IN MEMORIAM

BEULAH LOUISE HOWATT.

The sympathy of their many friends is extended to Mr and Mrs. T. M. Howatt of Coleman, who on Monday the 11th of November, had the misfortune to lose through illness their youngest daughter, Beulah Louise, at the early age of nineteen months. On Tuesday morning after a service conducted at their home by the Rev. Mr. Murray of O'Leary, the remains were taken by train to Summerside, and from there by hearse to the home of Mr. John Clarke, Cape Traverse, where, after services by the Rev. James McDougall, were concluded, they were laid to rest by the side of the brothers, who had been called before. Only six weeks ago, Mrs. Howatt's mother, Mrs. A. C. McKinnon, passed away so that within a very short time the family has been doubly bereaved.

J. EMMET DOYLE.

The funeral of J. Emmet Doyle who died at Swift Current General Hospital of pneumonia on Nov. 17th took place at Bradalbane on Tuesday the 25th inst. The remains were accompanied to his old home at Bradalbane by his brother-in-law, Mr. W. A. Cheverie. Mr. Doyle, although a comparatively young man, had endeared himself to a host of friends in the west during his connection with the Revelstoke Lumber Co., as manager of that company's office and yards at Neville, Sask., and the large concourse of friends and acquaintances that accompanied the remains to their last resting place at Kelly's Cross, showed plainly that he still retained the friendship of the community from which he had been absent for a number of years. The late J. E. Doyle was a young man of strong personality and sterling business ability and to his aged mother, sorrowing sisters and brothers is extended heartfelt sympathy. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Curran, the pall-bearers being: Bismarck Cousins, Norbert Murphy, Charles Todd, James Flood, Richard Elliott and James Bradley.
