

LUCKY MR. BROWN.

If it had not been for "Fruit-a-lives," Mr. Lemuel Brown, of Avondale, N.B., would still be living on stale bread and porridge, and suffering tortures with indigestion.

His stomach was so weak that he had to give up all kinds of meats, potatoes and other vegetables, and even deny himself the comforts of a cup of tea. Fortunately, Mr. Brown read about "Fruit-a-lives," bought a box and was so much improved by taking the tablets, that he used four boxes altogether.

It is not the intention of the company to carry a stock of barrels unless they are ordered this Spring they will not be available at any price for the packing of fruit this Autumn. Fruit growers should subscribe for the shares they intend to take at once and with their subscription should forward their order for barrels. It is of the greatest importance to the fruit industry that this Company should be well supported.

Lovely millinery

PROFUSION OF TRIMMING marks most of the new Hats; but such artistic use of trimmings and such exquisite blending of colors as graced the Hats of the French court beauties during the Louis XIV, XV and XVI, as well as the Napoleonic periods. Some of the new Hats seem to have stepped out of eighteenth century frames, yet they have a beauty and a modern touch which make them wearable as well as beautiful in these twentieth century days.

There are plenty of Hats also, of course, that are distinctly modern—simply showing in their shape and trimming the influence of these French periods on the season's fashions. There is very broad variety. There is such great beauty and wearableness as make the Millinery as interesting as ever was. There are moderate prices that astonish the critical.
