Because of Great Suffering Accompanying Digestion—Hospital Doctors Said Operation Necessary—Perfectly Cured by Home Treatment

New Aberdeen, N. S. May 9.—Once again the doctors erred in claiming that an operation was necessary. Fortunately Mrs. Watkins had a different opinion, and by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills obtained a perfect cure. That was in 1914, so there seems to be no doubt that the cure was both thorough and lasting. It is well worth your while to read this letter, for if you never have a similar experience you may be able to help others to escape the unnecessary risk and expense of a surgical operation. Mrs. Annie Watkins, New Aberdeen, N. S., writes: "I think it is time for me to give my experience with your wonderful Kidney-Liver Pills. For seven months I suffered with what the doctors called indigestion; but, whatever it was, I suffered terribly. The pain would start under my left shoulder and pass down my side until it reached the pit of my stomach. It just seemed as if the flesh were being torn from the bone. At times I used to go without food from energy left for work at all. At last our doctor sent me to the hospital for a month. For four days and nights I never broke my fast except for a drink of water. After four weeks' treatment there I returned home, and was back only four days when the pain came back worse than ever. Then I was told I would have to undergo an operation, but I would not consent to that. At last I read about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and started to take them. At first I did not notice much difference, but still I kept on using them, and by the time four boxes were used I was perfectly well again. That was in 1914, so you see I can safely say that I was cured. I shall always be grateful to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as they did more for me than four doctors." TALK ON MISSIONS—In Zion Church Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Society, U. S. Consul Pierce gave an interesting talk on the general idea of missions. He declared that they are meant to emphasize the fact that the world is trying to get together despite the present chaotic conditions. He also commented on the universal benefit of Christian missions as bringing the highest type of western civilization into contact with the multitudinous populations of the older populations. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Pierce for his excellent address.

THE ELGIN SIX—Messrs. Byron and Pictou Brown, city, have taken the agency for the celebrated "Elgin Six" car, one of the best automobiles made. A carload of these autos arrived for Brown Bros. yesterday. The Elgin Six is manufactured in Chicago and it bears the stamp of beauty, comfort and distinctiveness. The world's record long distance jump of 73 feet was made by an Elgin Six stock touring car at Belleville, Ill., on June 18, 1917. The new record breaking performance of the Elgin Six was in traveling 1,626 car-miles, starting in Chicago, Ill., in 67 1/2 hours, over the steep, rocky mountain grades of Kentucky and Tennessee, through the heavy sands of Georgia and over the slimy, treacherous, swamp roads of Florida.

P. E. I. AERIAL MEETING—Major Hudson of the Royal Air Force, arrived in Charlottetown on Tuesday night from Halifax. The Major came here for the purpose of reorganizing the recruiting committee of the Royal Air Force. This was done at a meeting of the Executive of the P. E. I. Aerial League held yesterday afternoon in the office of the retiring president, Mr. F. W. Hyndman, when Mr. Hyndman's resignation was accepted. His Worship Mayor Wright has consented to undertake the duties of this position, with Mr. W. W. Clarke acting as his assistant, they to have power to add to their numbers at their own discretion. On Saturday of this week Mr. Hyndman will therefore hand over all the papers and correspondence in connection with the work to Mayor Wright, and will be pleased to give him any necessary information required at any time. Major Hudson leaves this morning on return to Halifax. He is the officer commanding for the Eastern Province. His chief business is recruiting for the air service. Owing to the new laws coming into force many recruits for this branch of the service are now coming forward. Pilots only are needed and not mechanics. The recruits must be sound physically and well educated. The airplanes are now constructed so scientifically that the danger is practically nil, apart from the ordinary war risks of getting shot. Major Hudson states that 99 per cent of all accidents are due to over-confidence on the part of the youthful aviator or the disobeying of orders. The Major saw three years of service in France, participating in many perilous exploits.

Poultry Feeds

A writer in the New York Sun tells us that there are many things about hens a great many of us would like to know. He asks: "Why are eggs cheap when my hens are laying and high when they are not laying?" "Why are hens cheap when I sell them, and high and tough when I buy?" "After referring his questions to Mr. Hoover or to a graduate of some good reliable chicken college, he adds: "Why is a hen, anyway? A rooster is a very simpleminded individual and after you have shaken hands with him two or three times he will speak to you anywhere he meets you, whether you are dressed up or not. But a hen—good night! You can't even approach her without getting a scolding, and when she does lay an egg even once a week she will hide the egg if she can, and then come out in the open and tell her head off just because she has laid something she knows you want and hopes you will never find."

However the hens bring the eggs, the eggs bring the dollars. Just received:— 60,000 LBS. MIXED GRAIN. (Wheat, Barley and Oats) all sound, clean grain, $4.00 per bag of 100 lbs. FIVE TONS CHICK FEED for young chickens

Surprise At At Tyne Valley

On Wednesday evening, May 1st, a very enjoyable farewell social was given to Dr. J. B. and Mrs. Champlain, at their home, Tyne Valley, previous to their departure for their new home in OLEARY, where Dr. Champlain has accepted a much larger and more lucrative practice, made vacant by the retirement of Dr. McEwen. Despite the fact that the weather was very disagreeable and the roads muddy, more than one hundred friends gathered from Port Hill, Northam, Arlington, Bideford, Ellerslie and Tyne Valley to take part in the evening's entertainment. After some excellent music had been rendered, the company was called to order and Mr. Wm. B. Hayes appointed chairman, who in a few well-chosen remarks, explained to Dr. and Mrs. Champlain, the reason for this unexpectedly heading their home. The following address was read, accompanied by the presentation to Mrs. Champlain, of a purse of money, and to the Doctor a beautiful mahogany dresser.

"Dear friends—Having learned with the most sincere regret, that you and your family are about to remove from this community, and to make your home elsewhere in this province, we a number of your friends have assembled here on the eve of your departure, to tender you farewell, and to give expression, in some small degree, to our esteem and regard for you. During the past ten years that you have spent amongst us, you have always taken an active interest in everything that has been for the welfare and progress of the community, taking a prominent part in all public affairs, and ever prompt to assist at any social function, in so far as the duties of your profession has permitted—your strict attention to duty has ever been your watchword, and to that as well as to your genial disposition, your strong personality may be attributed the high measure of success to which you have attained. Your hand has ever been open to give unstintingly to every charitable cause, whether pertaining to church or to the many other worthy demands which have been caused by the strenuous times through which we are now passing. While we deplore the fact that you are leaving us, yet we are glad that your new home is not far distant from us and let me assure you that at any time that you and your estimable partner, may have leisure and opportunity to visit us, you will be sure of a warm welcome in our hearts and homes. And now dear friends, we ask you to accept these gifts, which though of no great intrinsic value, are rich with the kindly feelings and esteem which accompany them. Please accept them with our united hopes that you may ever continue happy and prosperous, and let them ever serve to remind you of the many pleasant times we have spent together.

Signed, on behalf of your many friends:— An address on behalf of the Masonic Brotherhood was then delivered by Rev. J. J. Bamford, Port Hill, followed by eulogistic remarks from Rev. Mr. Young, Bideford, Mr. W. J. Montgomery and others, all expressing the most profound regret at the departure of this estimable couple from our midst. Dr. Champlain responded, on behalf of Mrs. Champlain and himself, in his usual happy manner, thanking all for the kindness shown them at this time and previously, and expressing himself as deeply touched by these very tangible tokens of their regard.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies after which a most enjoyable evening was spent in games, music, etc. At a late hour the company dispersed after the singing of "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot," the National Anthem and God Save Our Splendid Men.

"I wonder why three-fourths of the typists in business offices are women?" "I guess it is because men like to feel that there is at least one class of women whom they can dictate to."

U-Boat Attack On Guildford Castle

British Admiralty Issues Statement Proving Wanton Torpedoing of Hospital Ship.

LONDON, England, May 4.—The Admiralty announces that it is now considered to be proved conclusively that the British Hospital ship Guildford Castle was attacked by the German submarine in Bristol Channel on the afternoon of March 10. The vessel was struck by a torpedo and subsequently had a narrow escape from being sunk.

At the time of the attack, 535 of deck in the afternoon, the Guildford Castle, which was carrying 438 wounded soldiers, was flying a Red Cross flag of the largest size. Her navigating lights also were showing and the distinctive marks denoting the character of the ship were properly illuminated. No excuse can be put forward by the enemy that these distinctive marks were in any way obscured by climatic conditions, for the weather at the time was clear, with a visibility of about five miles, and the ship, standing well out of the water could be plainly distinguished as a British Red Cross hospital vessel.

The official inquiry into the circumstances of the attack shows that two torpedoes were fired at the Guildford Castle. The track of the first was seen by the captain, fourth officer and several members of the crew, who state that it passed close to the ship's stern from port to starboard.

The fourth officer observed the wake of the torpedo for a distance of three cable lengths, 600 yards. A minute afterwards a second torpedo was fired and struck the ship a heavy, sharp blow on the port side, abreast the mainmast, causing her to vibrate considerably fore and after. Happily, the torpedo did not explode. The discipline on board the ship was excellent. There was no panic and the patients were placed in the boats very quickly.

In view of the fact that the attack on the hospital ship Guildford Castle took place in March, the Admiralty says, it is important to place on record the following extract from a German official message sent through the wireless stations of that Government on April 21:

"With respect to the results of the submarine war for March, the Deutsche Tageszeitung asks the question: Where does Geddes (First Lord of the British Admiralty) get the courage to speak in the British Parliament of the falling off in British mercantile losses? In the English white book he gives the losses to the world's mercantile shipping to the end of 1917 as only 11.8 million gross register tons, while the German Admiralty staff proves indisputably that the losses were about 5,000,000 tons more. Lloyd George and Geddes falsify the losses of ships plying in military service, ignoring the naval losses, auxiliary cruisers, guard ships, hospital ships and very probably also troop transports and munition steamers—that is to say, precisely that shipping which is particularly exposed to and attacked by U-boats."
