PARLIAMENT TO OPEN NEXT MONTH

Opening Session Early September

Re-Election By Acclamation Of Premier Bennett And 14 Of His Ministers Clears The Way For Calling Session To Deal With Unemployment.

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 25.—Re-election by acclamation of Premier R. B. Bennett and fourteen of his ministers in today's by-elections clears the way for calling a session of Parliament to deal with unemployment for early in September. The date for the opening will probably be announced after a meeting of the Cabinet, now called for Wednesday afternoon, when a plenum of Ontario and Quebec Ministers will have returned to the Capital.

Already bound eastward from Calgary, the Prime Minister, doubtless will communicate his wishes within the next twenty-four hours or so on the date for convening Parliament, September 10 and September 2 are two of the likely days to be considered.

Under instructions issued, writs showing the re-election of Premier Bennett and his colleagues today will be returned to Ottawa by the first mail. On their receipt the re-election of the Prime Minister and his fourteen Ministers will be officially gazetted in the Canada Gazette. All of these writs are expected to be back by Friday or Saturday by which date too, Premier Bennett will be in the city after a stop-over at Winnipeg to keep an engagement.

Of the Ministerial state only one member in the new Conservative administration—Hon. E. N. Rhodes—now remains to be elected. The Minister of Fisheries will be nominated on Tuesday, September 2 for Richmond-West Cape Breton, and an acclamation in this instance is generally conceded. Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister and Hon. J. A. MacDonald, (Kings, P. E. I.) as Ministers without Portfolio do not have to seek re-election.

(Special to The Guardian)
NEW YORK, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Private estimates indicate that total farm income this year may be as much as $2,000,000,000 or 12 percent below that of 1929. The effects of this decline will be offset to some extent by the decrease in prices of most of the commodities that the farmer buys.

Noble Replies To His Critics

FATE OF ITALIA EXPEDITION
RECALLED BY GENERAL'S BOOK

(Canadian Press)
ROME, Italy, Aug. 25.—Another chapter has been added to the controversy which followed the ill-fated Italia expedition to the North Pole.

Returning from the icy north in May, 1928, the airship Italia, commanded by General Nobile, crashed on an ice flow north of Spitzbergen. The Commander and nine of his men fell from the dirigible and were marooned on the ice; the remainder of the crew were carried away with the disabled airship and were never heard of again. When, after 30 days of privation and hardship Nobile's party was reached by a rescue airplane, Nobile allowed himself to be saved first.

Now in "With the Italia to the North Pole," Umberto Nobile replies to his accusers. When the Swedish aviator Lundborg reached the party, Nobile states, he declared that the

Mute Testimony of Grim Tragedy In Coal Mine

(Special to The Guardian)
NIAGARA FALLS, Quebec, B. C., Aug. 25.—The bodies of thirty-seven of the forty-five men who lost their lives in the Blakeburn Mine disaster more than a week ago have now been found. The remainder are believed to be under water. That death came not suddenly, but only after a struggle for many of the victims was discovered today. On a railway tie in the mine the words "up here" followed by a pointing arrow, were found. The arrow pointed to a chamber which twelve miners led by Ralph Hale had tried to seal off from the rest of the workings. By doing so they had probably prolonged their lives about an hour.

New Kind Of Pistol

(Canadian Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 26.—The Prussian police are henceforth to be armed with a novel kind of pistol with which successful experiments have recently been made. The pistol, it is said, discharges a gas bullet which spreads a cloud of gas and irritates the mucous membranes to such an extent that the victim becomes helpless and in a short time unconscious, but otherwise suffers no injury.

General must come first. "But that's impossible," I replied, and pointed out Cecil. "Take him first. That is, what I have decided," Lundborg answered firmly. "No, I have orders to bring you first, because we need your instructions to start looking for the others." (The party carried off in the airship.)

His companions pressed him to go, and eventually he went. "Once and for all be it said," he adds, "as a chief of the expedition my post was there on the Citta di Milano, directing rescue work; not on the ice, where my injuries prevented me from helping my men in any way whatever, and actually made me a danger and a handicap there."

He was sentenced by Magistrate J. E. Miller to five months imprisonment with hard labor.

RAINFALL IN ONTARIO IS WORTH MILLIONS

Week-end Showers Al- though a Little Late, Will Help Late Fruit And Root Crops And Fall Pastures.

(Special to The Guardian)
TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 25.—W. Bert Roadhouse, of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, last night estimated the monetary value of the week end rainfall to farmers of southern Ontario at millions of dollars. The official forecast of the meteorological observatory described last Sunday's rainfall in Toronto as a light shower only, but stated that on Saturday it had been moderately heavy about the city, with the resultant benefit to gardeners and farmers. While the rainfall in Toronto was 38 inches on Saturday it was 4.1 inches in London, where a fall of 1.8 inches was reported. There was a heavy rainfall in Kingston also, but little in northern or northwestern Ontario or in what is known as the Lake Superior region.

"It means millions to the farmers of southern Ontario," said Mr. Roadhouse last night. "It will be decidedly useful although it has come late to be of maximum value. It should help the root crops, some of the late fruits and fall pastures. In western Ontario, two months almost have elapsed since there was a useful rainfall. It should help a good deal in preparing land for fall wheat."

Two months without rainfall had its effect on the price of fruits and vegetables which had risen on account of the drought. It was expected that the rainfall of Saturday, while it would also mean something to the consumer who was paying substantial prices for his corn and other vegetables.

ALBERTA STORM FLATTENS CROPS IN 40-MILE SWATH

EDMONTON, Aug. 25.—(C.P.)—Leaving flattened crops, smashed windows and damaged property in their wake, hail wind and torrential rain joined in the worst storm of the district's history to cut a swath three miles wide and over 40 miles long through the excellent crops between Vegreville and a point northeast of Ranfurly early today.

The district is a comparatively new one and communication services are not well established, making it difficult to learn the exact extent of the damage done. It is stated, however, that crops affected suffered 100 per cent. loss in nearly all cases. Few farmers carried hail insurance.

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 25.—If weather conditions are favorable at eight o'clock tomorrow morning, Captain Wolfgang Von Gronow and his three companions will leave for New York in the German Dornier Wahl flying boat, which has taken them over Iceland, Greenland and Labrador.

The big ship was refuelled this afternoon after its arrival from Queensport, N.S., where the airman spent the night following their trip from Cartwright, Labrador.

All In Readiness

All was in readiness tonight for the start to New York. There the fliers will await instructions from the German Government regarding their future movements. The local flying club will give a dinner tonight to Captain Gronow and his companions. As the only one of the quartette to speak English, the Captain does most of the talking to newspapermen and others interested in the flight from Germany.

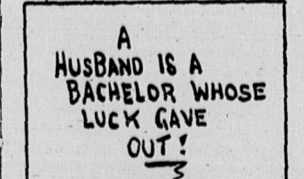

Forced Landing In Fog

Arriving over Halifax harbor at 2:15 p. m. Atlantic Daylight time today, the flying boat circled the city and came to rest at the mooring of the Halifax Flying Club in Bedford Basin. At 7:50 o'clock this morning the plane left Queensport, 130 miles from here. Fog along the coast forced a descent at the fishing village of Marie Joseph, forty miles from Halifax. The plane remained marooned until early in the afternoon, when the moth plane of the Halifax flying club flew to Marie Joseph and guided the larger plane to this city.

It was a week ago today that the seaplane left Germany. One day was spent at the Faroe Islands, two in Iceland, one in Greenland, one in Labrador, and one in Queensport.
