large oak chair with a "ope or halter of straw about her neck. He made this announcement: "Gentlemen, I have to offer to your notice my wife, Mary Anne Thompson, otherwise Williams, whom I mean to sell to the highest and "airest bidder. It is her wish as well as mine to part forever. She has been to me only a born serpent. I took her for my comfort, the good of my home; but she became my tormentor, a domestic curse, a night invasion and a daily devil. I speak truth from my heart when I say—may God deliver us from troublesome wives and troublesome women! Avoid them as you would a mad dog, a roaring lion, a loaded pistol, cholera morbus, Mount Etna or any other pestilential thing in nature. Now I have shown you the dark side of my wife, and told you of her faults and failings, I will introduce the bright and sunny side of her, and explain her qualifications and goodness. She can read novels and milk cows, she can laugh and weep with the same ease that you could take a glass of ale when thirsty. Indeed, gentlemen, she reminds me of what the poet says of women in general:
Heaven gave to women the peculiar grace To laugh, to weep, to cheat the human race.
"She can make butter and scold the maid, she can sing Moore's melodies and plait her folds and caps; she cannot make rum, gin or whiskey, but she is a good judge of the quality of each from long experience in tasting them. I therefore offer her, with all her perfections and imperfections, for the sum of fifty shillings." The woman was finally sold to one Henry Meers for the sum of twenty-shillings and a Newfoundland dog.
Man and wife parted in perfect good temper, Meers and the woman going one way, Thompson and the dog another.

GETTING EVEN.
Bilson, who is a very stout man, was running to catch a train the other day, when his friend Jones called out: "Hello, Bilson, in a hurry? Going somewhere?" Keeping his breath for other purposes, Bilson made no reply; but he determined to take a terrible revenge. About one o'clock next morning he called Jones up on the telephone. After a deal of ringing, a sleepy voice at the other end of the wire told him Jones was there.
"What do you want?" queried Bilson.
"What do you want?" said Jones.
"I've been in bed these two hours."
"I'm Bilson," went on the other.
"Remember seeing me running this morning—eh? Yes? Well, I was going somewhere, and I was in a hurry!
Good night!"
Then Bilson hung up the receiver and got back into bed a happy man.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system if taken internally, acting upon the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on the external parts under the supervision of a physician, as the damages they will do is ten fold to the good you are possibly deriving from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
