Stock Market Prices On Downtrend Yesterday

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The stock market closed slightly lower today after attempts at a rally failed to develop real punch. Prices were marked down after the opening bell but lower tendencies were blocked almost immediately. A timid advance for the balance of the session trimmed many of the morning declines and lifted some issues to the plus side.

Volume of 1,140,000 shares topped the 1,000,000-share mark for the 10th full day of trading in a row and compared with 1,180,000 Monday.

Traders kept an eye out for particular stocks that looked good to the usual market leaders. As a result many favorites ended a trifle lower.

The possibility of a December rally remained as a dominating factor in market strategy. The belief is widespread, however, that the rally probably won't get under way until late in the month and consequently many traders were inclined to sit back and take it easy for a while.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Dec. 7.—(CP)—All grains showed an easier tone as selling came into the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today in response to declines on the Chicago market.

Oats and barley moved downward on elevator selling. Modest buying came in the recessions but prices closed lower, with oats 2 1-2 to 1 1-8 cents lower and barley two cents to 3-4 cent lower.

Declines at Chicago also prompted commission house selling in rye here and prices closed 2 3-8 to 2 1-8 cents lower. Flax trade was dull, with mixed elevator operations.

The United Kingdom was allocated a modest quantity of Canadian wheat, less than 100,000 bushels, under the Canadian wheat agreement.

Class two wheat prices were reduced one cent from Monday.
