COUNTESS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

(Canadian Press)

ONEGLIA, Italy, April 29 —Countess Tiepolo Oggioni, a member of a noble vetetian family, was brought to trial here today for mudering her husband's servant. It appears the man entered her bed room and attacked her. In court the Countess accepted full responsibility for killing him, saying the man had entered her room and attacked her and that the murder was justified.

LIQUOR LICENSES WERE CANCELLED

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, May 1.—Eighty liquor licenses were cut off in Ontario today, twenty-six by local option and fifty-one by Canada Temperance Act.

The other three were cancelled either as a result of a petition to the license inspectors or for non-conformity with law.

STRIKE PROBABLE IN TORONTO

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, May 1.—The situation here in connection with the Street Railway Light and Hydro-electric workers is serious and it is said a big strike may come.

This is denied today by officials but they admit that negotiations looking towards a settlement of the questions in dispute are now under way.

CANCER DEATH RATE ON THE INCREASE

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 1.— The American Society for prevention of cancer in a statement showing the increase in a death rate from cancer calls attention to the need of a National Movement to check the spread of the disease. In Boston for 1913 the death rate was 118 per 100,000 against average of 79 for the last five years.

NEWSPAPER MAN 48 HOURS IN JAIL

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, April 30—W. R. McCurdy, news editor, of the Halifax Herald, appeared at the Bar House today in the House of Assembly and refused to tell the body who brought the now famous Ian McLean letter to the Herald office on the night of April 15th.

He defended his action on the ground that to divulge the name would be a breach of journalistic custom which might have serious personal results for him. He was remanded in the custody of the sergeant at arms until Thursday when his case will be disposed of.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 30.—Cable from London to the New York American says Chancellor of the Exchequor, Right Hon. Lloyd George in his forthcoming statement on the budget will increase the maternity benefit provided for in the Insurance Act for 86,25 to $25. This comes from well formed sources, Presumably the Chancellor hopes the new grant will help to make the Insurance Act popular with the working class. It is computed that in 12 months 200,000 mothers will receive the advantage of the Act, entailing an expenditure alone of $5,000,000.

HALIFAX, May 1.—At 1.30 o'clock this morning the debate in the House of Assembly on the resolution sentencing Mr. McCurdy, of The Herald, to 48 hours in jail, for refusing to answer certain questions as to the authority of a letter signed Ian McLean, published in The Herald, reflecting upon the Nova Scotian Legislature, was concluded, and the amendment moved by Mr. Tanner to the effect that Mr. McCurdy be honorably discharged was defeated on a straight party vote of 21 to 12, and the main resolution committing Mr. McCurdy to the common jail was passed without division.

The prisoner, who had been kept in an anteroom by Sheriff Hall during the evening, was immediately brought to the Bar of the House and sentenced. From there he was escorted to a motor car awaiting him on the Granville street entrance to the House, and amid cheers Mr. McCurdy was whisked off to the County Jail.

PROGRESS ON CAR FERRY WORKS

The Moncton Times of the 30th ult., gives a lengthy write up of the work in progress on the P. E. Island Car Ferry terminals at Cape Tormentine and Carleton. Commenting on the work from the mainland point of view, The Times says:—

Shediac will this year experience a boom the like of which this pretty seaside town and summer resort has perhaps never previously felt, as the result of the construction of the terminals for the car ferry service between the mainland and P. E. Island a national undertaking now under way in fulfilment of a pledge made by Right Hon. R. L. Borden to the people of the Island province. As is well known, the terminals for the car ferry service are located at Cape Tormentine on the mainland and at Carleton Point on the other side of the Strait. For the construction of the terminals two contracts were let by the Dominion government. The contractors having in hand the building of the terminal at Carleton Point are Roger Miller & Company, of Toronto, one of the largest and most reputable firms in the Dominion The Roger Miller Company in casting about for a suitable stone for their work, selected the freestone quarry situated on the Smith property along the Scoudouc River in close proximity to the Intercolonial and about a mile from the Shediac depot, and the past winter has been spent in making preparations for the quarrying of stone, transportation across the Strait and the construction of the long approach to the ferry at Carleton Point. This preparatory work in itself has created no little stir in an industrial way in Shediac, where the company are making their headquarters. Over one hundred men have been employed during the winter months at Shediac and Point du Chene, and in a very short time the actual work of shipping stone and the construction of the Carleton Point terminal will be in full blast.

MEDIATION IS BEING ARRANGED

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 30.— Restrained but none the less steady preparations for any military developments that may eventuate are continued by the war department today while a definite programme of mediation is being worked out behind closed doors.

Three envoys for mediation continued their sessions all day. The first move for an armistic has been succeeded by a practical suspension of hostities between United States and Huerta's troops, although there is still fighting between Huerta and Carranza's forces. Huerta's acceptance of intermediation is definite but it appears this does not yet include the acceptance of intermediation by Carranza and his men.

THE WEATHER THE TEMPERATURE, TIDE, MOON, ETC

(Special to The Guardian)

TORONTO, May 2.—Maritime: Fresh northerly to northwesterly winds; a few light local showers or snow flurries, but mostly fair and cool.

THE WEATHER.— Yesterday's weather was abnormally unseasonable. Accompanied by strong and cold winds, snow fell lightly all day. At night it developed into a wild storm; the wind blowing very hard, and the sleet driving with stinging force.

The highest temperature recorded vesterday was 32 degrees above zero recorded at 9 a. m., while on the previous night the lowest was 30 degrees above. At 9 o'clock last night the glass stood at 29 degrees above.

The tide will be high this afternoon at 2.03, tomorrow at 3.06 and Monday at 4.51; it will be high tomorrow morning at 4.49, Monday at 5.45 and Tuesday at 6.38.

The sun sets this evening at 7.10, tomorrow at 7.12 and Monday at 7.13; it rises tomorrow morning at 7.12, Monday at 7.13 and Tuesday at 7.14.

The moon sets tomorrow morning at 1.55 and Monday at 2.19.

There was a new moon Saturday April 25th, at 7.22 a. m.

The first quarter of the moon will be on Sunday, May 3rd, at 2.29 a. m.

The length of today will be fourteen hours and twenty-six minutes and of tomorrow fourteen hours and thirty minutes.

HUERTA READY TO CEASE FIGHTING

WASHINGTON, April 30.—General Huerta tonight accepted the proposal that there be no further hostilities between the United States and Mexico pending the efforts of Envoys of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to bring about a settlement of the difficulties between the countries.

VERA CRUZ, April 30—The Ward Line steamer Antilla was fired upon by both the Federals and the Rebels at Tampico yesterday, according to a despatch received here today by wireless from that seaport. The steersman of the vessel was struck by one of the shots and killed.

The Antilla left New York on April 18 and was flying the Cuban flag. The liner was first raked by the Federal guns and then as she was running out from the city the Rebels from their position near the mouth of the Panuco River opened fire on her.

The commander of one of the British boats lying off Tampico filed a protest with the Federal and Rebel commanders.

The helmsman of the Antilla was wounded by the Rebel fire, and the steamer anchored sending out wireless "S. O. S." signals. Admiral Mayo sent a medical officer from the flagship Des Moines. Then officers of the foreign men-o'-war of the port, headed by Captain Doughty, of the British cruiser Hermione, called upon the Constitutionalist commander for an explanation.

The Constitutionalist officers declared that they proposed in future to prevent any merchant vessels entering Tampico in order to keep supplies from the Federals.

WASHINGTON, April 30—Restrained but none the less steady preparations for any military eventualities that may become necessary, and the definite progress of the mediation programme being worked out behind closed doors, these were the two outstanding features of the Mexican situation here today.

The three meditation envoys of Argentina, Brazil and Chile continued their private sittings through the day and evening. Their first move for an armistice was succeeded by the practical suspension of hostilities between the forces of the United States and the Huerta regime, although there were still ominous sounds of conflict between the Huerta and Carranza forces.

Secretary Bryan formerly notified the three South American envoys that the Government took it for granted there would be no hostilities during the meditation proceedings and had intended no further acts of aggression while the conferences were being held. But the attitude of Huerta and Carranza on the cessation of hostilities was still unknown today.

It appears that while the attitude of General Huerta was definite in accepting intermediation as between the United States and the Huerta Government it has not yet been made clear that his acceptance will apply also to intermediation which includes Carranza.

During the day the intermediaries received word of the encouraging attitude of some of the foremost European powers, notably Great Britain.

Should Carranza refuse to accept any armistice with Huerta the work of the diplomats, it is realized, would be confined solely to setting the differences between the United States and Mexico, though they have by no means given up the idea of solving the whole problem of the pacification of Mexico and its international complications.

CANADIAN TRADE IN HORSE MEAT

(From Our Own Reporter)

OTTAWA, May 1.—The Dairy Bill of Hon. Martin Burrell, a measure of unusual importance to dairying in Ontario, was given a third reading last night.

The Bill provides for stricter regulations of the sale of butter and other dairy products with a view to preventing fraud.

During the consideration of the estimates for the Department of Agriculture, Hon. Charles Marcil asked if the Minister's attention had been called to the horse meat industry in Chambly county.

Mr. Burrell replied that the Department had been asked to appoint an inspector to see that the meat was not diseased, but it was not considered that horse meat came within the jurisdiction of the Department. The Department dealt only with interprovincial trade, and this industry was confined to the province of Quebec, Montreal being the only city where horseflesh was consumed at present.

Mr. Marcil said that it had been reported that the meat was being shipped to Sweden. Would not that ring it under the Department? Mr. Burrell said he had not the Act before him, but thought it did not cover shipments of horse meat.

TROOPS RECEIVED WITH GREAT JOY

(Canadian Press.)

VERA CRUZ, April 30.— The task of guarding the City and environs has been taken over from the navy by General Fred Funston and the fifth Infantry Brigade of the U. S. Army While Martial Law is still in effect officials are enlisting aid from the Mexicans to help them and in accordance with Mexican Law. After the marching to and fro of large bodies of American Sailors, Soldiers and Marines the City resumed its wonted appearance. The U. S. troops landed from transports and were received with manifestations of much joy by the populace.

TRIED TO STOP KING GEORGE

(Canadian Press.)

CAMBRIDGE, April 30.—A lone suffragette tried to hold King George for an appeal on behalf of the votes for woman's cause today while he was riding along in an auto during a visit to Ley's School. The chauffeur opened up the car's motor at full speed and dashed away. As the car ped by she threw a bundle of phamphlets at the King but hit the chauffeur.

A PLEA FOR THE DRUNKARD

A strong plea for sympathy and charity towards the drunkard and an equally powerful denunciation of the drink curse were the features of the address given last night by "Gypsy" Simon Smith at his evangelistic meeting in the First Methodist Church. In spite of the inclement weather, there was a large attendance.

The address was based upon the story of the good Samaritan. At the outset, Mr. Smith impressed the fact that what he would say was not based upon book-learning but upon actual personal experience in his work as a missionary. While he acknowledged the value of book-learning, there were yet many things that could only be learned by first-hand personal experience.

"Love ye one another," was the Christ's command to them, and whatever good works they might perform would profit them nothing unless it was love of their fellow-man that prompted those works. His plea that night to the Christians present was for more love towards one another. What was the matter with the Church of Christ to-day—who was to blame because there were so many empty seats to be found in the churches? The thing that was lacking in the church was love—the love of one another. The Lord stooped from the throne of glory to lift up low-sunken humanity. "Go thou and do likewise." He wanted to plead for the poor fellows down in the ditch: he was there to say a word on behalf of his poor unfortunate brother, the drunkard; and to say all he could against the drink traffic. "Don't you think we have been too prone to scorn and blame the drunkard, when we might have lent him a helping hand and led him back to the Kingdom? Don't you think we have been walking by on the other side of the street like the Levite and the priest, scorning, when we might have been acting like the good Samaritan, sympathising, loving, helping?" Nobody cared. That was the worst attitude of most of them towards the unfortunate. Was it not a pity? Mr. Smith described some of the conditions he had witnessed in England, women like men shamelessly haunting public houses. When they arose from Prohibition it might be possible to have such conditions in Prince Edward Island. If they had had Prohibition in England that would never have happened. He wanted them to consider the parents' responsibility in this matter. "Parents think of this: the kind of boy or girl, man or woman, your child will be depends upon what you are." When he saw a poor drink victim, he wondered what kind of a father or mother he had. Heredity was dogging the foosteps of some people like the plague—they were incapable from their birth. Was it fair then to condemn them? Give them a chance.

Think of who was to blame. From the bad habits set by their parents children grew to become drunkards. "Be careful you don't have to shoulder some of the responsibility. Is there not drinking in this Island? You can make it possible for this Island to become another Eden. Fight then this drink traffic for all you are worth. Mothers do you want to see your boy or girl a miserable drunkard? Shun this thing as you would the plague.

"Who are we to fight? Let us fight the manufacturers. Let us stop the supply, cut it off at its source. Husband if you love your wife; wife, if you love your husband, fight the drink traffic for all you're worth. I would sooner be a drunkard standing before the Judgment Bar than I would be the man who made him a drunkard. They chased a man across the Western ocean the other day for poisoning one girl. What of the men who every day are making that which is poisoning thousands? Touch it not; taste it not!"

ISLAND STUDENTS AT DALHOUSIE

The Dalhousie University Pass Lists have been published and they show that Prince Edward Island students have again distinguished themselves in this well known institution. Worthy of special mention is the success achieved by Miss Annie L. McGrath, of Tignish, D. E. McLean, Charlottetown, and T. A. Campbell, Summerside, who entered 3 year in Dalhousie from the Prince of Wales College.

Miss McGrath won Class I. in Latin IV., Class I. in English VI., Class I. in Philosophy III., Class I. in Biology I., and Class I. in Biology III.

Mr. McLean won Class I. in Greek II., Class II.in English V., Class I. in Philosophy I., Class I. in History I., Class I. in Economics I. and passed in Biology.

Mr. Campbell won Class I. in English VI., Class I. in Philosophy I., Class I. in History I., Class I. in Economics I. and passed in Biology.

The securing of so many first classes is certainly highly creditable and Prince Edward Island has reason to be proud of the above three students. In the third year five subjects constitute a year's work.

The other third-year Island students also made a good showing. Neil Rattee of Malpeque won Class II. in Greek, IV., Class II. in English V., Class I. in History I., Class I. iin History III., Class I. in Economics I.

G. D. McLeod of Oyster Bed Bridge won Class II. in English V., Class II. in Biblical Literature, passed in Philosophy III., passed in History, I passed in Economics I.

M. C. McKinnon, Canoe Cove, won Class II.in English V., Class II. in Biblical Literature, passed in Philosophy III., passed in History III., passed in Economics, I.

The second year students from the Island are as follows:— J. A. Nicholson, Valleyfield, Edith Montgomery, Malpeque; George Webster, Charlottetown.

Mr. Nicholson won Class I. in Latin II., in Greek II., in English II., in Philosophy I., Class II, in Economics I.

...Miss Edith Montgomery won Class I. in Latin II., Class II. in French II, passed in Elementary German, Class II., in English II., passed in Philosophy I., Class I. in History III.

Mr. Webster won Class II. in Latin II., in French II., in English II., passed in Philosophy I.

The only Island student in the first year is Colin McNevin, DeSable. He wins Class II., in Latin I., in English I., in Mathematics I.

H. M. Godfrey of Marshfield is in fourth-year Medicine. He passed in Medicine II., won distinction in Obstetrics II., Medical Jurisprudence, Hygiene and Surgery II.

In Dentistry J. S. Bagnall of Charlottetown makes a splendid showing in the second year. He wins distinction in Anatomy, Physiology, Operating Dentistry and Prosthetic Dentistery, and passed in Chemistry, leading his class.

HERE ARE DETAILS OF THE GREATEST OF PRIZE CONTESTS

Thousands of Dollars in Valuable Prizes to be Given the Most Energetic People on Prince Edward Island; An Early Start the Chief Point to Success; Send in Your Nominations.

Who would not devote a little spare time to pleasant and congenial work, if they were to receive for their efforts a small fortune?

Far surpassing any offer that has ever been made by a local paper The Guardian comes out with the astounding proposition that it will give away sixteen magnificent prizes, including $800.00 in Gold, three Victrolas or Grafanolas, three valuable diamond rings, three gold watches, and many other prizes, and five per cent. to all candidates that fail to win a prize. This is a stupendous undertaking, but in keeping with the principle that The Guardian has laid down since the beginning, that nothing is too good for its readers.

How can it be done? This is the question that many will ponder over. It is easy to solve when you stop to think of the extremely gratifying reception accorded The Guardian in the territory in which it circulates.

In order to become acquainted with every one in the territory and in order that they may have The Guardian read each day in every home, it has adopted this method of securing subscribers. These handsome and valuable awards offered will interest the very best of people. The contest which The Guardian announces today by far surpasses anything ever attempted before.

The financial reliability and business integrity of the men responsible for this newspaper assures every entrant of just and equitable treatment and that every promise made will be carried out and every prize awarded just as represented.

Never before have the people of this section had the opportunity of winning such big awards for such easy and pleasant work. The valuable prizes such as this paper is offering now are big inducements, but in order that everyone may have a chance the territory is divided into districts with separate prizes for each.

RULES AND CONDITIONS.

While it is not absolutely necessary before being voted for, a nomination blank which can be secured from The Guardian office or cut from this paper, should be sent in for each candidate. A candidate may be nominated by any one, provided such candidate be in good standing in their community. All questions as to eligibility will be finally determined by The Guardian.

Candidates must reside in one of the prescribed localities.

A ballot will be printed in The Guardian. Each coupon must be cast within seven days after it has been printed, and will be counted for the candidate whose name and district appears on it. All ballots must be neatly trimmed and include the border or they will be rejected as informal. These coupons will be good for the number of votes printed thereon.

Ballots must be sent direct to Contest Department of The Guardian office and postage must be fully prepaid or they will be rejected and not counted.

VOTES ISSUED ON SUBSCRIPTION

Paid in advance subscriptions are to be sent DIRECT to The Guardian office, and, on receipt of remittance, Special Ballots will be issued. The paper will be delivered by mail or carrier. See vote schedule and subscription rate.

Special Ballots are provided to carry with them additional voting value, according to amount paid and length of subscription.

Any protest as to eligibility of any candidates will not be considered if votes have been cast for said candidates for a period of twenty days or longer.

No employee or member of employee's family of The Guardian can participate in this contest.

Any question that may arise will be determined by The Guardian and its decision will be final and absolute

To secure Special Ballots all monies must reach the office Contest Department of The Guardian where all ballots will be issued.

ANSWER TO QUESTIONS.

Any one, anywhere, can vote for any candidate. If you have a friend you wish to vote for, who has not yet been nominated, send in your votes and fill out the nomination blank printed in The Guardian. This nomination blank counts 1,000 votes to start with.

CALL AND GET ACQUAINTED.

If you have friends in other cities write them a letter to show them the value of the prize you are working for. We have some printed letters you may use.

Call and get a supply. If you learn of any person who is not a reader of The Guardian, secure their subscription whether you know them or not.

There will be special announcements from time to time. Read the Guardian every day and watch for these announcements.

Ask your political friends to furnish ideas. They know how to organize, and organization means success.

Special receipt-books are furnished by the Contest Department of The Guardian.

Call on the contest manager and get acquainted.

CONTEST STARTS TODAY.

The big contest starts today and will end in eight weeks. The largest number of votes will be given on subscriptions at the beginning.
