The Guardian Extends a Cordial and Hearty Welcome to the Visitors to the City. A Splendid Galaxy of Attractions Prepared by the Promoters for the Entertainment of the Public.

Today the Provincial Exhibition opens in this City with every favourable promise for a successful and pleasing show. The farmers are now in a position to visit the City and its attractions this week without any necessary anxiety in regard to their harvest. The interior of the Exhibition building has been beautifully decorated by John A. Davies, and the mere mention of the decorator is a sufficient guarantee of the artistic and pleasing character of the work. The exhibits in the building are tastefully arranged and make a very creditable display. The program for today is to be found in Stanley Bros Advertisement on page seven. The attractions mentioned above will no doubt prove interesting to all classes, and the specialties provided will, it is certain, ensure a continuous show in front of the Grand Stand from 1.30 p. m. until the completion of the day's racing program. The merchants of this City have made good preparations for the opening, and their different booths are carefully and handsomely decorated, reflecting the skill and taste of those in charge of the operations.

Behr & Weeks are making an excellent exhibit near the southwestern corner of the building. This firm are changing their method of exhibit from the system of former years. This year they will specially exhibit medium and low priced goods, instead of paying all their attention to high class furnishings. Their showing includes a bed, with spring and mattress, at the unheard of price of $5.50 a bedroom suite for only $8.90 and a great variety of bedroom furniture. The highest priced furniture being $19.75. Next is a showing of magnificent couches which the firm offers at $3.90 each. Their show also includes a Dining Room Furniture, including sideboards, chairs, and extension tables at exceedingly low prices. A beautiful Louis XV Parlor Suite in solid mahogany covered with the best quality of silk is offered for $130. A numerous collection of small furniture completes this department. A splendid exhibit of exceptionally fine drawn linens and fancy table linens of all descriptions at amazingly moderate prices. Many varieties of carpets in Wiltons, Brussels, Velvets, Axminster, &c. are shown also comforts, blankets, Ostermoor Mattresses and Hercules Springs, of which Behr & Weeks are the sole agents here, and Alaska Brand of Bedding. Behr & Weeks' Spring Mattresses are not experiments, neither have their mattresses any birch excelsior in their make up. They are all made by experts who thoroughly understand their business.

THE S. S. ROOSEVELT IS NEARING SYDNEY

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 20.—The S. S. Tyrian returned on Sunday morning from Battle Harbor, Labrador, with the journalists who interviewed Commander Peary. The trip, occupying a week, was a most memorable and unique one in the annals of journalism. Never before had such a large contingent gone so far north on a similar mission. There is a big story here. In addition to Peary's three-hour interview was the story by Mr. McMillan, his assistant, who discovered the remains of five polar expeditions, including perfectly preserved provisions abandoned by members of the Greeley party in the year 1884, seventeen of whom died of starvation. McMillan made a sensational statement to Whitney, saying the latter, while some days on the Roosevelt, never mentioned Dr. Cook as claiming the Pole discovery or receiving records of observation from him, although Dr. Cook at Copenhagen said he told Whitney he reached the Pole and gave him records for safe-keeping. Two of Peary's men say the Eskimos with Dr. Cook and them they had gone with the doctor far, far north, although Peary has told the world these Eskimos said Cook never went out of sight of land. The telegraph officers here are working overtime handling volumes of news gathered on the trip and written up by the best writers in the country. Hundreds of photos have also been taken. The Roosevelt left Battle Harbor on Saturday morning and is expected at Sydney on Monday or Tuesday. Peary on Thursday presented each journalist with a walrus tusk and an autograph.

MRS. MARTHA TENNANT DEAD IN ST. JOHN

By the death of Mrs Martha Tennant, who passed away early Friday morning at the age of ninety-one years, St. John loses one of its oldest residents. Coming here from her birthplace in Londonderry, Ireland, she resided in this City for over seventy years. Her death was chiefly due to old age. Mrs Tennant had been in ailing health for some time, but lingered steadily on. Of late her illness has grown more serious till Friday when she passed away. She is survived by one son, David Tennant, an employee of the water works department for the past thirty years. A brother, Andrew Lindsay, of Chicago, and two sisters, Mrs Rebecca McDonald, of Charlottetown, and Mrs Isabelle Tufts of this city, are also left to mourn. The deceased was probably the oldest member of the Christian church on Courge street.—St. John Star.

PEARY CLAIMS TO HAVE PLAIN EVIDENCE

SYDNEY, Sept. 20.—Peary's main evidence to support his charge that Dr Cook never reached the North Pole will be the testimony of the two Eskimos who accompanied Cook on the expedition. Etukishook and Ahweik admitted to him, so Peary says, that Cook never went out of sight of Cape Columbia and they were never further than two "sleeps" from land. With the Newfoundland newspaper man, P. T. McGrath, both Peary and Bartlett accused the Cook controversy freely and Peary stated he personally interviewed the Eskimos who accompanied Cook, and after first ascertaining that Cook's story was correct they finally broke down and admitted the Brooklyn physician had never been out of sight of land.
