FASHIONS FOR CANADIANS

To achieve something "different" in the ambition of every woman when the matter of clothes is under consideration. The designer of the blouse shown in to-day's sketch has certainly been able to do that very thing.

Ordinarily the overblouse is merely a straight-cut garment distinguished by its originality of decoration, its coloring, or the fabric combination. The one here shown is gracefully draped, the blouse being folded under all around in a soft hem and caught up at either side, where the drapery is held by an ornament of some kind.

On the blouse as developed a black velvet-covered button holds the drapery, and the neck and sleeves are finished with black velvet ribbon. The blouse would be charming made of tan-colored crepe de chene embroidered in black or navy. The embroidery itself is interesting, as it consists of a straight and zig-zag line applied rather sketchily, in such a way that it may be used in connection with embroidery.

For the coming fall season copper-toned embroidery is to be in high favor. Copper thread embroidery on navy crepe de chene would be effective in the development of a blouse. If this is selected for the blouse sketched, the neck may be finished with copper-colored metal ribbon.

Milliners are quite enthusiastic over the copper effects. They are using copper ribbon and copper thread embroidery in innumerable ways on fall and winter millinery, which will shortly be on display in the shops.

Incidentally, while on the subject of millinery, it is interesting to note that ostrich promises to have a big run of popularity. The uncurled ostrich is best liked. It is applied in all sorts of "jazz" effects. Another millinery note worth giving consideration to is the statement that hats will be worn further back on the head, not down on the eyebrows and bridge of the nose as in the past two or three seasons.

Mrs. McAulay, of the Wallace Hotel, Charlottetown is also a sister.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. D. Stewart of Northam, met with a serious accident on Saturday last while doing some work on the top of his dwelling house. The ladder upon which he was working gave away and he was thrown a distance of about thirty feet falling unconscious to the ground. Dr. Stewart of Tyne Valley was immediately summoned. Fortunately no bones were broken but he received other serious injuries. Mr. Stewart lies at present in a painful condition and will no doubt be confined to his bed for some time.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO the announcement in this issue that the postponed boxing bout under the auspices of the G.W.V.A. will be held in the Arena Rink tonight, starting at 8.15 p.m. As the St. John man Penny was unable to appear, the main bout will be between Young Dempsey, of Maritime Province fame, and Tom Barrett, his coming rival. Both of these men are making a name in boxing circles and undoubtedly will put on an interesting exhibition. The preliminary between Irish Glinley and Spud Arsenault promises to be just as interesting as the main bout as both the young men are in the pink of condition. Ringside seats will be on sale at the principal drug stores, until 12 noon and ordinary seats will be on sale at the door of the Arena.

Feeding and Rearing Calves

(C. E. MacKenzie.) Many times we see small unhealthy, stunted calves and often times we are inclined to lay the blame on skim milk when it should be placed on the feeder. Carelessness and too large feeds are the cause of more poor calves and naturally follows small cows, than anything else.

I remember of reading an article published by the Agricultural Station, of Kansas, in which emphatically proved that good calves can be raised on skim milk. To demonstrate this fact, an experiment was made which included three groups of calves of ten each. One lot were fed skim milk, another lot whole milk and the third lot whole milk calves and those nursed by their mothers made a little more gain than those fed on skim milk but the cost was much greater. The skim milk calves were fed one and one-third pounds for each pound of gain, while the whole milk ones were fed three-fifths of a pound of grain and almost one-third pound of butter fat in the milk for each pound of gain and at this rate one hundred pounds of grain proved as good as about forty-eight pounds of butter fat, hence the difference in cost.

At the close of the experiment the three lots were put on equal rations for about seven months and the skim milk calves made the greatest gain; the whole milk lot second, and those fed by the mothers third.

Now from observation we know that skim milk calves do not look as thrifty for the first few months as whole milk ones but if properly fed at the end of the year they are generally the best.

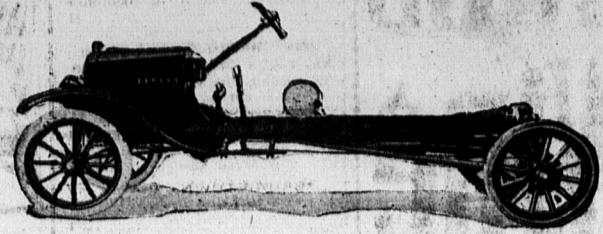

The cause of this gain is that skim milk calves learn earlier to feed on other foods, and when weaned they are able to take care of themselves as it were, and the growth does not stop, whereas with the whole milk calf the sudden change is a drawback and the calf loses flesh and growth is stopped for a time and not being used to eating grain and hay does not do as well for the first few months after the change.

Of course it is a well known fact that if we do not allow the calf to suck it should be fed on the first milk of the mother and the time they should be fed whole milk de-

A WOMAN OF MAGNIFICENT APPEARANCE

ALICE MAY CARLEY, CONTRALTO WITH THE GRAND OPERA COMPANY IS SAID TO BE ONE OF THE BEST LOOKING WOMEN ON THE AMERICAN STAGE TODAY. RESERVED SEAT SALE STARTS WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 5TH AT 9 O'CLOCK.

St. John and Halifax papers have referred enthusiastically to the magnificent appearance of Alice May Carley, who is claimed to be one of the most beautiful and best built women on the American Stage today. The vocal attainments of Miss Carley are said to resemble somewhat those of Louise Homer, the great operatic contralto, although Miss Carley is considerably less than thirty years of age. There will be so many interesting singers in the Boston English Opera Company, and the number is so great that all cannot be heard on the one evening. Those, therefore, who wish to take proper advantage of the splendid opportunity being offered in Charlottetown should plan, if possible to attend each Opera. Seat sale opens Wednesday morning July 7th at 9 o'clock. 1238.
