BLOSSOM AND BIRD PARTIES
A London hostess has hit on the idea of spring blossom and bird-song parties by way of variation from the formality of this month's entertaining. Guests have been invited to come and be entertained at a Hamstead home by the songs of blackbirds, thrushes, and chaffinches, and to wander among the blaze of hyacinths, daffodils, primroses, cherry blossom, and polyanthus. The hostess, Mrs. Claude Beddington, has planned a series of these "nature" parties, to which the Argentine, Brazilian, Egyptian and Polish Ambassadors and their wives are going.
