—ILLUSTRATED TALK ON FOREIGN MISSIONS—On Wednesday night an illustrated talk was given on Foreign Missions in the Presbyterian Church Hall at Summerside by Rev. C. J. St. C. Jeans. The slides were taken from photographs obtained last year by a committee of the General Assembly which visited all the fields controlled by the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The pictures gave a very vivid idea of the work being done at the present time in India and in British Guiana, and were much appreciated by the audience. They brought home the difficulties and the hardships that face all missionaries in these far lands where climate and disease take so great a toll. But they also showed that their devoted labor is bearing abundant fruit.

..*MINISTER WILL REMAIN—The Congregation of the United Church at Montague are highly pleased that the Rev. John Sterling has withdrawn his resignation and decided to remain. His resignation tendered at the May meeting of Presbytery came as a shock to his devoted people and caused quite a stir in their midst. After some consideration the people called a meeting and resolutions were passed asking Mr. Stirling to reconsider his resignation. These resolutions bore a warm appreciation of his service rendered in the past and as well to his Christian character and gentle manliness and paid a high tribute also to Mrs. Sterling in her faithfulness and consistent efforts in every department of the church work. The congregation itself resolved to put forth a stronger effort. A committee was appointed to circulate a petition which was signed by many and presented to Mr. Sterling urging him so strongly to continue that the only way open to reconsider and continue the work that has progressed so well under his wise and faithful guidance.

Wonderful Cure In Lot Sixty Five

A GRATEFUL TRIBUTE FROM ONE WHO HAD SUFFERED MUCH

Last month we published an account of the remarkable recovery from rheumatism of an elderly lady, Mrs. Roderick MacDonald of Cardigan. The following tribute from another grateful user of the Farador, is in some resepcts even more remarkable than the former.

FAIRVIEW, Lot 65, P. E. I. June 27, 1929—Dear Sir,—Words fail to express my gratitude for what the Farador has done for me. For about a year and a half I was a helpless cripple from rheumatism and neuritis. I was unable to dress myself or to feed myself without assistance. No one who knew my condition ever expected to see me any better.

I began to use the Farador last November and it has done wonders for me. Gradually I began to improve. I am able to be around each day. I can dress myself and feed myself without help, and am able to do a considerable amount of work both within and outside of my home. I am in my 66th year.

I can certainly advise all sufferers to use Farador.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. J. A. MCFADYEN.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

At this time of the year, many parents are worried over the failure, or comparative failure of their child in his school examinations. It is quite natural for a parent to dssire to see his child excel. The parent looks upon school work as the basis of success in life, and is, therefore, more than interested in school success as seen in examination reports.

It is quite evident that children differ in their physical powers; this is so apparent that no one questions that it is so. Parents understand that their child is physically weaker or stronger than his playmate, and that even among their several children, their is considerable variation in this respect. Yet, these same parents, in many cases, refuse to consider that there is just as grea[torn] iation in the mental ca[torn] children as there is in th[torn] capacity.
