Central Guardian

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND—Rev. Ewen MacDougal, B. D. will preach in Kirk Glasgow Road, on Thursday 14th at 7.30 p. m. Special collection.

CONDITION VERY SERIOUS—Mr. Harold McDonald, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Friday, was still unconscious at a late hour last night. There was a slight change for the worse.

VISITED ISLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. MacLeod, 109 Charlotte street, after spending two weeks in their native province, Prince Edward Island, have returned home. They were accompanied by Mr. Frank Bell, student at the Prince of Wales College there. Mr. MacLeod's brother, Henry, and his wife, also returned from P. E. Island, and left on Saturday for their home in Foxbury, Mass.—St. John Telegraph Journal.

CHURCH ARMY SERVICES—On Sunday, August 17th, services will be conducted in Cherry Valley and Long Creek, Anglican Churches. Christ Church, Cherry Valley, 10.30, morning prayer and sermon. Subject, Life's Supreme Choice, Joshua 24, 15. St. Thomas' Church, Long Creek, 3.00, evening prayer and sermon. Subject, The Confidence of the Saved, Ps. 23, 1. A special address and hymn for children in both services. Come and bring your friends and your children and make these services alive with congregational worship and praise to Almighty God, Our Heavenly Father. Capt. F. M. Bell, Church Army.

TURNIP SHIPMENT INSPECTED—The first car-load of new turnips in the Province was inspected for shipment on Saturday, the shippers being Messrs. Clark Brothers. As an indication of the advance of the present season's crops, it is interesting to note that the date of the first car load inspected last year was August 27th. The shipment inspected on Saturday was nicely graded, ranging in size from 3/4 to 5 inches. The inspectors point out that it is essential that growers pay careful attention to grading and trimming of these turnips, as the ultimate consumer usually buys single specimens, and invariably gauges the quality by the appearance.

REPORTS SERIOUS DEPRESSION—Mr. Roy Holman who has been away for the last two weeks on a business trip, returned to the city last evening. In Hamilton, Ontario, Ohio, and other parts which he visited, Mr. Holman reports a general business depression; unemployment is rife and the stifling heat has continued so long, that in many parts the crops are pretty well burned out. The people of Prince Edward Island can hardly realize such conditions, so that it is no wonder that Mr. Holman is glad to be once more in "God's Country."

PAINFUL ACCIDENT—Mr. Earl Prowse, who has recently returned from Halifax, N. S., met with a very painful accident while staying at the Lord Nelson Hotel. Mr. Prowse in hurrying down the staircase, slipped in some manner, badly fracturing his right leg in two places. He was immediately removed to hospital where he was confined for several days. Earl's many friends will hear with regret of this unfortunate accident, which will perhaps force him out of next season's hockey. If such proves the case, the "iron man" of P. E. Island hockey will be sadly missed by fans and team-mates alike.

PERSONALS

Miss Ruth Toombs and Master Lawrence Toombs, City, are visiting at Augustine Cove.
Mass. and Miss Hazel Bennett of West Newton, Mass., are spending their vacations at their homes in Stanley Bridge.
Miss Helen Croken left Friday morning on return to Summerville, Mass., after visiting her sister, Mrs. Milton Cannon, City.

Reginald Denny In Great Comedy At The Capitol

"Good Morning, Judge," which opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday is a typical Reginald Denny vehicle made by Universal; it has rapid action, excellent comedy and a pleasing romantic angle. This time the star appears as a scion of wealth who can't pay his fine when brought before a judge, after participating as an innocent bystander in a fight. Someone has stolen his wallet. A beautiful mission worker who believes that hardened crooks can be reformed advances the sum. Denny falls in love with her, in order to become an inmate of her mission, confesses to a long list of crimes. Later he saves her from some of the criminals whom she thought she had reformed. She finally learns his real identity, but this doesn't halt their romance. "Good Morning, Judge," is the best picture the star has made. William A. Seiter, who has welded the megaphone on most of Denny's hits, directed it. Mary Nolan plays opposite Denny and Dorothy Gulliver, beautiful heroine of the "Collegians," has a prominent role. The hundreds of laughs are partly due to Ode Harlan. In the role of an unshaven bum whose specialty is crashing the gates at prize fights, Harlan demonstrates a superb skill at comedy. Denny, by himself, however, provided enough funny scenes for an ordinary picture. Others of the supporting cast were also outstanding. The company includes William Davidson, William Worthington, Bull Montana, Sailor Sharkey and Charles Coleman.

British Troops Repulse Afridis

PESHAWAR, India, Aug. 11.—British troops battled with Afridi tribesmen almost at the door of Peshawar on the northwest frontier of India today. The battle was still in progress as night fell. The Afridi guard had penetrated the extensive orchards near Peshawar, where they lay hidden during the day. A party of Poona Horse, a native Indian cavalry unit, patrolling the orchard rose past and the Afridis opened fire. Several troopers fell from their saddles at the first volley. The Afridi warriors moved rapidly towards the military supply depot as the Poona horsemen fell back. The supply depot is a stone's throw from the Peshawar railway station. British cavalry galloped to the scene and attacked the tribesmen. Six Indians in the Poona cavalry unit were reported shot by the Afridis. Two Afridi dead were left at the mobilization barracks when the tribesmen retreated after the fight. Three others were found dead at the base of the city wall. The Afridis sought to capture the headquarters of the British civil and military administration of the North-west Frontier province. It is one of the boldest exploits of these fierce tribesmen. The audacity of the attack has caused concern, some fearing the warriors may have more strength than they indicated. They have sought to gain allies among other tribesmen in the wild rocky districts. Peshawar is city of about 100,000 persons. It is a strong frontier outpost defended by about 15,000 British and native troops. An armored train and another brigade of troops were rushed to Lahore to the defence of the city. "What's your new brother's name?" "Little Jane. I don't know yet. We can't understand a word he says." Judge: "How big was the brick you threw? Was it as big as my head?" Prisoner: "Yes, your honor, but not so thick." Running into debt, isn't half as bad as running into one's creditors.

A HAPPY THOUGHT

Employers who wish to show recognition to their employees for good work done, are offered a happy thought in the special tickets which are gotten out by the Exhibition Association at $3.00 for the season. This gives entrance to grounds three times daily and to all the races. It is $6.00 value for $3.00. 5751-8-11-f

IN MEMORIAM

WELLINGTON FREDK. BURNS The death of Mr. Wellington Frederick Burns occurred Aug. 4, 1930, at 6.30 p. m. at his home, 177 Euston Street. Mr. Burns had been falling in health for over a year, but rallied from time to time and two weeks ago was taken more seriously ill. Mr. Burns was born at Sherbrooke, P. E. Island, a son of Abigail and Archibald Burns. For 29 years he has been a resident of Charlottetown. He was a faithful member of the Baptist Church and took a keen interest in all its activities. He was a most estimable Christian endowed with admirable qualities of mind and heart that made him a favorite with all who knew him. He was a pattern-maker in the employ of Messrs. Bruce Stewart & Co., for 27 years. He is survived by Lillian Mutch, daughter of Mr. C. Mutch and Elizabeth Bishop of Summerside, P. E. Island. Beside his sorrowing wife, there are left to mourn, three sons and two daughters, Athol, Warren, Arthur, Winnie and Pearl and a grandson Lemuel, all of this city, also one brother Stewart of Sherbrooke, P. E. I. The rest of his family predeceased him. The funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon August 6th at 2 p. m., at the residence. His pastor, Dr. A. C. Vincent, who visited him during his illness, officiated, and spoke most comforting words: "Set thine house in order for thou shalt die and not live." Mr. Burns was laid to rest in the Peoples' Cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. R. E. Mutch, Henry Callbeck, Daniel Morrison, Thomas Ranahan, E. D. Sterns and George Snelgrove. The floral tributes were many and beautiful included: Pillow—The Family. THIS TIME THE BEAR SAT ON THE GOLF BALL

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta. Aug. 11—Golf in the Canadian Rockies involves natural hazards for which provision is apparently lacking in the standard rules of St. Andrews. Two days ago Miss Evelyn Hay of Toronto had her game interrupted while three black bears wrestled for possession of her ball on the fairway of the Jasper Park Lodge course. They left it finally, deeply pitted with teeth marks, 15 feet nearer the green than it was at the end of her drive. She continued her game with a new ball. A. B. C. Proctor and W. Ross Gooderham, both of Toronto, were even at the finish of their 17th hole. The light was beginning to fade as Mr. Proctor drove down the last fair way towards the home green and the clubhouse, Mr. Gooderham followed. Out of the shadowy pine forest lining the course Mr. Proctor saw a black bear emerge, walk resolutely to his ball and sit calmly down upon it, as though this was the occasion for which he had waited all day. Mr. Proctor approached, waved his club and said, "woof-woof." Mr. Gooderham, close by on the edge of the course, made faces and a noise like a park warden with a rifle and a felonious intent. The four-footed intruder held his place and his peace, gazing with a mild eye upon pyramidal mountains where the last golden rays of the sun were caught. The game was called off. In the deep twilight the bear and the ball have vanished. The players, who had settled on this game to decide their golfing differences, do not know whether the game should go to Mr. Gooderham because Mr. Proctor failed to complete his hole, or whether the latter should have an opportunity to-morrow to make the play again with a new ball. The regulations of the Jasper Park Lodge course do not cover the contingency. Professional Lawyer—Well—if you want my honest opinion—Client—No, no—I want your professional advice—New Goblin Montreal.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Selling was resumed this morning as expected but the leading stocks held generally around their lows and a fair sized rally developed in the afternoon. There was no disposition however, to regard the market as anything but a day to day affair and important news developments were missing. No more light was thrown on actual extent of drought damage but here and there were opinions that damage might not be as serious as was feared last week. Call money renewed 2 1/4 p.c. and later went to 2 1/4 p.c. when banks called $30,000,000. Warren G. Harding was heavily sold but found aggressive support at 25. American Call and Steel Common were the leaders in the afternoon recovery. At no time during the day either during irregularly or during the rally did the market develop particularly aggressive tone. Total sales 1,341,990.

the vital necessity of industry Canada is fully aware of the new industries made possible by the large development of water power in the past few years. The pulp and paper industries have already given Canada the leadership. The metal industries will shortly do the same, men of vision forecast. Behind these industries comes the vital necessity to do both water power! With the development of 275,000 horsepower on the Abitibi River the Ontario Power Service Corporation will serve one of the wealthiest areas in Canada in natural resources. Luck and Progress

Continued from Page 4 one of them would light. An essential ingredient had, through a mistake on the part of the temporary superintendent, been left out of the mixture. This missing ingredient was before him, and quite idly he had soaked a piece of coarse paper with it. Absent-mindedly and aimlessly he rubbed one of the useless matches on the sheet. It struck. Again and again he tried it. This gave him the idea of taking strips of paper soaked in this ingredient and further reflection showed him that there was a safety match. Even in the cases cited, in which the element of chance played so important a part, it should be recognized that the actual discoveries were made by men with brains and a sense of values.
