The St. Dunstan's College Hockey team returned to Charlottetown, yesterday from Montague where they were defeated by that town's team by a score of 7-6. The boys speak in glowing terms of their trip and of the hospitality of the Montague people. The game was fairly fast and clean throughout. Following were the teams: St. Dunstan's—F. Butler, C. Allyn, A. Roi, J. Conroy, S. Sweeney, E. Duggan (Capt), S. Doyle, Montague—Annear, E. Parkman, McLeod, H. Poole, F. Campbell, T. Parkman, Collins, F. P. Walker and G. McIntyre handled the game satisfactorily. A return match will be played in Charlottetown next week.

M. W. Reardon, S. Doyle and J.P. Hood, Charlottetown, are registered at the King George Hotel, Sydney. The two former are on their way to New Waterford on business in connection with the estate of the late Andrew Doyle. The King George is managed by Wm. Mombourquette, assisted by D. McNab, formerly of the Victoria Hotel, Charlottetown. Mr. Mombourquette is remembered with pleasure by hundreds of Guardian readers while representing the Plant Line in this Province, and later as manager of the Queen Hotel, Charlottetown, and his departure to Nova Scotia was greatly regretted. A citizen of Sydney remarked recently that not even thanks are due Mr. McNab for his exceptional success as a hotel official, for he cannot be other than most courteous and obliging, as it is not natural for him to be otherwise. The King George is thus really a great house in addition to being a first class hotel, and the travelling public are not slow to appreciate the exceptional attention paid them in even the minutest details, as such is rare even in the slightest degree in other hotels, and this is not only true of the manager and his assistant, but also of the bell boys, waitresses and all the help in connection with the King George. So marked is it that one does not marvel at a score or more of Sydney's citizens dining and spending their leisure moments at the King George as "a happy family."

It is also not surprising that the people of this Province, who have occasion to visit Sydney either on business or pleasure, look forward with delight to spending all time possible at the King George, after learning of its comforts and luxuries and these at but a moderate charge to its patrons. HORSE NOTES.

George McDonald, Harmony, lost a valuable mare last Tuesday. REV. W. D. REID SPEAKS IN FAVOR OF CHURCH UNION.

The following has been sent The Guardian and is a clipping from a recent Calgary Daily Herald:—Rev. W. D. Reid, superintendent of home missions for the Presbyterian church in the province of Alberta, addressed a large congregation at the Hillhurst Presbyterian Church, last night, on the subject of church union, which is now interesting the Presbyterians, Methodists, and Congregationalists all over Canada. It was a very important question, the speaker said, and not one to be decided hastily. He did not think he was a rabid unionist, but he had considered the question carefully, and he was in favor of it. There were nine objections which had been advanced by those opposed to the union, and he would give them and then give his own reasons for the union. It had been stated by the opponents that federation would be better. The idea of federation was that each of great many members of both to live off by themselves, or join still other denominations, but he could not see that this would result. There might possibly be a few do this, but he was sure not intend to save in men and money would far overbalance this, in case it was so. The next was the basis. The basis of the union was merely a provisional one, and would be changed if not found an improvement. The men on both sides who were favoring union, did not intend to rush in hurriedly, but were determined to go in right when they did. He was of the opinion that the basis was better than our present one. "Take, for instance, the confession of faith. I do not want to say anything against the confession of faith. It is a wonderful one, but I think it could be improved on—to make it a little plainer. At present we are about the only church left that has only a bald confession of faith to subscribe to. I think the time has about come when God will ordain that a new expression of faith be introduced. Among his other reasons, the speaker said he thought we had outgrown the past and should not believe the present day conditions with regard to Church affairs. The composition of our Canadian life requires a new church. Every church bears the marks of the country, which it originated in. In Canada we are raising a new type of life, and we must have a church to fit that type. He quoted from the 17th chapter of the Gospel of St. John, and said that he believed as it said there that Christ's wish was that His church on earth should be one, as the Father, Son and Holy Ghost are in heaven. As the many fences fell between the denominations, he believed we would mingle and come closer to Christ and closer to each other, till we would finally merge into one great body. In Corinthians it said, "Keep outward unity. It was a pitiable exhibition of the Protestant church of the world today. When a Roman Catholic thought about the Protestant church, he would ask which is the best, you have so many. Father Chiquiqui had mentioned something like this in his book, and said that he hardly knew which one to turn to, as there were so many. "I think it is needless to waste so many men and so much money, when there are so many that it could be used to preach the light among in the foreign mission field. Both the Presbyterians and the Methodists had spent about $250,000 on home missions last year, and there were also about 150 men working in the fields of each, and I think that half of this sum and half the total number of men could be used for other purposes, if union came about. "Also I believe that we are practically the same people. The different doctrines are too hard to distinguish. Both are about the same, with really only the name and the history between." Rev. Mr. Reid closed by asking them all to find out all they could about the matter and to vote as their consciences dictated. He was of the opinion that the onus was with the Presbyterians, as the Congregationalists had already voted in favor of it, and the Methodists were voting now, and he was sure 85 per cent of the latter would vote in favor of it.
