"YES, at my age I suppose I should expect a change in my condition. But I am so nervous and irritable, so easily excited and worried, that I cannot understand what is wrong."

Nerve Food was recommended to me by an aunt who used it while passing through the change of life and was completely built up by its use. From my experience as a wife and mother I find that the majority of users are women, especially women passing through the change of life; next by young mothers to regain strength after baby comes, and also by mothers for their young daughters entering their womanhood. While it is good for all classes of humanity, I am sure it is especially so for women, as they seem to be troubled most by nervous diseases."

IN MEMORIAM RONALD D. McDONALD

A sad gloom was cast over the home of Mr. John D. McDonald, Fox River, on March 5th when his son Ronald D. departed this life at the early age of 18 years. Deceased contracted influenza two years ago and was in poor health since. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. McDonald, this being his fourth bereavement in the last four years. R.I.P.

DANIEL A. MACKENZIE.

"And let there be no moaning at the bar, when I put out to sea."

There passed very suddenly and peacefully to rest at his home in Tryon a widely known and respected citizen in the person of Daniel A. MacKenzie.

Born at Pughwash, N. S., Jan. 3rd, 1853 the late Mr. MacKenzie came to Tryon with his parents to live (His Father being a Tailor, but afterwards a remarkable talent for posing on canvas, an excellent painter of full-legged sailing craft of various designs, the deceased chose the painting profession as his life work, commencing his apprenticeship in the City of Charlottetown at the age of seventeen years. In his calling he introduced all the latest and most excellent results that the exterior and interior of many churches, public buildings, and private residences in cities, towns, villages and country, beautifully exhibiting the artistic touch of the man whose heart was in his work, and who made a profession thereof.

As a lover of the sea, the late Mr. MacKenzie had the privilege of crossing the ocean three times to England, in his early manhood, in the gigantic ocean liners of his day, and as a fitting recognition of his skill in his chosen profession, he was given six months contract of painting an ocean liner at the seaport town of Charlottetown, S. C. in the year 1882, whereat men engaged in various occupations on board ship were called to their respective duties at the sound of the bugle.

On Sept. 16, 1881, deceased married Miss Sarah MacKinnon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. MacKinnon, Tryon, and in May, 1889, purchased the home in Tryon where he died where the widow is left behind. Deceased first complained of the heart illness from which he died, on July 10, 1920, while engaged in painting the interior of a large church edifice at Bradalbane, and after a period of very severe illness, rallied sufficiently to move about quite freely and regularly. Bright hopes for a complete recovery were entertained when a relapse set in, and, at 8.15 on Wednesday morning Feb. 16th, 1921, he went out very suddenly, peacefully, and without any apparent evidence of pain, after expressing a simple trusting child-like faith in the merits of a Crucified Redeemer to loved ones who faithfully cared for and ministered to him throughout his periods of illness.

The deceased was an extensive reader of good sound literature, and few men knew their bible better than he. True greatness does not consist in material possessions, nor always in titles and honors conferred, but upon character, and that alone.

Deceased leaves to mourn a widow, eleven children (five of whom predeceased him) and seven grandchildren. Those of the family left to mourn are as follows: Mrs. W. C. Oldfield, Norton, Mass.; Mrs. B. C. Vedder, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. G. S. Green, Summerside; Mrs. G. R. Heffel, Cape Traverse; Mrs. J. B. Canfield, Tryon; and William D. in California.

The funeral on Friday, Feb. 18th, to the Tryon Presbyterian Church and cemetery was largely attended, there being over seventy-five sleighs in the procession. At the house and church, the service was conducted by Rev. J. S. MacKay, assisted by Revs. Mr. Hubley and Mr. Fitzpatrick of the Tryon Baptist and Methodist Churches respectively. Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or hear and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Par-mint (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoon full four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Sogged nostrils should open. Breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat, it is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or ear noises should give this prescription a trial.

(Person in the fifty-second year of her age. She was the fourth daughter of Donald McDonald, Head of Montague. She was a woman of generosity and kindness and during her twenty-six years of residence in Glen William commanded respect and love from all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her husband and two sons, one daughter and five sisters besides a large number of friends.

The services were conducted by Rev. William McLeod and Rev. Mr. McLeannan.

MRS. JAMES W. KNOX

The death occurred at an early hour at her late residence in Victoria, of Mrs. James W. Knox, in the 26th year of her age. She was beloved by all who knew her, and her death coming after a brief illness will be a cause of sorrow to a large circle of friends and relatives.

The funeral service, which took place on Wednesday was conducted by her pastor, Rev. P. A. Fitzpatrick, and was very largely attended. Besides a sorrowing husband and one small son, she leaves to mourn a mother, five sisters and three brothers, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended.

The pallbearers were Herbert Profit, Milner McNeill, Glen McQuarrie, Wilfred McQuarrie, Joseph Trowsdale and Reid Miller. Interment took place in the People Cemetery, Crapaud.

MRS. MARGARET DOUGLAS

There passed away to her eternal reward in February at her residence in St. Andrews, Lot 38, Mrs. Margaret Douglas in the 80th year of her age. Deceased was an estimable lady highly intellectual, took a keen interest in national affairs was well read and also a great lover of music. In her young days she learned to play the violin and harp, she also sang in the choir in St. Peter's church. She had a rich contralto voice. She was of a kind and generous disposition as far as her means would allow, and many a wayfarer was fed at her house and her "cup of tea" was famous the country around. She leaves to mourn their loss one daughter, Mrs. Amelia Smith, also four grandsons, one of whom served at the front in the world war with the 26th Batt. She was attended in her last illness by her pastor Reverend A. P. McLellan, who administered the last Sacraments and also conducted the services in the church and at the grave. She was buried in the cemetery at old St. Andrews there to await the glorious resurrection. May her soul rest in peace. Examiner and Patriot please copy.

JOHN MURPHY

The community of Elmwood was saddened on Monday evening by the sudden passing of the death of John Murphy one of the oldest and most respected residents of that place. Although the deceased had reached the advanced age of 78 years he remained active and took a keen interest in the welfare of his family and friends until about two weeks previous to his death which occurred from pneumonia.

During his illness he was attended by his pastor, Rev. Dr. Curran and fortified by the rites of the Catholic Church he passed away fully resigned to God's holy will. His memory will be long cherished not only in his home, where he was a devoted husband and father but by his numerous friends and neighbors.

The funeral took place on Wednesday morning February 16th to St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, and despite the almost impassable condition of the roads was largely attended. The Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Dr. Curran, after which all that was mortal of a good and noble man was laid to rest in the nearby cemetery to await a glorious resurrection.

Besides his widow, there are left to mourn one son, Michael on the homestead and one daughter, Mrs. Richard Cahill of Kingston. Another daughter, Mrs. Tobias Murray predeceased him some years ago. The pall bearers were: James Egan, Joseph Gallant, John Curley, John McCloskey, Cornelius Cahill and Thos. Cahill. "Requiescat in pace."

JOHN AXWORTHY

On the evening of Saturday, March 5th Mr. John Axworthy, a highly esteemed citizen of Wheatley River, son of the late Wm. Axworthy passed peacefully away at the age of 36 years. The deceased had not been in very good health for several years but his friends and loved ones were not aware that the end was so near. On the eve of the above mentioned date he was sitting talking when all at once, his brother and step-mother noticed that there was something seriously wrong. They thought that he had fallen asleep and tried to wake him. It was all in vain, the heart had ceased to beat, death had come and the spirit had taken flight.

Besides a sorrowing step-mother Mr. Axworthy leaves to mourn the loss of a loving brother, three brothers and five sisters.

The brother are: Herbert and William in the Canadian West and George at home; and the sisters are: Mrs. Alvin Carr, Somerville Mass., Mrs. Frank Quinn, Charlottetown, Mrs. Wm. Hickox, Fred ericton and Misses Bertha and Sophia of Charlottetown.

Mr. Axworthy was a young man of strong and manly character and will be much missed among his many friends. He was a general favorite wherever known and his place will be hard to fill.

The funeral, which was held a large one was held at his old home in Wheatley River on Tuesday, March 8th. The service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Stavert.

The pall bearers were: Geo. Axworthy, Howard MacKay, Howard Waye, John Fidgeon, Nelson Moore and Henry Ross.

Interment was in the Methodist cemetery at Wheatley River.

WILLIAM MACKENZIE

Once again the hearts of many were made sore, when the painful news of Mr. William MacKenzie's tragic death, which occurred at Woodville Mills on Friday morning March 11th was made known. The deceased was employed as headman on the estate of the late Mr. George E. Goff, for the last two years and for various periods of time since childhood, where he earned the love and respect of all who knew him by his generosity of spirit, his unflinching devotion to duty, his faithfulness and kindness, one who was ever ready to lend a helping hand and could always be relied upon to do his best so trustworthy, honest and upright was he in all his relationship to

A sorrowing widow, nee Nellie Williams, only daughter of Mr. Joshua Williams, and two small children, Earl and Hattie, have been left to cherish the memory of a devoted husband and a kind and affectionate father. Mr. MacKenzie is also survived by an aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald MacKenzie of Seal River, five brothers and four sisters for all of whom deep sympathy of the whole community goes out in their sad and sudden bereavement.

The funeral service which was conducted by his pastor, Rev. D. MacVicar was largely attended by many friends and relations who gathered to pay their last tribute of love and respect. The hymns chosen to be sung during the service were: "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Rock of Ages," the former being the favorite hymn of the deceased.

Interment was made in the family plot at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Cardigan. May the God and loving Father of us all comfort and sustain those who are left to mourn, in their dark hour of grief and trial and may they remember that,

"Though time and space may sever The master's servants here, 'Tis only for a season 'The meeting time draws near'—

"Grieve not, my wife and children dear," "Life's work is done; Earth's charms are over now. Heavens joys require! Rest from your anxious cares, Jesus my burden bears, He guards me from all fears; He leads me on—Farewell, beloved friends! Earth's task is o'er; No more my face you'll see On times lone shore! But, in the "By-and-By," All in the Lord who die Meet, far above the sky. And part no more." E. F. G.
