Nature intended should be united and not divided." Premier Arsenault said it afforded him pleasure to be present with the teachers and to hear Mr. Logan's address. While we all might not be inclined to agree with Mr. Logan, one thing was certain—close co-operation between the three provinces was desirable. The great preponderance of the west has an influence against the Maritime Province and whatever way it can be brought about closer relationship between these provinces is necessary.

a famous one and has had great success in the States and Canada.

It is one of the best of the company's repertoire and its presentation last night was excellent. It afforded scope for every member of the company and all were seen at their best. "Cheating Cheaters" brought a capacity audience, but such an audience has now become a common place so high is the company held in the estimation of Charlottetown theatre goers.

The Gladys Klark Company has satisfied the people of Charlottetown that it possesses historic ability which might have been equalled by other companies playing here, but seldom if ever excelled.

"Cheating Cheaters", while a comedy is constructed to suit all classes of stock patrons, as it contains a combination of stirring situations, good clean comedy and a beautiful love story.

The audience was delighted with the show and Miss Klark and her associates won new honors. "Cheating Cheaters" will be repeated this afternoon, for the last time, and no doubt there will be another large attendance. Those who want to see one of the finest plays in the whole repertoire should not fail to see it.

Tonight the company will present for their farewell performance, "For the Man She Loved."

Tonight's Play — For the Man She Loved

A murder mystery that is not solved until the last few lines of the play, and a vivid "THIRD DEGREE" scene in the office of the Chief of Police are among the incidents that maintain a tense degree of suspense and human interest from first to last curtain.

A Gripping, Thrilling, Startling Play, is "FOR THE MAN SHE LOVED." A melodrama with an original plot of absorbing interest—and a falls in this, and the next morning the story that carries a full measure of suspense, thrill and sensation without involving any exaggeration of inter- est or action. The story is based on the devotion and the sacrifices of a woman for the man she loves, who has been wrong- fully convicted for a defalcation in the business of a company of which his father is the senior member. Through pleadings and influence her lover is produced after serving a term for which he has been sentenced, she then visits the father and pleads for reconciliation between them. She
