MacLean waited upon him last week and in the name and on behalf of the people presented him with a valuable sleigh robe a pair of driving mitts and a whip. The present was entirely unexpected and it was only on the preceding evening the young men made up their minds to secure them. The people cheerfully responded with the above result. During the last twenty-five years they have given many valuable gifts to him and it is a great pleasure to find that although many who contributed to former presents have passed into the eternal world, that the young are exhibiting the same benevolent spirit. The recipient of those gifts asked the representatives to convey his heart-felt thanks to all who contributed of their means for his comfort.

Alexander J. McCormack, of St. George's parish, Lot 55, died on Saturday, February 9th, after an acute attack of pneumonia, aged 56 years. He was an exceptionally fine type of citizen, and his many noble qualities of head and heart endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. Few serve Church and State more faithfully than did he. A busy and prosperous farmer he could still find time to entertain his many guests. But his chief pleasure and ambition was to lend a helping hand to relieve distress. It was indeed a ruling passion with him to quietly render services to the poor and the sick, and then to follow them when dead to the grave. In fact no funeral seemed complete without him. It is no exaggeration to say that the parish has lost in his death one of its most active and esteemed members. The parish is indeed the poorer now that he has been taken from us. Strong men shed sympathetic tears when the news of his death reached them, so true a friend he was to one and all. When shall we see his like again? Was the eloquent commentary uttered by every mouth on a good practical Christian life. He leaves a disconsolate widow and five young children to cherish his memory. On Monday, the 11th a Requiem High Mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul, a large congregation assisting thereat. The Church service over the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. "Eternal rest give to him. O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him."

The Borden train, which reached the City at 8.55 last night brought with it four battle scarred veterans of the great war, island men, who have gone through some of the heaviest fighting on the western front.

The returned men are: Pte. Harry J. Johnson, Montague, 14th Royal Montreal Regiment, wounded in left leg.

Pte. Beers, St. Peter's Road, 26th Battalion, wounded hip and knee. Pte. Dolron, Rustico, 159th Battalion, suffering from gas poisoning. Pte. Gauthier, Rustico, 55th Battalion, shrapnel right knee (amputated).

The men were met at the station by His Worship Mayor Wright and a large gathering of citizens who gave full honors to the returning heroes. Major Leigh went out on the afternoon train as far as New Wiltshire and accompanied the men in. After a short speech of welcome by the Mayor, the men were driven in the Mayor's splendid equipage, drawn by a pair of matched greys, to their temporary homes, two being the guests of the Mayor during their stay in the City.

There passed peacefully away at her home at Glenfanning on the morning of January 20th Mrs. Mary Cavanagh, relict of the late James Cavanagh, after an illness of short duration in which all that medical skill and tender nursing could do was done to prolong her life, but God willed otherwise and on the above mentioned date her spirit took its gentle flight to him who gave it. Deceased who was the eldest daughter of the late James Cullen and Isabelle Stewart was born at Rosneath on June 12th 1833 and in the year 1855 she married James Cavanagh and moved to Glenfanning where she has since resided.

The late Mrs. Cavanagh was a woman of estimable character and much loved in the community in which she lived, also by the large circle of friends who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. For her charity she was known far and wide, the needy never left her door unaided, and the way far always found refuge in her home.

In sickness or sorrow her ever willing hand was always ready to soothe and comfort. In her home she was ever gentle and kind, on her face she always wore a smile.

An ever consistent member of the Roman Catholic Church she lived and she died fortified by its last sad rites administered to her by the hands of her beloved pastor, who paid her frequent visits of consolation during her last illness.

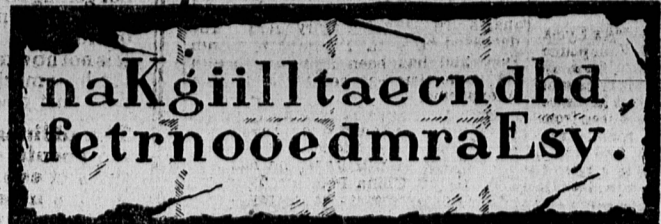

On Tuesday morning Jan. 22nd her home was filled to its utmost with friends and relatives who came to pay their last tribute of respect to one who as friend and neighbor left nothing to be desired, after which her remains followed by over fifty

Why You Should Use a Blended Flour

The big, out-standing reason why "Beaver" Flour makes such light, flaky Pies and Pastry, and such delicious homemade Bread, is because it is a blended flour.

It is a flour ground of the delicately flavored Ontario winter wheat, to which has been added a scientifically determined proportion of Western spring wheat to obtain the desired strength.

BEAVER FLOUR

This is why "Beaver" Flour makes a good size loaf of Bread, with an appetizing, nutlike, "homey" flavour, impossible to obtain by using western wheat flour alone.

This is why "Beaver" Flour makes Pie Crusts and Doughnuts—Cakes and Cookies—Gingerbread and Tarts—that are revelations to the woman who has been struggling along with western spring wheat flours.

"Beaver" Flour is a Pastry Flour. Yes! It is also a Bread Flour—and a general-purpose flour—unsurpassed for high quality and flavor.

Being blended in exact proportions every time, it is always the same in quality and strength—and always gives the same happy results with every baking.

Ask your grocer for "Beaver" Flour, and try it on your next baking day. The results you will get with "Beaver" Flour—compared with what you have been getting with western spring flours—will surprise and delight you.
