

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(BY "TEC")

"THE BREAK-AWAY"

The new C. A. H. A. hockey rules published recently in the Guardian are causing more or less favourable comment throughout the city and Province as a whole.

Colonel D. A. MacKinnon, one of Prince Edward Island's foremost sport enthusiasts interviewed by the writer last evening states that if it is not surprising that these new rules have been adopted, and is of the opinion that the people would not stand for a continuation of the "Kelly bar the door" or purely defensive hockey which has been the rule in Canadian amateur hockey the past season.

I endeavored to have this matter taken up at the meeting at Moncton some time ago, added the Colonel, and my advice was, "break away from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and conduct hockey in the Maritimes under the aegis of its own Maritime Association."

A suitable trophy to be known as the Maritime Hockey Championship Trophy should be purchased and put up for annual competition by the M. A. H. A. with miniature to be presented to the players of the championship team.

The above seems to be the consensus of opinion in Nova Scotia where this matter was taken up, the full report of which appears elsewhere in these columns.

Leafs Favored

Toronto is favored to win over Rangers on account of the home ice angle. They will play three games at home in case the series goes to five games.

"A Dead Ringer"

The Montreal Star says: "Jackie Kane, who almost signed with Toronto Maple Leafs, was on hand from Charlottetown where he played with Abegweit. He is a dead ringer for his brother Kenny of the Sea Fleas. Jackie used to play here with C. P. R."

NOTE—The particular game mentioned above was the Nationals-Fort William game at Montreal, when the Sea Fleas won the championship of Canada. "Jackie" was heard in Charlottetown that evening broadcasting the word to Hal Gross, "that he was coming back to the Island."

The Big Parade

The "Big Parade" will again be held this year. In case the average reader is not familiar with the cognomen, it might be mentioned that the "Big Parade" is a procession of thoroughbreds—the word is used advisedly, because the best on hoof, or on wheels will strut their stuff sometime during the latter part of the month in one gigantic procession. More later!

In the report of the Heart-Breaker-Hunter River game played in the Forum Wednesday night which appeared yesterday morning in these columns, it stated that McMillan landed the only Hunter River goal unassisted. This should have read A. E. Wedlock and not McMillan.

Forum Closing

The Charlottetown Forum will draw the 1931-32 curtain this evening in a farewell skate and hockey game.

West Kent School and Summerside High School will decide the interscholastic championship of Prince Edward Island in a sudden death game, followed by one hour and a half skate, with band afterwards.

Speaking about the band, the Canadian Legion, it may be mentioned that tonight's program is a benefit for the bandsmen, and it is expected as a consequence, that a full house will show ample appreciation of the services given by these musicians during the past season.

Leafs Again Humble Rangers

(Canadian Press)

BOSTON, Mass., April 7.—Toronto Maple Leafs hung up their second successive victory in the Stanley Cup series here tonight, trouncing the New York Rangers by a six to two score. The Leafs win was a smart and clean cut one. Spotting the league champions two goals the Toronto "kid" forward line went into action with the able assistance of King Clancy and rained in six goals in a row. The promised desperate stand of the Rangers was a disappointment to 13,000 fans who got their chance to see a Stanley Cup game when the New Yorkers were forced to vacate their home garden. The fans at first sympathetic to the Rangers cause were treated to a revelation in the play of the Leafs and acclaimed their brilliant triumph.

FOUR CLUBS HOLD ON TO FRANCHISES

Prospects Not Bright For Eastern Hockey League Next Year.

TRURO, April 7.—From the tone of the meeting of the Eastern League here today it would appear that Nova Scotia's premier hockey circuit would not be in operation in the winter of 1932-33. The meeting here this morning adjourned to some date in the early autumn to be decided later. No new officers were installed, and N. W. Mason and Secretary W. M. Hamilton will carry on until such time as definite action is decided upon.

Retain Franchises

At today's gathering Truro, New Glasgow and Kentville representatives were of the opinion that the League as formed at present could not carry on without extensive losses through another winter. The Halifax representatives were in favor of its continuation. All were agreed that all clubs concerned should hold their franchises in the circuit even should the various clubs operate in different leagues next winter.

Two unsuccessful seasons coupled with the inability of the smaller towns with their natural ice rinks to compete with the artificial plants that are springing up in the Maritimes seem to be the main cause for the temporary suspension.

No Intimation

No intimations were given at the meeting as to where the four clubs would find competition next season, but it seems clear that all four would operate teams next winter. The hopes were expressed that next season's team would be the foundations of heavy calibre teams that are to carry their respective club colors in the years to come.

The regulations of the C. A. H. A. came in for much criticism and it seems probable that a strong move will be made in the Maritimes, or in Nova Scotia anyway, to have the M. A. H. A. break with the Canadian body, and form their own organization similar to that of former years. The C. A. H. A. rules, it was declared, are ones that are favorable to the teams of Upper Canada, and work a hardship on the teams of Eastern Canada. The Allan Cup was viewed as a will-o'-wisp that is being unsuccessfully and expensively pursued by Eastern clubs.

Chief Objection

The regulation that seems to be the most unfairly enforced, and which works the greatest hardship on Maritime teams, is the residence clause. All delegates favor the return to Nov. 15 as the last date at which a player may take up his residence in the town of his choice.

Those present at the meeting today were, N. W. Mason, President, and W. M. Hamilton, Secretary-Treasurer, New Glasgow; C. D. Armstrong, Truro; Harry Butler and J. H. Conn, Halifax; and C. M. Dodge, Kentville.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

CARTWRIGHT, Man., April 7.—(By The Canadian Press)—"Achievement Day," the climax to the winter's study in the seven groups home management under Miss Margaret Calder, of the extension service Department of Agriculture, featured an attractive kitchen corner with a prettily arranged window and breakfast table. Near the table was located a rest corner with women at embroidery. A well-constructed tea wagon, costing $3.25 along with a chest of drawers, medicine cabinet, pen holder and knife rack, was the exhibit, of kitchen cooking equipment. Two miniature kitchens, complete in every detail, were an exhibit by group one, of Cartwright.

"Maritimes Need People Of Iron Makeup" - Coady

ADDRESSES CO-OPERATIVE COUNCIL AT AMHERST MEETINGS, CLOSING TODAY.

AMHERST, N. S., April 6.—"If there is one thing needed in the Maritime Provinces today it is more people—people with iron in their makeup, which will enable them to come through successfully under present conditions," stated Dr. M. M. Coady, chairman of extension work of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish in addressing a meeting here today of the Maritime Co-operative Council.

The driving force which would help in the growth of these provinces is this same co-operative impulse, which would give to the people more initiative and further their own improvement," declared Dr. Coady.

F. W. Bishop, president of the United Fruit Company, was chairman. Representatives were in attendance from co-operative organizations in all parts of the Maritimes.

Mr. Bishop commented on the start of the council two years ago, and growth and closer unity resulting. Professor A. B. McDonald, St. Francis Xavier, in his secretarial report, gave a statistical record of development as well as field work.

Sketches Growth

Dr. Coady sketched the growth of the co-operative movement and applied it to the problems of the producer and consumer in the Maritimes. He urged the necessity of speeding up the ability of the people, enabling them to supply a larger share of the world's demands.

Howard MacKichen, Cleveland, N. S., and W. R. MacLellan Canadian Livestock, (Maritimes) Ltd., led the discussion on the address. They referred to the individualistic tendency of the average farmer, but claimed the confidence of the people throughout the country was behind co-operative work.

H. S. Arkell, general secretary of Canadian Livestock Co-operative, Montreal, said there was need of the producers and consumers joining together to carry on successfully. He referred to the high cost of distribution, and said this could be cut by closer relation between production and consumption points.

Stanley Wilson, Rollingdam, N.B., and A. D. McKay, Pictou, N.S., commented on the importance of the work of individuals in co-operative organizations.

operatives, said contracts were essential in producers' co-operatives, to ensure a continuous supply of products. He said co-operative organizations should stand on their own feet and not depend on governments for assistance.

A. R. Jones, Maritime Co-operative Egg and Poultry Exchange, Saint John, said farmers as a general rule took a more active interest in the co-operative.

Dr. J. J. Tompkins, Canso, N. S., dealt with the advantages of credit unions from a community standpoint.

Dr. W. V. Longley, Truro, N. S., declared co-operative education to be essential to the success of co-operative organizations. He laid particular stress on boys' and girls' work, and urged the necessity of community clubs in rural districts, which could serve also as marketing organizations.

J. W. Graham, Moncton, and William Kerr, poultry promoter, Moncton, took up additional phases of this topic.

Speaking on methods of getting close to the consumer, F. W. Walsh, superintendent of agriculture for the Canadian National Railways, outlined possibilities of forming consumers' and producers' co-operatives, and have the two organizations working together with the purpose of eliminating extra handling and distribution costs.

W. R. Shaw, Charlottetown; J. E. Leightner, Charlottetown, and R. M. Elliott, Moncton, spoke on this question at the evening session.
