SUCCESSFUL TEA AND BAZAAR—The annual tea and bazaar of Trinity United Church held in Epworth Hall on Thursday last was very successful. Many ladies took the opportunity to secure their Christmas gifts from the lovely things displayed on the needlework table. The attractive tea tables were well patronized by citizens of all denominations and the proceeds amounted to a tidy sum.—S.

FUR BUYING STILL BRISK—Although shipments for the December sales have mostly been made, furs are continuing to come into Summerside in large quantities and are still fetching good prices. One man in the west of the Province received $80 a piece for two very fine skins. Some of the buyers have left town to be in time for the Montreal sales, but there are others asking for pelts for the January sales. The furs are improving in appearance as the weather becomes colder.—S.

SUDDEN DEATH—Many friends will regret to learn of the very sudden death of Mr. Frank Sullivan, of Kinkora, on Wednesday last. Mr. Sullivan had been to the store to buy some gas for his car between three and four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, as he intended going to the woods. He was found some time later beside his car, which was in the yard. He had evidently been pouring the gasoline into the engine when he expired. The deceased had suffered from heart trouble for years. Mr. Sullivan had only lived in Kinkora for a few years. He formerly belonged to Iona, near Eldon. He had been employed for some years in the Civil Service at Ottawa. He was 42 years of age and leaves to mourn his widow and several small children, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the people of Kinkora is extended. The funeral took place on Saturday morning from the residence to the R. C. Church and Cemetery at Kinkora.—S.

MOOSE—ROBERTSON NUP-TIALS—An interesting event took place on Tuesday, Dec. 8th, at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stavert, of Wilmot Valley, when the latter's sister, Miss Lila Jane, daughter of Mrs. Robert T. Moase and the late Mr. Moase of Kensington, was united in marriage to Maxwell, youngest son of W. Eiton and Mrs. Robertson, of Summerside. The ceremony took place under an arch of evergreen and white bells in the presence of the immediate relatives. Rev. C. J. St. Clair Jeans was the officiating clergyman. The bride was charmingly gowned in a wedding dress of peach satinface crepe, with the new puff sleeves of radium lace; her long flowing veil reaching to the floor was caught up with a dainty wreath of lily of the valley. Her only ornament was a crystal necklace, the gift of the groom. She carried a lovely bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair fern. Mrs. Harold R. Moase played Lohengrin Wedding March as the bride entered the room with her brother, Harold R. Moase, who gave her in marriage. The bride was attended by Miss Frances Robertson, sister of the groom, who wore a lovely dress of figured chiffon, with hat and shoes to match. The groomsmen were Mr. Robert Hogg, nephew of the bride. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Maurice Mill, sister of the groom, sang very sweetly "When Song is Sweet." The groom's gifts to the attendants were gold pieces. Immediately after the ceremony luncheon was served in the dining room, which was very pretty with lovely potted plants and flowers. About fifty invited guests were present. After receiving heartfelt congratulations the happy young couple left amid showers of confetti for a brief honeymoon to Charlottetown. The bride travelled in an ensemble of black trimmed with white, with black coat and hat. Previous to her marriage the bride was the guest of honour at many interesting functions, where she was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are members of the staff of R. T. Holman, Ltd., Summerside, and are very popular among the younger set. The Guardian joins in heartfelt congratulations.—S.

PREMIER

and Premier Bennett presages great activity in government circles. Although his visit overseas was primarily to improve his health following an indisposition, the Prime Minister met Premier Ramsay MacDonald and leading members of the National Government in England. At these meetings, the question of increasing the export of Canadian wheat to Great Britain, preparations for the coming Imperial Economic Conference and the subject of Empire currency are understood to have been discussed. Doubtless the result of these conversations will be discussed at meetings of the Cabinet in Ottawa during this week. Coupled with these discussions, the date for the opening of Parliament will be given consideration. To this question there has been no official consideration given yet, it is definitely learned, but January 28 and February 4 are being mentioned as probable dates for the opening of the next session.

The Prime Minister, too, has a number of appointments to make which he will consider with his colleagues. Three Senatorial vacancies exist—one in Quebec in succession to the late Senator George G. Foster and two in Nova Scotia to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of Senator Nathaniel Curry, Amherst, and Senator Edward Farrell, Liverpool. The matter of selection of the personnel of the proposed tariff board is another subject to which attention will likely be given at an early date.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 13.—Railroad presidents of important eastern lines will meet in New York next Tuesday to consider further steps to be taken in the matter of wage reductions.

While the results of the recent meetings of Union representatives in Chicago were considered somewhat confusing to rail executives, there was still hope that some amicable arrangement would be reached with the brotherhoods on payroll cuts.

Drastic Relief Measures In Italy

(Associated Press)

ROME, Dec. 13.—Premier Mussolini yesterday ordered all Fascist relief organizations to be open for business seven days a week and 12 hours a day, prepared to give assistance to all of Italy's needy.

It is the duty of every Italian, he said, to scale down his mode of living to fit the present conditions, to combat profiteering and to vanquish the spirit of defeatism.

He outlined his new relief programme at the installation of the new Fascist party directorate under Achille Starace, recently appointed secretary of the party succeeding Giovanni Giurati. At the same time he deposed Carlo Scorza as head of the Fascist youth organization which was active in last summer's controversy over the Catholic action clubs. Both the Vatican and the Government have denied that these men were sacrificed in the interests of peace between church and state.

PREM. BENNETT ARRIVES HOME

(By Charles Bruce, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 12. (By Charles Bruce, Canadian Press Staff Writer)—"The day of the centralized Empire is past. We no longer live in a political Empire. We must now see to it that our ability and our resources are thrown into the enterprise of building and strengthening an economic union."

This was the message which the Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, brought back from Great Britain today. Improved in health, but "even better in spirits," the Premier declared that the Mother Country was meeting her problems with high courage and confidence in their solution and that the coming Economic Imperial Conference at Ottawa was probably the most important event of its kind ever held within the Commonwealth.

The implications of inter-Imperial trade were uppermost in Mr. Bennett's mind during a brief interview granted before the liner "Duchess of Richmond" docked and in his speech on a crowded pier after Hon. Percy C. Black, acting Premier of Nova Scotia, had expressed a "Welcome Home."

The statement of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas in which he told the House of Commons, Great Britain was committed to the idea of a wheat quota was distinctly gratifying, Mr. Bennett told newspapermen. "I am sure that statement will be received with satisfaction by Canadians," he added. "It marks the adoption of reciprocal trade agreements with the Empire."

The people of Great Britain are looking forward with great interest to the Imperial Conference. The date cannot be fixed, of course, until after the Australian elections.

"With the adoption of the Statute of Westminster, the old political Empire disappears and everywhere I went in the Old Land I found the people looking forward to the Conference in the belief that we will lay at Ottawa the foundations of a new economic empire in which Canada is destined to play a part of ever increasing importance."

"The people of Great Britain are meeting their difficulties with high courage and resourcefulness," Mr. Bennett said. "It is good for the spirit to meet them, to see their hardihood in the face of difficulties, their confidence in winning through. I come back to Canada improved in health but even better in spirit."

The Prime Minister looked exceptionally well as he met a delegation on board ship and stepped down the gangplank to address the crowd.

During the day, his last on European soil, he inspected a number of Fascist blackshirt groups and visited Achille Starace, new secretary of the Fascist party.

Going To Work

(Canadian Press)

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 13.—The "Czar" of American hoboes, Joseph Leon Comel Seal Lazrowitz, abdicated yesterday, as he had promised.

"A little lady in Winnipeg" was the cause. Eight men, the privy counselors, gathered about him in the cold dawn in the heart of the west side "flophouse" quarter.

"My men," advised Lazrowitz "this is my resignation, all made out in form. I am abdicating as king of the bona fide Hoboes Union of the United States, Inc. The little lady up in Winnipeg says I should settle down. I, short, my comrades, I'm getting married."

And, more astonishing to his conferees, Lazrowitz said he was going to get a job.

Suggests That War Debts Be Paid In Silver

BY KEN CLARK Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—Great Britain and other nations who, according to the terms of President Hoover's moratorium, forego on Tuesday the payment of $125,000,000 to the United States on account of war debts, will be informed by the Department of State that their action is "not subject to just criticism." Ogden L. Mills, Under-Secretary of the Treasury made this announcement tonight.

Pointing out that debtors to the United States have strictly observed the moratorium in failing to collect money owed them, officials express chagrin over declarations by Senator William E. Borah and other members of Congress, that failure to pay on Tuesday will represent "technical default."

Tomorrow, Senator Reed Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, will introduce a resolution proposing debts should be payable in silver. Pending further elucidation of the Senator's proposal experts discover little benefit from such an operation. They point out since India's stores of silver are not at the disposition of the British Government, the silver would have to be bought "at the market price," and they do not understand how the Senator's suggestion would benefit Great Britain, whose obligation to the United States, according to Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, has increased 47 per cent as a result of the fall in sterling.

Tuesday's payment would be about $75,000,000. Under-Secretary Mills' statement tonight made it clear the moratorium was not connected with President Hoover's suggestion to Congress that the war debts commission be recreated looking toward further revision of war debts. Violent opposition to the latter proposition continued in congressional circles today.

It appeared Senators and representatives sensing a rising fear in the country that war debts would never be paid were determined to have their $11,000,000,000 regardless of repercussions abroad and at home.

Observers continued to believe ratification of the moratorium pledged to President Hoover by leaders in both houses would be accomplished in the immediate future.

It is correspondingly in these countries where stable prices will most certainly lead to trade recuperation. JAPAN bring a penalty of three months imprisonment, it was announced, or a fine of not more than 100 yen (about $50).

Japan removed her embargo on gold exports on Nov. 1, 1930, and since then it is calculated that the outflow has totalled approximately 510,000,000 yen, more than half of which left the country since Oct. 1.

The initial effect of the embargo appeared to be to halt two special shipments to the United States of 15,000,000 yen each, contemplated by Yokohama Specie Bank to complete deliveries of dollar bills. The bank may contest the ban on the grounds that its deal preceded the promulgation of the ordinance.

The Finance Minister's announcement was followed by a Government statement explaining that since the gold ban was removed the nation's finances and economics have been precipitated into an unusual impasse, revenue experienced a marked decrease, the budget was shown to be unbalanced, industry slackened daily, and the outlook for the future was gloomy. The Government decided therefore, the statement said, to replace the barrier in order to overcome a situation rendered serious by continued shipments of the metal. To make the embargo complete, it was said, the conversion of notes into gold would also be prohibited.

After disposing of the gold question the Cabinet turned its attention to the problems it inherited from the regime of Baron Reijiro Wakatsuki—principally Manchuria. In Selyukal party circles it was said that while the new Government has not officially laid down its Manchurian policy, the sooner the world realizes that Japan will not tolerate troublesome war lords along the South Manchurian railway, the better it will be for international relations.

Premier Inukai has given new hints of how he intends to face the Diet when it reconvenes in January with a strong Minseto party majority. It is considered in political circles, outside the Selyukal party, that his Government will be short-lived despite its policies to heal the nation's wounds.

Among his plans to win popular favors is the appointment of a commission to study China, particularly Manchuria, and to make a number of recommendations to improve living conditions. He also is scheming to meet budget deficits by bond issues rather than by increasing taxes.

The Premier will act as Foreign Minister until the return from Paris of Ambassador Kenkichi Yoshizawa, who will get the post. Jotaro Yamaoto, former President of the South Manchuria railway, has been appointed Minister without portfolio, setting a precedent in Japan.
