BANK OF CANADA ANNUAL REPORT

In his annual report to the Minister of Finance released today, Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, referred to the increase in the Bank's profits during the war. Net profits were $20.3 millions in 1944, as compared with $14.8 millions in 1939. After transferring $2.0 million to the War Res. Fund in accordance with the Act that the remaining profit of $18.3 millions, were paid to the Government.

The increased Bank of Canada profits during the war have been the result of the great expansion in its holdings of Government securities, stocks and bonds. Mr. Towers said that the Bank's portfolio represents in part the assets which the Bank holds in connection with its increasing note circulation. Substantial security purchases were also made by the Bank in the course of implementing its monetary policy. Mr. Towers said that the cash holdings of the Bank are sufficient to afford an adequate reserve against the increased deposit liabilities which the banks have incurred in financing a portion of the Government's deficit.

The volume of Canadian bank deposits and active money circulation increased from $2,775 million at August 31st 1939 to $6,975 million at August 31st 1944, an increase of $4,200 million. Of this expansion about $700 millions was financed in character of Government securities, and in the volume of Treasury bills held by the public Mr. Towers said.

In Memoriam

CHARLES J. MOAN The death occurred at Shamrock on Saturday, December 12th, 1947, of Patrick J. Moan in his 66th year. Mr. Moan had lived at Shamrock all his life. His father, the late blacksmith stand, where he had always carried on his trade up to the time of his death. Patrick was a universal sportsman throughout all the country and was always ready to help his work done. He was courteous and kind to all his dealings with the public. He had succeeded in many ways, but it was to no avail, and on the above mentioned day he was taken to the great beyond. During his illness he was visited by his many friends, and had the consolation of receiving from his parish the sacrament of Holy Communion. He was a devoted member. He leaves a widow, Mrs. E. Moan, and three children, Thomas, Margaret and Minnie in St. John's. Also three brothers, Hugh and Frank on the old home, and brother Michael and also one sister, Mrs. Margaret, all in St. John's. The funeral will be held on Monday, December 15th, at 10 o'clock at the St. John's Church, Kinkora, where his remains were laid to rest. Rev. J. J. Murphy officiating. The pallbearers were: Messrs. Rodger, Nicholson, Dan A. Matheson, James Hughes and Ernest Gentry. May his soul rest in peace. (Patriot please copy.)

Address and Presentation

On Sunday, January 21st after Mass, the Parishioners of St. Ann's Church, Hope River, P. E. I., sent their Pastor, Rev. E. J. J. Watters, an address accompanied by a purse. The address was read by Mr. Austin Bolger while the presentation.

MR. LOUIS G. WHEAR

The Guardian extends sympathy to those bereaved in the passing of Mr. Louis G. Whear who was born in this city about 72 years ago and died on the 12th of January. The late Mr. Whear spent the earlier part of his life in this city where he was well and favorably known. He was always connected with the dry goods business here, with the firm of Weeks and Co., and afterwards in Montreal. He was a member of the United Church of Canada, and Co., during which time he made several buying trips to England. Some time ago he was compelled through illness to retire from business and has lived quietly ever since. For some years he was a member of the local Fire Department and took a keen interest in athletics. He leaves to mourn a widow, formerly Miss Maude Cook. Also surviving is a brother, Mr. John F. Whear, this City, and two sisters living in the United States.

2,000 Specialized Workers Ready To Enter Germany

LONDON, Feb. 12 - (AP) - The first of 2,000 specialized workers—men who have been trained in various occupations—are being concentrated on German borders ready to handle the greatest repatriation problem in history, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration officials said today.

The problem is that of returning home some 12,000,000 European nationals taken into Germany during the war. The occupying military authorities, anti-Nazi occupational forces, and German areas or even a sudden Nazi collapse, depopulated the U.N.R.R.A. hope that the repatriation, it was explained, of 2,000 workers now are in France on "stand-by" orders and 8,000 more eventually may be needed, one U.N.R.R.A. official said. So great is the task, he added,

Crerar's Drive May Open Way To Rhineland

By JOHN DAUPHINEE LONDON, Feb. 12 - (CP Cable) - The 1st Canadian Army's offensive in the Rhineland, while not likely in itself to bring sensational results may open a direct road to the Rhineland for other forces. Apparently there is no intention on the part of Field Marshal Montgomery to try a crossing of the wide Rhine but rather to clear out the northern section of the fat bulge the Germans hold west of the river. The going will probably not be easy for the fighting is being done in a vast mud-pit left by the rapid thawing of heavy snow, but as the Canadian and British troops move southward beyond the Reichswald and along the west bank of the Rhine they will be getting more behind the Siegfried Line defences. The communications centre of Kieve, 12 miles east and a bit south of Nijmegen, regarded as the northern anchor of the line, has fallen. The 1st Canadian Army which did a masterful job of clearing out the bulge, is now trying to roll up the Siegfried Line from north to south and clear the way for a direct assault on the vital Rhineland industrial zone, across the Maas River from the Venlo region. The Germans have been expecting action in that sector held by the British 2nd Army and the present drive by Gen. Crerar's Canadian and British troops may be a prelude to it. While the entire Western Front is not yet at ease, Prime Minister Churchill recently told the British House of Commons all the European fronts would be the Canadian Army's offensive and the American pressure to the south is keeping Field Marshal von Rundstedt worried. Two weeks ago aerial reconnaissance showed German main-line railways crisscrossed with traffic rushing men and material eastward to meet the Russian threat on the Oder. Now front reports say the trend is back to the west. However, the German reshuffling to meet the many threats from the west has been termed "very patchy."

Simmonds-Watts Nuptials

St. Andrew's Wesleyan Chapel, Vancouver, B.C., was the setting of a pretty candle light wedding on Saturday, Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. when Minnie Lavina (Viney), elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Watts, became the bride of Mr. John Alexander Simmonds, both of Charlottetown, P. E. I. The Rev. J. P. Westman officiating. The chapel was decorated for the occasion with large floral lilies.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 20. In love with a married man who is eleven years my senior. What shall I do about it? JUST MARY.

ANSWER: There is just one thing for you to do about it, Mary, and you know what it is just as well as I do. It is to have nothing to do with the man. Break off the affair at once. No good can come to you, or any other girl, from having an affair with a married man. Whether the man is unhappy with his wife or not is none of your business. You do not hold the office of public confessor, and it certainly won't help the situation any, so far as he is concerned, for you to break up his home and separate him from his children. And if you don't figure as the co-respondent in his divorce case, but just go along loving him year after year, it will ruin your life because you will eat your heart out in a longing that can never be gratified, and you will become another of the pitiful victims of a married lover.

Mothers! Be Modern when you relieve miseries of Bronchitis Colds

Works While Your Child Sleeps... Promptly Helps Relieve Coughing Spasms, Muscular Soreness or Tightness, Congestion and Irritation in the Bronchial Tubes

1: NO RISK OF upset stomach from dosing. You just rub it on when needed. 2: PENETRATES to upper bronchial tubes with soothing, medicinal vapors. 3: STIMULATES chest and back muscles like a warming poultice.

Used by most modern mothers—Vicks VapoRub is the time-tested home remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds.

And here's the reason... The very moment you rub soothing, vaporizing VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime, its penetrating-stimulating action (explained above) starts right in to work—and keeps on working for hours—to bring grand relief. It invites restful sleep. And often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone. Now, mother, when your child catches a cold, do what so many millions of experienced mothers do—call on dependable Vicks VapoRub.
