ALWAYS CONSULT THE PHONE DIRECTORY.

It is surprising the large number of people in Charlottetown who, when they want to inquire about their Morning Daily Guardian or subscription, ask Central for the News phone No. 132.3, instead of 132.2, or when they want to inquire about advertising ask Central for the Subscription phone No. 132-2, or for the News Phone No. 133, instead of 132-3; or when they want the News or Editorial Department ask Central for the Subscription phone No. 132-2, or the Advertising phone No. 132-3, instead of 133, although all those departments and their respective phone numbers are plainly given in the telephone book. Some people, instead of looking at the book, even phone one want will greatly lessen the work of other department. All this is a great waste of time on the part of the person phoning, the operator at the Central, and the clerk in the department wrongly phoned. The news staff, on an upper floor, cannot give the necessary information about either advertising or subscriptions, nor the advertising staff about subscriptions or news, nor the subscription staff about advertising or news. In other words the clerks know and can do but their own work in their own departments, and if it were otherwise they would be continually running from one department to another, upstairs and down, mixing work, wearing themselves out and causing the greatest possible confusion. On and after 6 p. m. daily it is useless to ask for any phone numbers except 132 and 133.

Patrons who consult their phone books for the numbers they really what number to ask for to get an- the patient Central telephone and Guardian clerks and thus help make their lives much brighter and happier.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARK BENNETT.

The death occurred in the Frost Hospital, East Boston, on September 13th, of Minnie Morrow Bennett, who was born in Greenwich, P.E.I., on June 30, 1867. She was a daughter of Theodore and Margaret Dingwell Morrow and the second oldest of four daughters, two of whom, Mrs. Nellie Coffin and Mrs. Annie Wells, are now living in East Boston. She was married to Mark Bennett in 1886 and they moved to East Boston in 1891. Three children were born to them, a daughter and two sons, William being married and living in Everett, and Roy having just graduated from the local High school. Mrs. Bennett was an active worker in the Maverick Church, which she joined some years ago. She was respectively President and Vice-President of the Women's Benevolent Association and the Lamson Class and was just elected deaconess of the church. She was also a member of the Order of Rebekahs. Her funeral on the following Monday was a most striking tribute to the supremacy of true character, as nearly four hundred people ceased their occupations to pay their respects to this true saint of modern day.

BATTERIES.

PENNA.—Plank, Flapp.

NEW YORK—Mathewson, McLean.

(Canadian Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Christy Mathewson, the master manipulator of baseball, led the New York Giants to victory at Shibe Park today when he shut out the Athletics in the tenth innings by a score of 3-0.

The hero of a decade of league and world championship plays, the famous veteran rose to the highest pinnacle of his diamond career when he put up an exhibition of all-round play which wrung volleys of applause from the Athletic supporters who had gathered to see their team repeat their feat of yesterday. For a trifle over two hours and twenty minutes the man whose requiem was sung by thousands of fans, after the battle with the Sox last fall, turned the hard-hitting Athletics back without a single break. Then, when he saw that his team mates could not wrest a victory from Plank he took his bat and drove in the run that won the game. Spurred on by his example the other Giants made two more runs and clinched the contest.

Mathewson was the master to the end, old ring Collins and Baker being unable to drive the ball outside the diamond in the tenth and final innings.

For nine innings the rival clubs battled without an advantage, the brilliant fielding and thrilling coups, shutting out runs when they seemed sure.

The Athletics had a chance to win in the ninth, but poor generalship from the bench and on the coaching lines threw away the only chance cast their way.

ATHLETICS.

Considerable interest in local athletic circles centres around the Church League meet that is to be held on Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Abegweit Amateur Athletic Association. A varied program of flat and cycle events has been arranged, provision being made for three classes of competitors, seniors, intermediates and juniors. There will be about twenty different competitions altogether, the majority being track events. Hundred yards and shorter dashes for the younger competitors, 220 yards and quarter mile runs, standing and broad jumps, putting the shot, pole vaults will comprise the track competitions, while the bicycle races consist of quarter, half mile and two mile events. Besides the giving of suitable prizes to the individual winners in the various events. The church whose representatives score the most points at the meet will be entitled to hold for a year the large pennant that is to be competed for; to be won outright it must be won by the same church three times consecutively. The meeting opens at two o'clock ly. The meeting opens at two o'clock. As is known, this Church League has been organized in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association.

GOLF

The first round of the Standard Cup handicap match which was to have been played last Saturday, but was postponed on account of rain, will be played at the links on Saturday next.

DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

At the A. A. A. A. grounds, yesterday afternoon, the final for the Men's Doubles Match in the P. E. I. Tennis Championship Tournament was played, and resulted in a keen and interesting contest. The opposing players were the challengers, Messrs. J. A. McMillan and F. Perkins, and the holders of the title, Messrs. H. E. Rice and L. B. McMillan. The play seesawed in very exciting fashion, and the championship for this year was only settled by the challengers taking the last game, 6-4. The details of the results are as follows: 3-6; 6-3; 3-6; 7-5; 6-4.

ALWAYS CONSULT THE PHONE DIRECTORY.

Almost every day The Guardian receives orders by mail to insert news matter of an advertising nature. In most of these cases the senders, who are frequently not known to any member of the staff and who have no account in the advertising department, write "Please insert the following and oblige," thus apparently implying that they think the items will be inserted free. Only a few weeks ago a reader wrote asking that his advertisement of Farm for Sale be inserted free from day to day until he cancelled it, as he is a subscriber to The Guardian. In this connection it may be said that the subscription price is not sufficient to even pay the actual cost of paper, ink, presswork, nailing, bookkeeping and other expenses of the Circulation department proper, and thus subscribers have no privileges of free advertisement and are on the same footing as non subscribers. Seldom ever does the sender state whether the item is to appear in the Morning Daily or in the Evening Daily, whether for one or more times in either Daily, or in both, whether as a display advertisement, announcement, business local, classified, ad or otherwise. When for church or charitable purposes they seldom ever say so, or do not enclose sufficient money to pay for same, all of which will be returned by first mail in the event of the item not be-ing chargeable, or if more money is sent than necessary to pay for the item the surplus will be returned at once, there being a greater discount for cash with order for advertising of churches etc than for regular business. In all such cases the Advertising department communicates with the sender as quickly as possible by mail or phone, often paying the messenger service to get them to the telephone if not too far distant, thus saving all possible time. People write this office to know if News, Letters to Editors, etc., are charged for, and to all such there is but one reply—all items, etc, of a money making nature, even though they be somewhat of a new nature, are chargeable. For instance, the advance notice or notices of a concert, lecture, pie social, picnic, etc, are chargeable if there is an admission fee, silver collection, sale of pies or sale of food or refreshments, etc. Advance notices of purely religious services, even though a silver collection is to be taken up, are not chargeable. The particulars of any of the above, after they have been held, are, however, news and thus not chargeable. The news of the past, present or future business, which is still being conducted, is chargeable, if it is apparent that the object is to make the business more widely known and thus increase it. Versus accompanying death notices are also chargeable. Even items which are actual news and not chargeable but once in either Morning Daily or Evening Daily or both are chargeable for more than one insertion, as they are thus not news

The above facts are given for the purpose of assisting persons who have items, etc., to mail to this office.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE SICK, SOUR STOMACH

MOVE ACIDS, GASES AND CLOGGED WASTE FROM LIVER AND BOWELS

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing.

A ROYAL WEDDING

The first draft of the program for the forthcoming marriage of the Duchess of Fife and Prince Arthur of Connaught has, it is understood, been approved by the King and the Princess Royal. Subject to later changes the course of events will be somewhat as follows:—

The ceremony will take place punctually at 12 in the Chapel Royal, St. James's, the clergy being the Archibishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London and Canon Edgar Sheppard. The two latter are respectively Dean and Sub-Dean of the Chapels Royal. Dr. W. Alcock, organist and composer to the King, who is responsible for the whole of the musical portion of the service, will play the organ.

The route of the processions from Buckingham Palace to St. James's Palace is by way of Constitution Hill, Piccadilly, and St. James's-street. This route will be lined by troops throughout, the Guards being especially strengthened by other units from Aldershot and elsewhere. It has been arranged that the whole of the Royal and distinguished foreign visitors who are to attend the wedding shall assemble in the Bow drawing-room of Buckingham Palace, where the King and Queen will hold an informal reception.

THE PROCESSIONS

The first procession, which will be the longest, will leave the palace about eleven o'clock, and will consist of such of the Royal guests and foreign representatives as are not taking any actual part in the ceremony. These will drive in semi-State landaus drawn by bay horses and escorted by Life Guards. Five minutes later the King and Queen will leave, His Majesty wearing the full dress uniform of a Field-Marshal with the Order of the Garter. They will have their Sovereign's escort of Life Guards in attendance, and will use their semi-State glass coach drawn by the well-known cream ponies.

Following Their Majesties, the bridegroom will leave the Palace in a State landau drawn by four black horses. Prince Arthur will wear his uniform as a captain in the Royal Scots Greys, and will have with him the Prince of Wales in naval uniform, and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, wearing the picturesque dress as Colonel-in-Chief of the Seaforth Highlanders. Each will likewise wear the ribbon and star of the Garter. The bridegroom will be escorted to St. James's Palace by his own company of Scots Greys. There will be a brief interval, and then the bridal procession will leave, also escorted by Scots Greys.

It was the first desire of the Princess Royal that her elder daughter should be married from Marlborough House, and not from Buckingham Palace. The King, however, pointed out that by so doing she would deprive the people of London of any opportunity to greet the fair young bride upon her wedding day, and her Royal Highness at once gave way in the matter. It is not yet decided whether the Princess Royal shall ride with her daughter in her carriage, or whether her Royal Highness shall have her uncle, the King of Norway, as her escort.

It is highly probable that this latter course will be adopted. In this case the Princess Royal will drive with Queen Alexandra and the Empress Marie of Russia in the following carriage, and the eight bridesmaids will come directly after. So far, only five of these has been selected, these being Prince Maud, sister of the bride; Princess Patricia of Connaught, sister of the bridegroom, Princess Mary, only daughter of the King and Queen; Princess Victoria of Teck; and Lady Mary Cecil, younger daughter of the Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury. The names of the remaining three will shortly be available for publication, and will probably comprise two more young Princesses and another daughter of a Peer.

IN THE CHAPEL ROYAL

The general company invited to the Chapel Royal at St. James's Palace will have to be seated here by 11.30 at the latest, as the Royal visitors will begin to enter ten minutes afterwards. So soon as the members of the first procession have taken their seats, the bridegroom and his supporters will pass up the aisle to the altar rails, where they will await the coming of the bride and her retinue. As soon as the bridal procession moves forward, the King and Queen, who will be resting in His Majesty's private closet close at hand will proceed to the chapel, entering punctually at twelve. The King will leave his seat for a brief moment in order formally to hand the bride to her husband an behalf of the Princess Royal.

It is not anticipated that the ceremony will last for more than three-quarters of an hour. Immediately upon its conclusion the King escorting the Duchess of Connaught and the Duke the Queen, with the other Royalties present, will proceed directly to a specially prepared apartment in order to witness the signing of the register.

HEALTH TO THE WEDDED PAIR

This formality at an end, the procession will once more be reformed and will pass direct to the Banqueting Hall, where a large general company will be awaiting them. In conformity with precedent there will only be one toast offered, that of "The Bride and Bridegroom," and this will be proposed by the Earl of Chesterfield, as Lord Steward of the King's Household, who will be in charge of this reception.

Almost immediately after the toast has been proposed the bride, attended by her bridesmaids, will formally cut the huge wedding cake. The bride will then retire to change her wedding dress for a travelling costume, in which she will reappear in the Banqueting Hall. She will subsequently be escorted to her carriage by the King.

In the evening there will be a dinner party at Buckingham Palace, at which the Royalties present at the wedding and a few specially selected guests will be present. The health of the Duchess of Connaught makes it difficult to say if she will take part in the ceremonies. It is probable that she will drive direct from Clarence House to St. Jame's Palace and will return to her town residence immediately afterwards.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

LONDON, Oct. 4, (Special)—A very lively scrimmage between the police and the militant suffragettes occurred yesterday when Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, financial secretary of the Women's Social and Political Union and Miss Harriet Roberts Kerr, the secretary, were rearrested at the headquarters of the militant organization in Kingsway under the provisions of the "cat and mouse act."

Mrs. Saunders is under sentence of fifteen months imprisonment and Miss Kerr twelve months for conspiracy. They were condemned at the London Assize Court on June 17 of this year, but were later liberated after a "hunger strike."

The two women had resumed their duties this morning for the first time since the historic raid on their offices on April 30. When the police arrived to arrest them the office staff rushed to their leaders' rescue and briskly assaulted the policemen. Four other women were arrested for obstructing the police in the execution of their duty.

The suffragettes were holding an "at home" in honor of the return of their leaders when the police raided the building and interrupted the demonstrations of welcome.

PARIS, Oct. 7, (Special)—The body of an Englishman which had been removed to the Morgue after his death from an overdose of ether has been identified as that of a young English baronet, Sir Frederick Williams. He was found unconscious in his apartments in the Boulevard Mont Martre, by a friend, who had him removed to a hospital, where he died.

Sir Frederick, about twenty-five years old, tall, fair and of distinguished appearance, rented his apartments six months ago, decorating them with costly draperies, rare plants and incense burners.

Neighbors say that he received a number of strange callers, most of them foreigners, whose errands were mysterious. Only one woman was ever seen to enter, she being a young dancer who had been engaged to teach him dancing.

LONDON, Oct. 4, (Special)—Yesterday brought up fresh tidings of Dr. Diesel, the German engine inventor. Dr. Diesel met death by drowning appears to be the accepted view of his fellow directors. At the annual meeting of the Consolidated Engine Manufacturers in London today the chairman said the conclusion was that Dr. Diesel must have fallen overboard and he spoke further of the loss which the world would suffer. It was mentioned that he did not take a prominent part in the management of the company but that he was always ready with advice when wanted.

An exhaustive review of all the circumstances by his friends who were intimate with Dr. Diesel for years leaves them still mystified regarding his fate.
