Looking the picture of health, Mrs. Martha Chorech, 58, of Akron, Ohio, finds pleasure in sweeping her stoop. But she was once dead. While undergoing abdominal surgery in an Akron hospital, her heart stopped beating. It was still for two minutes, and the surgeon was about to give up the fight for her life. But in a desperate attempt, he made a swift incision, laid bare the heart, lifted it out and massaged it in his hand. Within 30 seconds, it began to beat feebly. He replaced it, and, 11 days later, Mrs. Chorech left the hospital after one of most amazing recoveries in medical history.

THE TRUMP SUPPORT BOGIE

It will never be known how many hands are lost because of ignorance or stubborness on the subject of "trump support". Observe this case:

North dealer.
North-South vulnerable

	♠ K J 4 ♥ 6 ♦ K Q J 7 2 ♣ A Q 9 5
♠ Q 7 5 3 ♥ Q 8 4 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ 7 6 2	N W E S	♠ 6 2 ♥ K 10 9 5 3 ♦ A 9 4 ♣ K 10 3
	♠ A 10 9 8 ♥ A J 7 ♦ 10 6 5 ♣ J 8 4

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 N T	Pass
3 NT(!)	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth-highest heart and, when East put up the king, the declarer could take the trick or leave it — in any case he was playing against hopeless odds. He could not establish nine tricks, without knocking out the diamond ace and, when East won with that card, his heart return through South's remaining jack-seven gave the defense four tricks in the suit.

It goes without saying that the three-notrump contract was infinitely less sound than either four spades or five diamonds would have been. The responsible party for the bad contract was exclusively North. He was guilty of the same sort of tactics that one finds at so many bridge tables — he refused to support partner's spade suit because he lacked four cards in that suit and "South had never rebid spades."

The absurdity of such reasoning must be apparent. How could South rebid his four-card spade suit Even if he had had five spades, he might have felt that it was more constructive to announce what looked to him like two heart stoppers.

If North had raised spades, as he should have done, South undoubtedly would have gone on in that suit, and reasonable skill in the play would have brought home a four-spade contract.
