S'side, Ch'town Juveniles To Play

The Kinsmen juvenile team of Summerside will face its first test in their own league this evening when they face off against the Juvenile Canadians of Charlottetown in the Crystal Rink, Summerside.

The Summerside team, made up mostly of last year's midgets who played off for the Maritime title, have defeated Kensington Juveniles and split a two-game series with Kensington Intermediates so far this season but fans are anxiously awaiting their first appearance against the Charlottetown boys whom they will have to beat in the playoffs if they hope to enter the Maritime playdowns. Last year's Canadians were N.B.-P.E.I. Juvenile title holders going down before St. Mary's College of Halifax in the finals for the Maritime crown. It is not known in Summerside how many of last year's players remain with the team but to-night's game should give some idea of the relative standing of both teams.—S.

Confirms Sugar Coupon Sentence

The appeal of Frank Burt, Covehead, from a conviction on a charge of having counterfeit sugar coupons in his possession was confirmed in Supreme Court yesterday by Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell. The conviction, made by Stipendiary Magistrate K M. Martin, resulted in a sentence of three months in jail without option of a fine. The Chief Justice left the sentence unchanged. However, he quashed the secondary charge of acquiring rationed goods unlawfully. G R Holmes appeared for the prosecution and R R Bell and M A Farmer for the appellant

The Excise appeal case of Antoine Arsenault was adjourned until March 16 because of the non-appearance of an essential witness.

Today at 2:30 p.m., both Stanley Gordon Pursey, convicted of driving a motor vehicle to the common danger, and John Stanley Melvin McCormack, convicted of unlawful possession of a still, will be sentenced.

Church Dignitaries Have Cure For Crime

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 — (CP) — High Church dignitaries today pointed to a return to moral principles as the best means of curbing the recent prevalence of crime in this city.

Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Anglican Bishop of Montreal, said that 'until there is reform from within there can never be any social measure which will be permanently effective."

The current outbreak of criminality, which has the appearence of a crime wave, he said, is but one aspect of the total moral and social problem of the metropolis.

Msgr. Albert Valois, director of Catholic Action for the Montreal Archdiocesse, strongly condemned dissemination of printed matter depicting nudes or women in "provocative poses." He blamed an "incessant appeal to sensuality made to our youth" as one of the chief causes of the present crime increase.

To Probe Possible Murder In Far North

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 — (CP) — A plane carrying Federal and Provincial Police officers to the far northern wilderness of Quebec Province to investigate reports of possible murder of an Indian child back in 1942 will shortly take off from Amos, Que., more than 400 miles northwest of here, Deputy Director Hilaire Beauregard of the Quebec Provincial Police disclosed today.

Reports about the "crime" have varied.

A prominent Indian of the Lake Dodo settlement was said to have killed his daughter's child in a fit of anger. Some officers reported they heard the child had whooping cough and the grandfather, fearful of an epidemic, left it to die of exposure to the cold. Others said the child was thrown into a nearby river by the Indian to punish his daughter.

S'side Branch Of Bible Society Holds Annual Meeting

—The annual meeting of the Summerside Branch, British and Foreign Bible Society was held on Wednesday evening at the Baptist Church, Summerside with the president, Dr. J.A. McMurdo presiding. In giving his annual report Dr. McMurdo referred to the transition from war to peace which he said would add to the responsibilities of the Society and the efforts of the members must therefore be greater. He reported that the amount of money raised this year was equal to the amount raised the previous year. He thanked his colleagues for their support and cooperation during the year.

The guest speaker of the evening was Rev (Major) R. Fowlow of Charlottetown who spoke very effectively on the Bible and its place in the home, the church, and the life of the nation. He illustrated his talk with incidents from his own experience overseas during the war years.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Dr. J.A. McMurdo, (re-elected); vice president, Amos Hubley; secretary, W.E. Brooks; treasurer, D.J. MacLeod.

Appeal Case Re Counterfeit Ration Coupons

In the Supreme Court yesterday before Chief Justice T. A. Campbell the appeal of Frank Burt, charged with possession of counterfeit sugar coupons, was dismissed and the Magistrate's conviction confirmed. In a second appeal on the charge of unlawfully acquiring rationed goods the appeal was allowed and the conviction quashed. Folowing is the text of the judgment in the first-mentioned appeal:

"This is an appeal from conviction and sentence by Stipendiary Magistrate Martin made on a charge of possession of counterfeit ration coupons. The appellant pleaded guilty before the Magistrate and no evidence was given on either side. The sentence was three months' imprisonment without the option of a fine, and at the same session the same Magistrate fined the appellant $200 or two months' imprisonment in default on a charge of unlawfully acquiring rationed goods (presumably by the use of the same coupons). This Court therefore has no material before it to estimate the basis on which the Magistrate arrived at his sentence.

"The only conclusion I can draw is that the Magistrate considered the offence to be of equal gravity with those involved in the cases against McEachern and Burhoe, upon whom similar sentences were imposed.

No Evidence

"It is a matter of extreme difficulty for a Court of Appeal either to confirm or modify the sentence of the trial magistrate where no evidence whatever was taken before him and where no reasons are given for the sentence fixed. The only course open to a Court of Appeal under such circumstances is to consider the matter entirely de novo.

"In response to the Court's difficulty on this point it was agreed by Counsel that there should be read in evidence a statement made by the appellant to Corporal Roome of the R.C.M.P. on November 8th. In this statement the accused told of purchasing six sheets of ration coupons, which he later found to be counterfeit, from one Albert Farrah at the price of $100, of which he paid $50 in cash but never paid the balance.

"The appellant went on to state that he deposited the six sheets of coupons with one Charles Willis who operates a general store at Covehead, and obtained from Willies two bags of sugar at the ordinary retail price, apparently with the inteneion of getting four more bags at a later time. Further transactions were, however, frustrated by the discovery that the coupons were counterfeit.

"The foregoing statement is not contradicted so far as these proceedings are concerned, and it would be improper for the Court to take into consideration the alleged fact that the appellant later repudiated the statement in the course of a prosecution against Farrah. That might properly be the subject of another charge, but cannot be weighed in assessing the gravity of the present offense.

Conviction Confirmed

"The payment, however, of $100 or even $50 for six sheets of sugar coupons indicates beyond a doubt that the sugar which the appellant was procuring was intended to be used in some highly illicit manner. That seems to me to differentiate the case clearly from those of McEachern and Burhoe in which the accused persons might very well have violated the law with the mere object of wishing to oblige (albeit illegally) their regular customers. Such an object could not be contemplated by the price paid for the coupons by this appellant.

"The case therefore seems to me, on the materials presently available, to be much more serious than either of the other cases, and the sentence imposed by the Magistrate does not seem to be excessive.

"The conviction and sentence of the Magistrate are therefore confirmed and the appeal is dismissed. In view of the resulting decision in the two appeals now heard on behalf of this same Appellant, there will be no order as to costs in either appeal."

Counsel in the case were Messrs. R.R. Bell and M.A. Farmer for appellant, and G.R. Holmes for the prosecution.

In Memoriam

MR. WILLIAM DONALD SHAW

A large circle of friends were shocked and saddened when news was circulated of the death on Sunday morning, December 16th of Mr. William Donald Shaw. The deceased was widely known in both town and country and the large number who came to pay their last respects at the home and funeral attested to the esteem in which he was held.

Mr. Shaw was born at West River and was the eldest son of the late Alexander and Isobel Maynard Shaw. For many years, he operated the old farm homestead at West River Bridge, but due to physical conditions inadequate to handle the heavy work of the farm, he sold his interests and retired to New Dominion and later to Charlottetown where at the time he was stricken, he was employed by the firm of Bruce Stewart & Co.

Mr. Shaw, who was in his 64th year was possessed of a very keen, analytical mind. He was a broad and intensive reader, fond of the classics, and kept himself well informed on current events. A brilliant conversationalist and entertainer, he was an interesting companion and always found warm welcome among a wide circle of friends and admirers.

While a strong supporter of the Conservative Party, he was never narrow in his views and could see the value of an opposite policy This same breadth of understanding and judgment he also carried into all his considerations of both church and state His happy presence and cheery disposition will be deeply missed among those who knew him well

He leaves to mourn his widow, Annie Beaton also six children, Alexander, Isobel, Genevieve, Inez, Louis and Noreen. One brother, Walter R., Deputy Minister of Agriculture and one sister, Mrs Arthur Horton of Portsmouth, N.H. also survive

Thousands Come To Ski Resorts In Laurentians

MONTREAL, Jan. 17 — (CP) — The skiing season is here again and the thousands of persons who find their relaxation on winding trails and steep, snow-covered hills are flocking north to Quebec's Laurentian mountains.

The war greatly curtailed the winter pastime which formerly drew more than 10,000 persons to the mountains each weekend, but this season promises to be the best since 1938. Already, accommodation is at a premium in the many Laurentian resorts which cater to the ski trade.

Supported by a good publicity campaign, skiing has become one of Quebec's major winter attractions The Laurentians, with scores of hills suitable to beginner or expert and within two-hours train ride of Montreal, have become internationally known.

Competitive skiing attracts the widest publicity as top-notch skiers come from many parts of eastern Canada for slalom, downhill and cross-country races held almost every weekend at St Sauveur, Mont Tremblant or some other favored spot.

But it is the pleasure skier, who makes up the mass of the mountains' winter visitors. The competitor is little more than a snowflake in a blizzard compared with the thousands of men, women and children who go north for the mere enjoyment of a day's outing.

You see them crowding Montreal stations, wearing gaily-colored ski apparel and carrying long skis. No special trains have been run since the war began, but regular trains are crowded each weekend.

Frolic On Trains

Ski trains are almost an institution in Quebec. There's a camaraderie about them found no where else Portable gramphones and radios play at one end of the car, accordians and mouth organs at the other, and it's a sour soul indeed who doesn't enjoy the chitchat and singing of the trip north and the return home.

Once at their destinations, skiers pile out from the cars, harness their skils and glide off to their shack or to their winter resort destinations.

Prices at the resorts range from four dollars a day, with meals included, to the $15 top price of the most exclusive chalets But many skiers find accommodation at club houses or band together and rent cottages for the season.

Even so, accommodation is hard to find and at Mont Tremblant there is talk of building dormitories, each to house 25 persons There would be units for men and others for women.

Bus services, on highways open all year around and trains are the usual methods of travelling north, but one resort, catering to the American trade, runs a twice-daily air service from Montreal to St. Jovite.

Qualified instructors are available at most ski centres, trained at the Canadian Ski School which gave special instructor courses to about 80 amateurs and professionals last month The school is under Louis Cochand, one of Quebec province's best known skiers, and is sponsored by the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

BETA SIGMA PHI MEETING — A meeting of Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held at the home of Mrs. William Johnston on Monday evening, Jan. 14. The business session was conducted by the chapter president, Mrs. George Walters. Miss Nora Down gave the assignment for the evening and chose as her topic "The Art of Dancing". She mentioned how the dance was perfected by the Greeks and was used as an aristocratic entertainment of the middle ages. However, in the 17th century, when the ballet was introduced into Russia, the school which gave the greatest performers of ballet to the world was established. Some members of this school went on tour in 1909 and thus the famous "Ballet Russe" was formed. Miss Down described the classical ballets "Swan Lake" and "Giselle" and gave a biography of the most talented classical dancers — Anna Pavlova and Vaslov Nijinsky. She then told of the life and art of American-born Isadora Duncan, who liberated dancing from its severe classical form and paved the way for a modern artist such as Martha Graham, whose name has become a symbol of the most advanced school of the modern dance. Ballets are arranged to symphonies, piano compositions, and operas, and may combine the artistry of a Deraine with the musical ability of a Debussy. During her talk, Miss Down showed pictures of the artists, scenes from various ballets, and settings for ballets. The Sorority members enjoyed Miss Down's paper thoroughly. It was interesting to learn something of the universally-loved art of dancing. The program period ended with a discussion and Mrs. Johnston served lunch.

NEED MORE MILK

Production of milk in 1946 at 18 billion pounds was set as the requirement at the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference held in Ottawa December 3 to 5 This is a five per cent increase over the 1945 output.

To meet the total requirements for creamery butter for 1946 estimated on a basis of a year round seven ounce per week ration, plus an annual export of 5 million pounds to the British West Indies and Newfoundland is 310 million pounds, or 15 million pounds higher than in 1945. Whether this increased output will be possible depends on the production in the Prairie Provinces being increased to a joint beyond what it was in 1945.

Cheddar cheese production in 1945 at 183,290 pounds was five million pounds above 1944. Slightly less output of cheese is anticipated in 1946.

More concentrated milk products were made in 1945 than in the previous year. The year's outrun was 200,000,000 pounds of evaporated milk, 30,000 000 pounds of condensed milk, 15,500,000 pounds of whole milk powder and 35,000.000 pounds of dried skim milk, all considerably higher than the average annual output in the five years 1940-44.
