THE 1932 GRAIN SHOW

The great Grain Show to be staged at Regina in 1932 has already been noticed in these columns, and a considerable amount of literature bearing upon it is still coming in; the publicity department of this unique exhibition is sparing no effort to make it a national and international success. The program committee met recently at Ottawa and made arrangements to secure outstanding speakers and papers from all parts of the world on such subjects as soils, cultural methods and problems, plant breeding, seed production and registration, plant diseases, insect friends and foes, marketing, milling and baking, agricultural machinery, and many other kindred subjects.

Already two entries are in for the class No. 1—Hard Red Spring wheat—the one from Alberta, the other from Saskatchewan. The contestants must each put up fifty pounds of the grain, and the lucky one who wins the first prize will be richer by $2,500. The next two must content themselves with $1,500 and $1,000 respectively. There are however 47 prizes besides these three "plums," the total for this one class standing at $15,000.

In connection with this class, I note with pleasure that our worthy Superintendent at the Experimental Station, Prof. J. A. Clark, and Mr. W. H. MacGregor, of Central, visited the offices in Regina a few days ago, principally for the purpose of securing seed wheat for prospective exhibitors in P. E. Island. Only the best of registered grains should be used by competitors, and it is an act of foresight to secure it.

In the other provinces there is great interest being manifested; the Kiwanis of Melior are supplying 25 local boys with two bushels of registered seed oats apiece, as a starter. For the best grain produced by fall, a cup and other prizes will be given. Thus it is expected to produce at least one contestant in the Big Show. The Indian Agent at Bertie Manitoba expects to have exhibits of grain from not less than three Reserves in his Agency. Various Junior Grain Growers' Clubs in Western Canada are organizing for an assault upon that huge prize list of $300,000.

The first outsider to promise participation is Peru, and that country has a diversified climate, growing almost every agricultural product. It is likely to prove a strong competitor in all the classes.

Dehydration of Fruit

The abstraction of water from the tissues of fruit or vegetables removes one of the conditions essential to the development of the moulds or "rots" by which those tissues are destroyed. The most familiar of these processes is the drying out of sliced apples, but the report of Dr. E. S. Archibald, Chairman of the Dehydration Committee of the Horticultural Council, Central Experimental Farm, shows that the method is being extended with satisfactory results, in many other directions. Very effective work has been done in British Columbia on certain fruits such as the apricot, prune, and loganberry, the latter indicating that it is possible to carry out the process even on the softer fruits. Dehydration is also carried out on digitals (or foxglove) a plant in demand in medical circles, but why it is extended to the nut crops is not quite clear to the lay mind. Very many vegetables, including celery, peas, beans, beets, onions, pump-

POWNAL

On Sunday morning, April 13th, a Spring Rally was held in the United Church here. A large number were present and heartily enjoyed the service. Mrs. Beatrice Judson presided at the organ. A short worship service followed; Selection by orchestra, Call to Worship, by Superintendent, hymn, responsive reading, prayer by Rev. H. E. Campbell. It might be said that the orchestra in the Sunday School is one for which the congregation is pardonably proud and which adds much to the music.

In a talk on An Ideal Sunday School by the Superintendent, Punctuality was the first point stressed. The worship service should be such as would be understood and suitable to every member. The teaching staff must be efficient. The great value of missionary work to children whose minds are plastic was emphasized. Lastly parents should cooperate with the teachers by teaching the child their Sunday lesson at home.

At this point the Superintendent presented Miss A. Smith with a Bible for attendance for the year. Duet "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," Rhela Gay and Mrs. H. E. Campbell. Story, Prudence Ings. Hymn. The talk on "Why I go to Sunday School," by Parker Ings was very interesting, showing careful preparation. Story, "The Angelus," Adelle Smith. Solo, Mrs. N. McKinnon. This was followed by a talk given by Mrs. Arthur Moore on the Cradle Roll, the work and benefit of same in the Sunday School. At the close of her very fine talk Mrs. Moore placed the roll on the wall which already contains fifteen names. Selection by orchestra. Offering. The final talk given by Mr. Campbell was instructive and helpful. The S. S. which is the right arm of the church needs consecrated and concentrated teachers who need the cooperation of parents. The S. S. is the greatest organization in the land because it is a school of religious education where boys and girls are brought to understand the truths of the Bible.

Miss Florence Brown, city, spent the Easter holidays at her home here.

Miss Edyth Lawton, student P. W. C. spent the holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lawton.

Mr. Jack Birch, city, was visiting friends in the village over the week end.

Miss Helen Drake, Flat River and Miss Charlotte, Mt. Albion, who were in attendance at the Teachers' Convention spent the Easter season at their home Waterside.

The many friends of Mr. Henry Jones of Hazelbrook, will learn with deep regret that he is a patient in the Prince Edward Island Hospital. Mr. Jones it will be remembered had, about a year ago, a severe attack of blood poisoning in his hand from which he never completely recovered. Some time ago he was stricken with phlebitis and after being under the doctor's care for some time it was found necessary to move him to the hospital where the very serious operation of amputating the foot was performed, from which he recovered satisfactorily and seemed to be doing as well as could be expected for one week, when it was found necessary to perform a further operation which makes his condition very critical. Mrs. Jones and family have the sympathy of many in this their time of anxious waiting.

Ralph, Arnold and Ira Locke Yeo, city, spent Easter with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lock Jones, Jonesville.

Some of our neighbors say the wind was south east on Good Friday, others say southwest, so how are we to tell which will be the prevailing wind for the next forty days and forty nights. At all events it wasn't a very desirable day so if there is anything in this old tradition or superstition we will need to be an optimistic people for the next month, ten days and ten nights.

Mr. Albert Bruce, Waterside, was a passenger by the Murray Harbor train on Saturday en route to the city on business.

Mr. Sandy MacNeill, Bedouque, has returned home after spending an enjoyable holiday with his sister Mrs. Frank Jones, Pownal Village.

We have in our midst a foreigner and a stranger in our land Mr. and Mrs. Phillipson who are natives of Germany. They have come here, we understand, with the hope of purchasing a farm. While farming means a lot of hard work we can assure these new comers there is not a more independent, healthy living than farm work.

The service in the United Church here on Easter Sunday night was very well attended. The pastor preached a very appropriate and helpful sermon in keeping with the Easter season. Easter music was rendered, the solo in the anthem being beautifully rendered by Miss Francis Wood. Four new members were received in to full membership, after which the Sacrament was observed. The church was beautifully decorated with Easter flowers, donated by the C. G. I. T., and W. M. S. Some were distributed to the sick.

Why M. D's Write In Latin

A contributor to the Spokane Spokesman Review, wants a law enacted "whereby all physicians in writing prescriptions would be compelled to do so in plain English, and not in code, as is the practice now."

Two reasons are given for this practice of writing prescriptions in dog Latin. Medical lore goes largely to the botanical kingdom for its remedies. The scientific name for a plant is fixed and uniform throughout civilized countries; but in the common tongue a particular plant may have half a dozen names in the same country. Hence the need of standardization.

A physician's prescription is supposed to be written, after a learned, intelligent diagnosis of the patient's immediate requirements. If it were written in English, a patient, jumping to the conclusion that the concoction would be valuable for future and variable uses, would copy it and do himself harm.

FRUIT GROWERS BENEFIT BY GOVERNMENT CERTIFICATE

The shipping point inspection service of the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture last year handled 25,760 cars of fruits and vegetables, an increase of 23,000 cars in the past five years, and 9,300 cars more than were inspected in the 1928-29 season. Hundreds of thousands of tons of perishable fruits and vegetables now pass from producer to consumer through this new system of established quality marketing and the government certificate of inspection has placed trading on a basis of confidence.

"The maintenance of a rigid but uniform inspection service at the point of shipment, and sale on that basis, producers, shippers and the trade alike concede will assure Canada a place of importance in the race for competitive supremacy in the market of these products," states G. E. McIntosh, Commissioner of the Dominion Fruit Branch.

"The shipping point inspection service has probably been the greatest single factor in establishing trade and consumer confidence in the quality of Canadian fresh fruits and vegetables," Mr. McIntosh asserts. "It is on the basis of quality that Canadian growers must compete with other producers in the domestic and export markets, and the key to the successful merchandising of these products is represented by the uniformity of our grade standards."

The shipping point inspection service now rapidly growing in popularity favor was introduced as a voluntary service to producers to provide a neutral determination of quality standard between buyer and seller, and the government certificate is prima facie evidence of the real quality of the product. In operation it is an important merchandising service for which a small fee is charged. It is optional except for export shipments of apples or pears; and in respect to these it is compulsory except in the Province of Nova Scotia.

At the special request of growers and shippers the inspection service has been made compulsory with respect to all shipments of fruits and vegetables from British Columbia, and for all table stock potatoes from Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. Important areas in Quebec and Ontario are rapidly extending.

ing the application of the service each season as its benefits become apparent.

The government inspection certificate has created trade confidence in product quality, it has eliminated the element of expediency, and it has developed the uniformity of product to such an extent that government inspected fruits and vegetables have become exceedingly popular on certain markets during the past season and in the export market in particular premium prices have resulted.

AND WATERLOO HERO'S WIDOW

That the widow of a man who fought at the Battle of Waterloo will be among those to obtain a pension under the new British Widows' and Orphans' Pensions Act, was revealed by Arthur Greenwood, Minister for Health, in a speech at Hackney, England, recently. Her husband, he said, was 18 when he fought at Waterloo in 1815 and he did not marry until he was 60, his wife being a young girl. This means, Greenwood continued, that her husband was born in 1797 in the days of George III, and among the events he would have been old enough to recall would have been the death of Nelson and the war with America.
