A SONG OF SPRING

Soft southern breezes, sunshine warm, And starting green o'er hill and plain, Are vocal tokens to the soul That lovely spring is here again.

The robin's chirp, the peep of frogs, Sweet Mayflower blooms—such beautiful things

To eye and ear and sense proclaim Thy flowery advent, vernal spring.

Old earth through stern winter hours, Storm, wind and tempest long hath known, But from a southland, crowned with flowers,

Cometh a queen unto her own. She waves her wand and lo! a change—

All things in festival array, Responsive to her gentle call, "Rise up, my love, and come away."

Reign, queenly spring, thine is the right—

Fairest of all the circling year, Thy stately steppings soft and light, With grateful hearts, once more we hear.

Carols of joy from budding trees, Morning and eve like incense rise; All nature brings to nature's God A song of praise for sacrifice.

—Samuel Hill.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. WILLIAM GILLIS

On Saturday, February 20, 1932, Mrs. William Gillis passed to her eternal reward. Deceased who before her marriage was Mary MacInnis who was born at St. Peter's Bay a daughter of the late John MacInnis. She married the late John Gillis, who predeceased her some years ago. Although the deceased was a great sufferer from rheumatism yet end came stealing on, and those about her did not realize how frail was the thread on which her life was suspended. She was however fortified on her last journey by the rites of the Roman Catholic Church which she received with full consciousness. The late Mrs. Gillis was in her 78 year, and lived at Gillis Point for 54 years. She was of a kindly and cheerful disposition ever ready to lend a helping hand or word of cheer and her passing will be keenly felt in a wide circle of friends and relatives. She leaves one sister Miss Sarah of Brookline, Mass., a sister in law of the Rev. R. J. Gillis and aunt of William Gillis, Charlottetown, who was so kind during her illness, a nephew John MacInnis, St. Peter's, who nursed and cared for her during her long illness. The funeral took place from her home Monday morning to St. Andrews Church where a Mass of Requiem was celebrated by her pastor Rev. A. P. MacLellan who also officiated at the grave. The large number that followed the remains to its last resting place together with many Mass cards received, were proof of the high esteem in which she was held. Requiescat in pace.

At the home of Mrs. A. P. Prowse, May 10th, a large number of friends from Murray Harbor and community gathered to spend a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Prowse and family, who are leaving Murray Harbor to take up their work in New Brunswick. The evening was spent in friendly chat, games, vocal and piano music. The United Church of Murray Harbor and vicinity, of which Mr. and Mrs. Prowse and family are members and adherents, was represented in its different departments, and offered to Mr. and Mrs. Prowse a gift in the form of a purse of money. The gift was received and acknowledged in a very friendly and sincere manner, by Mr. Prowse. A like gift, from the Young People's Society, was accepted by Miss Audrey, (eldest daughter of the family). From the W. M. S. Mrs. Prowse was presented with a Life Membership Certificate; address read by Mrs. H. G. Brehaut. The farewell address was read by Mr. Lebert Machon; the address, written by the Rev. T. R. Goudge, was full of cheer, hope and expressed sincere friendship. It was a shining jewel, and will be treasured by Mr. Prowse and family. Substantial refreshments were served. The evening was typical of friendly sociability and good will.

At the close of the weekly business period of King George Division of the Sons of Temperance, a splendid programme of entertainment was enjoyed by a good attendance of members. A temperance recitation by Mrs. H. L. MacLellan, which was very appropriate after the debate just held between King George and Oliver Divisions. Referring to the poem read, the mother of a drunken son could not decide whether she or her friend, who had lost her only son in the war, would, or would not, change places in life. Reading, by Mrs. Margaret White; duet, with ukulele accompaniment, by the Rev. T. R. and Mrs. Goudge, (encore), and another very pleasing duet; a humorous reading, by Mr. A. R. MacLellan, (encore), and another humorous reading; instrumental music by Siren Chapman and W. Herring, (encore); a solo with organ accompaniment, by Mrs. J. J. McKay; a very humorous reading, by Mr. Ross White; a little speech, by Mr. E. J. Lumsden. Mr. Goudge, for the benefit of members who were not able to be present at debate in Murray Harbor, gave the decision as given by judges of debate, the subject of which was: "Resolved that the drinking of alcoholic liquors is a greater evil than war." Judges decision (there were 3 judges) two for the affirmative, and one for the negative side, which was Murray Harbor. Another little chat from Mr. Lumsden, and the Division closed in due order. M.

SONNET

When time shall trace its furrows on your brow, And threads of silver mingle in your hair, Your youth and beauty that men gaze on now Will be a faded rose that few would care. Then looking back you'll sadly muse and say, How futile are the things in which we trust; The forms we cherish most soon fade away And mingle with all other things in dust. Grieve not for that which youth and beauty give, For only age can teach us how to live. To dimming eyes the future will unfold New types of beauty—only age can know, A wealth of knowledge never youth's to hold, A treasure-house of memories long ago. F. H. MacArthur Lorne Valley.
