A MYSTERY OF CIVILIZATION.

One of the mysteries of our civilization, perhaps the greatest, is the easy flippancy with which the probability of war between Great Britain and Germany is being discussed, the sang-froid with which the discussion is tolerated.

Any ordinary act of injustice or cruelty, premeditated or spoken of as even a remote possibility would call forth not only preventative measures but the most vehement denunciation from every agency, public or individual that had, or thought it had, any influence to prevent it. But here is a horror, compared with which ordinary murders and ordinary calamities are mere bagatelles, and its probable coming is scarcely protested against by the press or even by our Christian pulpits.

Why should England and Germany go to war? They are united in their Royal blood; they have common commercial interests; they both take high rank among the Christian nations of the world; they are foremost in the advancement of science, art and literature. No one would think of charging either with treachery or injustice in the ordinary sense, and yet each is working overtime, feverishly, madly preparing for war. And the Christian people of both nations and of the world are looking calmly on, calmly watching the grim horror approaching and practically doing nothing to prevent its coming.

Why should they fight? There has been no act of injustice by either, no encroachment on the other's territory. Even if there had been, the difference could be adjusted as easily as that between two ordinarily reputable individuals—in court, and there is an international court.

The war talk and the desire for war did not originate in the heart of either Great Britain or Germany. There are selfish interests at the bottom of the trouble. There are military jingoes, there are commercial interests, there are manufacturers of war munitions, of battleships, of patent devices, these and these alone have brought about the situation which now confronts both nations and which will precipitate a war which for horror and bloodshed will, in all probability, eclipse the blackest stain in the history of either.

And these interests, which are inciting the trouble for the dirty dollars and the false glory that are in it, are few in number. Yet few as they are they have driven governments into preposterous preparation for war, into an unholy race for superiority in ships and in fighting machines. They have brought about a situation which now can scarcely mean anything but war, unless the people, who are to be the real sufferers, assert themselves. Is it too late? Why should Christian England and Christian Germany permit this crime at the instigation of a few adventurers and speculators? Why should the civilized and Christianized world permit it? Has Canada with her Canadianized Englishmen and Frenchmen and Germans any voice with which to influence the mother nations of Europe?

NOTES.

"I note with considerable satisfaction", says the editor of the Canadian Courier, "a rumour from London that Mr. Borden will abandon his plea of a referendum on the navy question. A referendum would be dangerous and disastrous. There are some questions which might be submitted to a referendum such as laws regulating the observance of Sunday, or laws for the regulation of the liquor traffic. A referendum on the navy would be very apt to set one section of Canada against another and to show an adverse majority against any kind or degree of naval defence. Imagine the moral effect upon the enemies of Great Britain, if she has any, of an adverse vote in Canada in connection with the proposal to build a Canadian navy! What joy there might be in certain circles in Berlin, Germany, for example." Necessarily any definite announcement of Canada's naval policy must await the assembling of the Dominion Cabinet. When the policy is agreed upon by the cabinet, it will be announced and it is useless alike to guess at or to suggest what it shall be. Premier Borden has received inside information as to the needs of the Empire and his policy will no doubt be shaped accordingly. In the meantime there is as much diversity of opinion among Conservatives as among Liberals and the only thing possible is to wait.

An interesting decision has recently been handed down by the Supreme Court of Michigan, which should prove a useful precedent and should be a boon for a good many of the drunkards' wives in that state. The case is as follows: Mrs. Anna Johnson, a resident of Schoolcraft County, Michigan, will receive $728 from Philip Grouden and the Michigan Bonding Company as the result of a decision of the Supreme Court. Mrs. Johnson's husband had been sold liquor by Grouden, a saloon-keeper, and she sued for $3,000, alleging that she had been abused by her husband while drunk. The Circuit Court allowed her $728 and the Supreme Court affirmed the decision. If this style of treatment were meted out to our illegal liquor sellers when they cause the death or the ruin of some unfortunate who, but for them, might be a source of comfort to his family and of usefulness to his country, it would add a spice of danger to the traffic that might have a modifying effect. And why should not those injured by this traffic have redress as well as those who receive injuries otherwise?

VICE-RIGAL PARTY ARRIVE AT SYDNEY.

(Special to The Guardian)

SYDNEY, Aug. 8—The Earl Grey with the Duke of Connaught and party on board arrived at St. Ann's today. An unique reception was given the party. A series of holes were driven in the sand rock at the front of Smith's Mountain and charged with dynamite and as the steamer came around the head of the bay a salute of 21 charges of dynamite were fired. An invitation was extended to the party to go ashore and drive through the section, which they will likely accept.

No tuna have been taken yet. J. K. L. Ross arrived about an hour after the Royal party and will lend his knowledge of sport to aid the Duke in landing one of the monster fish. Mr. Ross last year caught the largest tuna ever captured with rod and line. His Royal Highness will remain at St. Ann's till Sunday.

SOCIALISTS ARE BEING DISCREDITED.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Aug. 8—Socialist institutions, of whatever kind they may be, are becoming discredited, and one of the most striking examples has been given in Paris by the Co-operative Restaurant, in the Rue de Bretagne, which is directed by a Socialist chief, and has a staff consisting of Socialist waitresses. It is in the midst of a populous quarter, near the so-called "Maissen Commune," which is next door, and is supposed to be conducted on the lines of the purest Socialist ideals. Yet all its waitresses struck today and marched to the "Maisen Commune" to ventilate their grievances. Here us what one who had folded her apron in sign of strike said:

We have several reasons for striking. The first is that one of our companions has been unjustly discharged, and the second is that we are being driven harder here than anywhere else. The worst owner would not give us less than $6 a month. The tips given to the waitresses are meagre. The customers give us only a nickel coin of five sous at the end of a week for changing their napkin. Sometimes we even lose, as we have to take brass checks for the dishes, and in the counting we may be cheated. We decided to ask for an increase of 10 cents per day and delegated one of our number to present our request to the manager. She was summarily dismissed without getting a hearing. The worst sweater would not have treated us so. As we hear so much about the workers having to emancipate themselves we decided to strike.

All the waitresses and cooks stopped work immediately and no meals were served.

ARRESTED FOR KILLING WIFE.

(Canadian Press.)

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 8—Gordon Priest, a young farmer, who notified the county authorities yesterday that he had found his wife robbed and murdered, was arrested last night charged with the murder.

The wife who was 32 years old was found slain in bed with her head split open with a blunt hatchet.

AMERICA AND PANAMA CANAL.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—By a vote of 44 to 11 the Senate late tonight refused to strike from the Panama Canal bill the provision exempting American ships from payment of tolls on passage through the Panama Canal. The debate on the question had continued from 1 p. m. until nearly midnight. The Senate then adjourned until tomorrow without voting on the bill itself.

GRAVE CRISIS IN EASTERN AFFAIRS.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Aug. —Eastern affairs are reaching a grave crisis, according to reports from Constantinople which say that the Committee of Union and Progress have resolved to summon the dissolved Chamber of Deputies to reassemble at Adrianople to which city the leaders have already gone.

The government has proclaimed martial law and civil war seems inevitable.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited,

Gentlemen,—In June 98, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using. The effect was magical; in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.
