SOLDIERS CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Ex-members of Eleventh Brigade Ammunition Column Hold Re-union and Banquet at Victoria Hotel. The Second Heavies at The Davies.

Last evening in celebration of Armistice Day there was a reunion and banquet of ex-members of the 11th Brigade (Howitzer) Ammunition Column, at the Victoria Hotel. There were about fifty members of the battery and guests present and the reunion was one of the most enjoyable soldiers functions ever held in the city. Major D. A. McKinnon, D. S. O., former commanding officer of the battery presided, supported by Sergt. Major Trainor also of the battery. The tables were most artistically decorated for the occasion, flags and bunting adorning the walls of the dining room. The banquet was a most elaborate one and both in its material and service a credit to the management of the hotel.

A splendid toast list was honored beginning with the regulation toast, "The King" followed by "To Our fallen comrades" which was drunk in silence. The names of the fallen comrades were read as follows: Lieut. F. Longworth, M. C.; Kenneth Bell; Gr. Frank Hughes; Gr. R. M. Kinzie; Gr. J. W. Kinzie; Gr. J. Bland; Gr. W. Hardesty; Gr. Frank McCarey; Gr. Hugh McGillivray, Gr. Arnold Taylor.

The next toast was to "our absent comrades". This was followed by impromptu toasts interspersed with songs and music which brought forth the eloquence and the beautiful toast which the battery possesses in abundance.

The toast list was concluded with "Our Hosi" which brought a splendid response from Mr. Brown the general manager of the hotel.

The Eleventh Field (Howitzer) Brigade Ammunition Column was formed February 1st 1916 and was equipped and ready for service in three weeks which is said to be a record. Upwards of 70 Islanders joined the unit and it rapidly became an exceedingly smart and well trained one. It sailed for England in April 1916 arriving on the 12th. About a week after its arrival an order was promulgated in the British Army converting Brigade Ammunition Columns into Divisional Ammunition Columns. This meant a break up of the unit and Major McKinnon then Captain was given command of the 36th Battery Canadian Field Artillery with the rank of Major. Nearly all the members of the 11th were taken on the strength of the various field batteries of the Third Division and the remainder joined the Third Division Ammunition Column. The two officers who went overseas with Major McKinnon were, Lieut. A. S. Donald of Moncton who was afterwards promoted to Major, was twice wounded and awarded the D. S. O., and Lieut. Fred Longworth who was awarded the Military Cross for very gallant service at the Battle of Amiens and was killed in front of Mons in the afternoon of November 10, 1918, the day before the Armistice was signed. All the members of the column distinguished themselves in the various units in which they took part and were credited with a large share of the glory that came to the Canadian Army. They were all devoted soldiers, faithful to duty, keenly alive to the virtue of discipline and always ready with their lives to carry out the duties entrusted to them. Of the one hundred men of the battery who reached France ten made the supreme sacrifice and thirty were wounded. Gr. Russel Chandler, of this city, who lost a limb, being the most seriously wounded. The field batteries in which they fought took part in the following battles: Ypres, the battle of the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Hill 70; the Battle of Passchendaele; defence of the line in March and April, 1918; the Battles of Amiens, Arras, Drocourt-Queant; Cambrai; and the final battles from Valenciennes to Mons. No his tory of the Canadian Artillery in the great war can be written which will record exploits that have not been participated in by one or more of the members of this column.

(Special to The Guardian.)
ROUSE'S POINT, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Prince of Wales entered the United States tonight and received his first welcome to the Republic at this little out of the way New York town. Officially he was greeted by Secretary of State Lansing with a belted staff of Admirals and Generals and the famous band of the United States Infantry which played "God Save the King."

Unofficially he received a far more boisterous welcome from the 2,000 inhabitants of Rouse's Point who had waited patiently for hours in the bleak north wind to cheer the nation's guest. There was no formality of speech making in connection with the Prince's initial welcome. He shook hands in turn with Secretary Lansing, Major General John Biddle, representing the United States army, rear Admiral Albert T. Niblick, representing the United States Navy, Major General Charlton of the British Embassy, and then with the officers of lesser rank belonging to the various staffs. The Prince laughingly apologized for using his left hand explained that his right had been "done in" in Canada.

Just before the train pulled out on its long run to Washington, a man darted out of the crowd and shouted: "Will you give me the honor of shaking hands with you? I'm a Canadian wounded and gassed at Vimy." The Prince leaned over the rail and shook him heartily by the hand and the train was off.
