SOMERS Service Station
There is a spot on the Malpeque Road that is doing a thriving business these days and that is Somers' Service Station managed by Mr. Claude Somers, ex-air force veteran who after recovering from a fractured back and hip while on service went out on his own and by strict attention to business is rapidly building up a large clientele at his service station.
Dealing in Irving gas and oil motorists can also have their other needs looked after such as car washing, airconditioning, greasing, repairing etc. It is a drive in station with all facilities ready to give you the best of service.
Claude will give you the best possible service with a minimum loss of time but no loss of efficiency. He is out to serve the public to the best of his ability and judging by the call he is getting, motorists are taking more than a little liking to his efforts.
And as an example of the efforts he is putting into his business his service station is open all day Wednesday and Sunday and daily from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

You Cannot Beat The ABEGWEIT
That's the slogan of Charlottetown's newest and smartest Gift Shop, catering to the discriminating shopper who prefers gifts that are entirely new and different. Looking over The Abegweit's constantly changing stock of china, stationery, leather goods, woodenware, glassware and pottery, we would say that their slogan is correct, and that no matter what the occasion for gifts for the entire family—YOU CANNOT BEAT The Abegweit.
The congenial proprietors of this bright and cheerful store, H. Barry Bugden and Sydney J. Jeffrey, are justly proud of their greeting card display, which is the largest assortment of exclusive greeting cards in Charlottetown.
A few years ago Prince Edward Island won first place in a Canadian Handicraft Exhibition held in Vancouver, B.C. and the reason is made quite clear to us now when we see The Abegweit's display of beautiful hand-made articles, which they collect all over Prince Edward Island and offer for sale to those wishing to purchase something truly belonging to P.E.I. You will find there hand-made tablecloths, bedspreads, rugs, cushion covers, leather-work, knitted wear, shell novelties—and a beautiful collection of work from the studio of Mary Allison Doull.
For those of you who have friends visiting you this summer, The Abegweit will eliminate all souvenir worries—besides providing your guests with a first hand picture of Prince Edward Island's place in the Handicraft Industry.
Drop in during the cool hours of the evening - The Abegweit is open until 9 o'clock every night but Wednesday.
