He responded, took his conversion course at Brockville, was assigned to the King's Own Scottish Borderers with whom he went to Flanders, and it is in that famous regiment he has been raised to a Captaincy.

WEDDING BELLS - A wedding of much interest was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKeen, Wednesday, November 16th, when their only daughter, Eleanor Catherine Douglas, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank C. Farouharson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farouharson. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. T. Mercer in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. While the strains of the wedding March were being played by Mrs. Harold Jay the bride entered the drawing room in a gown of white tulle with a train of her father by whom she was given in marriage. The young couple were united in a beautiful length of crown of white tulle shawl with finger-tip veil and orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a set of gold earrings. She carried an arm bouquet of roses, ferns and ribbons. The bride's mother assisted in receiving at the door. She wore a dress of navy sheer and yellow roses. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining-room was in charge of the bride's aunts. The bride and groom were the recipients of many gifts testifying to the esteem in which they are held. Before leaving on their honeymoon the young couple were visited and received congratulations and good wishes from about two hundred friends. When they return they will make their home at Canvey.
