ing Victoria on return at 6 p.m. Re-

THE issue of the Outlook which appears in Fourth of July week is an illustrated patriotic number. Its contents are very largely of a character to correspond with the designation. A particularly interesting article is Brigadier-General Fred D. Grant's "With Grant at Vicksburg." This tells in an extremely readable way the present General Grant's experiences when, as a boy, he was with his father, the more famous General Grant, before Vicksburg. Among the illustrations is a double-page drawing by the well-known artist, Mr T. de Thulstrup, which depicts a strikingly pathetic incident which took place in the presence of General U.S. Grant, General Sherman, and the writer of the article; another interesting picture is a full-page portrait of General Fred D. Grant sitting before his tent at Chickamauga. Perhaps of equal interest with this article is that by Colonel T. W. Higginson, called "The First Black Regiment," in which he tells the story of the organization and service of the first South Carolina Volunteers (colored); several quaint pictures are re-produced from illustrated papers of the time, and re-produced ambrotypes of some of the colored officers also give a quaint interest to the article. Other illustrated features of this issue having reference to the patriotic spirit of the time are: "Christian work in Our Camps," written by a special correspond-er of the Outlook at Tampa, Miss Anna N. Benjamin, and illustrated with photographs of soldier life taken by the author; "A Painter of Soldiers," by Miss Jeannette L. Gilder, of the "Critic"; and "War-Songs of the Revolution," a selection of songs and ballads of that time, now almost forgotten, which have been chosen and are commented upon by Mr Hamilton W. Mabie.
A fascimile of the author, the Rev Samuel Francis Smith, not long before his death, accompanies the words of "America" and "God Save the Queen," printed side by side under the music common to both, while the story of the two songs is told. "Under the White Rose-Tree" is an idyl of the Civil War in story form ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

THE best man was Mr. Hector Mc-Leod of Chicago, brother of the groom.
The ushers were: Messrs. Dr. H. von Stoever, Albert Foster, Damon, Jr., John Caldwell Hinkson, Walter Anderson Hinkson, of Chester; John Rendall, of Lincoln University; J. Gustavus Graham, of Denver, Colorado.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony given at the bride's residence.
Only the respective relatives of the contracting parties and the bridal party were present. The bridal table decorations were white and green while the decorations of the guests' table were pink. The interior of the handsome residence was tastefully and artistically decorated with palms and potted plants.

Immediately after the reception Rev. and Mrs. McLeod were driven to the station where they took the train for New York. They will remain there until to-morrow when they will sail for Europe, where they will engage in an extended wedding tour of two months' journey through England and Scotland.
Rev. and Mrs. McLeod were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents.

WEDDED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Rev. M. J. McLeod and Miss Wilson United in Marriage.

Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod of Philadelphia is a son of Mr. D. A. McLeod of Eidon. The following account of his recent marriage is clipped from the Philadelphia Morning Republican of July the 1st.

A noticeable church wedding occurred yesterday evening when Rev. Malcolm James McLeod pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, and Miss Edith Morton Wilson, daughter of John N.
Wilson, president of the Arasapha Manufacturing Company, were united in marriage in the presence of a large concourse of Chester's leading citizens, at Madison Street P. E. Church.

Long before the time set for the wedding the guests who had been invited to the wedding, began to arrive and ere long the spacious church was filled to overflowing with the marriage guests.
Precisely at 6 o'clock the sweet strains of Lohegrin's Wedding March sounded through the auditorium obedient to the accomplished touch of Katherine Campion, organist of St. Paul's P. E. Church.

As the measure of the march swelled forth the maid of honor, best girl and bridesmaids entered the church from the door near the pulpit platform and walked up the aisle to the main door where the bride and her bridesmaids were met and escorted down the aisle to the nuptial altar by the bridesmaids and ushers. At the altar the ceremony was by the groom, who recited ber to the centre of the altar, where in front of a massive bank of palms and potted plants the ceremony was performed, Rev. R. W. Humphries, D. D., pastor of the Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. John Rendall, of Lincoln University. The bride was given away by her father.

At the close of the ceremony the newly married couple walked down the aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March and passed out of the church where they entered a cab and were driven to the house of the bride on east Thirteenth street.

The bride was handsomely and becomingly attired in a gown of white duchess satin, trimmed with white bridal veil, festooned with orange blossoms and carried a beautiful bou-quet of lilies of the valley. The bride's attendants, also the maid of honor, was Miss Alice Blakeley Gilroy, the best girl, Miss Rae Wetherill Blakeley, and the bridesmaid, Miss Arabella Starr, of this city and Miss Adelaide McLeod of Prince Edward Island, Canada, sister of the groom. The maid of honor and bridesmaid were attired in white organdie over white silk and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The young ladies wore pretty, girlish white leghorn hats, Miss Gilroy's trimmed with white and pink lace, Miss Blakeley's with white and yellow, while the bride-maids' were trimmed with white and green.

The best man was Mr. Hector Mc-Leod of Chicago, brother of the groom.
Stoever, Albert Foster, Damon, Jr.,

The Senate Vacancies.
OTTAWA, July 2.—Mr Yeo M. P. will very shortly be called to the Senate to fill the Prince Edward Island vacancy making the fifth vacancy in the House of Commons. It is stated on apparently good authority that Mr Isaac Campbell, of Winnipeg, will succeed Senator Sutherland when the seat for Manitoba is declared vacant. This contradicts the rumor from Winnipeg that Hon.
Thomas Greenway is to be called to the Senate and Hon. Chiffoad Sifton to become Premier of Manitoba. Rumor has not yet fixed upon the new Senator for Ontario, or rather the names mentioned by rumor are legion.
