

TEETH!

FILLING AND CROWNING MADE ABSOLUTELY PAINLESS.

While improvements have been going on in science generally dentistry has not been standing still. The "Berlin System" is based upon the knowledge that the conditions of dental sensibility are numerous requiring a wide range of remedies. The "Berlin System" of painless dentistry embraces every method known to the profession at large, and some that are not generally known. It succeeds because it takes each of the various sensitive conditions into account.

DENTAL SPECIALIZATION

This is the age of specialists, and in no profession is specialization more important than in dentistry. Time was when one could acquire a knowledge of dentistry in a short time, but in the last few years the profession has grown by leaps and bounds, until now it is beyond the attainment of any one man. It is best practiced by the co-operation of several men, each devoting his time to a special branch. In our offices each man devotes his time to a special branch. We divide the work into parts and have specialists for each part.

NARCOTILE

For painless dentistry is a grand success. If you have tooth troubles we will be glad to talk with you face to face.

Dr. Maloney and Kennedy Dental Specialists
Berlin Dental Parlors

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

Mackinnon & Williams

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc.
D. A. MACKINNON, LL. B., E. C.
E. BAYFIELD WILLIAMS.
Office—Cameron Block, Charlottetown Money to loan on Real Estate

LONDON AND LANCASHIRE

LIFE ASSURANCE Co.
T. J. HARRIS.
AGENT.
OFFICE—Deansbury Block.
4-2-6

Paterson Downing Co'y

Commission Merchants.
St. John's, Newfoundland, consignments of P. E. Island produce SOLICITED
4 & W 177.

CROSBIE & CO.

St. John's, Newfoundland,
Importers and Commission Merchants.
Provisions, Cattle and Produce.
Wholesale and Retail.
Waterside premises, opposite F. Conner, Coffinmaker.
Cable address, Crossmore P. O. Box 264
C-2-177.

SMALLWOOD, C. B. Barrister and Attorney at Law, Notary Public, etc. Office: Cameron Block, lately occupied by F. L. Hazard, 10 C North Side Queen Square. Money to loan.

A. A. McLean, E. C. Donald McLean
McLEAN & McLENNON,
Barristers, Attorneys-at-law, Barrington's Block, Charlottetown.
1-1-177.

Dr. AYERS,

DENTIST

Office, Sunnyside, New Prowse Block, Opposite Post Office. Phone 210.

GEO. S. INMAN,

Barrister, Solicitor, Notary, etc.
Money to loan. Collections made.
Office, Montague, P. R. I.

E. RILEY & CO.

ST. JOHN, N. B.
Flour and Cornmeal Mills
DAILY CAPACITY 150 Bushels Flour 500 Bushels Cornmeal.
Are open to buy at any time, all the good willing wheat offered. Correspondence solicited.
4-2-177.

J. B. PATON, Ch'town

Agency Director for P. E. I.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

OF NEW YORK.
District and Local Agents Wanted.
Sept 13 d.w. 177.

ARTHUR J. B. MELLISH, A. B.

(HARVARD.)
BARRISTER AND ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Ct. Queen and Richmond Sts., Ch'town.
Telephone Connections.

WEEKS & WHELAN, Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, etc.—Overseas Bank of Nova Scotia Building, Charlottetown.
Money to loan.
4-2-177.

MENEELY BELL COMPANY,

22, 24 & 26 RIVER ST., 177 BROADWAY, TROY, N. Y.
Manufacture Superior
CERAMIC CHIMNEYS
BELLS

Deranged Nerves

Weak Spells.

Mr. R. H. Sampson's, Sydney, N. S., Advice to all Sufferers from Nerve Trouble is

"GET A BOX OF MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS."

He says: "I have been ailing for about a year from deranged nerves, and very often weak spells would come over me and be so bad that I sometimes thought I would be unable to survive them. I have been treated by doctors and have taken numerous preparations but none of them helped me in the least. I finally got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before taking them I did not feel able to do any work, but now I can work as well as ever, thanks to one box of your pills. They have made a new man of me, and my advice to any person troubled as I was, is to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or
THE T. MILBURN CO., Limited,
TORONTO, ONT.

A Doctor in the House!

STANTON'S PAIN RELIEF

Will prove a faithful, honest and trustworthy FAMILY PHYSICIAN.
Sickness comes when you least expect it. In cases of emergency call upon STANTON, and you will get Instant Relief (Internal and External).

For Colic, Diarrhoea, Chills, Rheumatism, Sprains, Neuralgia, Toothache, Cramps, Sore Throat, &c., &c., it never fails.

For sale everywhere. Price 25 cts per bottle.
MOGAL'S RUTHERFORD PILLS FOR YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS.
For sale everywhere, 25 cts per box, or by mail on receipt of price.

Sole proprietors, THE WINDYBANK PHARMACEUTICAL CO. Limited, Montreal, Canada.

FINE STOCK OF RINGS

on hand. We are makers of wedding rings and know how to make the gold hard so that it will last. Any special heavy ring made to order same day and with your own gold if desired.

E. W. TAYLOR

Cameron Block.

Wasted Opportunity

That's the way to speak of the man who is in the grip of consumption, and fails to use

PARK'S PERFECT EMULSION.

He is wasting the opportunity to get well, for Park's Emulsion will cure him.
Write for a bottle. Large bottle 30c

We have in stock at the present time a number of second hand Empires in first class condition.

Write for particulars.
Clark & Taylor,

35 Prince William St. St. John, N. B.
Maritime Agents Smith Premier

J. S. Lowther, D.D.S., A. W. Leard, D.D.S.
LOWTHER & LEARD,
DENTISTS,
SUMMERSIDE BLDG.

NATURE'S VOTARIES.

Wherein John Burroughs Differs From Ernest Thompson-Seton in Writing of Animals and Birds.

A schism or deflection in any class or cult is generally the first sign of strength, and the criticism of Ernest Thompson-Seton by John Burroughs is a sure and certain proof that nature's votaries are increasing in numbers.
When trees were only to be cut down, wild flowers to be uprooted or burned off, and the wild life of the forest to be killed off or driven away, such men would have been too glad of each other's existence to find even a difference of mental attitude.
The recently the man who found companionship in the ways of the "lower orders" or friendly greetings in the unfolding leaves was known in his community or regarded with a kindly tolerance. Kindred spirits were so few and rare that he would never think of dwelling on differences, says The Globe. But the riches which surrounded us in such abundance have been rapidly receding, and with their threatened disappearance has come a sudden realization of their priceless charms. It would be unpardonable to profane a communion with nature by calling it
"popular," but the pilgrims to the few remaining shrines are increasing in numbers. This is disturbing to those long reconciled to their loneliness, while the voices through which nature is speaking to the multitude are heard in criticism.

In the Atlantic Monthly Mr. Burroughs disapproves of Mr. Thompson-Seton's revelations. The author of
"Wild Animals I Have Known,"
has been decidedly personal and has mentioned names. Mr. Burroughs thinks the picture false, and suggests that the title should be "Wild Animals I Alone Have Known." Mr.
Thompson-Seton has brought us nearer to the animal world by singling out specimens—perhaps from his standpoint they might better be called individuals—weaving the incidents which came under his observation, in his close and careful study of nature, into their life histories, and embellishing the stories with a human-like analysis of their thoughts and emotions. It is easy to regard the stories as true or false, according to the point of view. Mr.
Thompson-Seton's careful observation and fidelity to what he has seen and heard cannot be questioned.
But all who like controversy will find material in his profuse analysis of the impulses of his friends of the woods. The familiar but always welcome call of the song sparrow is now heard throughout the land.
What does it mean? One writer may express its meaning in all the fervid and profuse language that a novelist puts into the mouth of his hero when declaring his love to the hesitating, trembling heroine. Whose questions that revelation must remember that he is measuring and circumscribing thought and feeling by language. Mr. Burroughs would designate the familiar notes a love call; interpret them on the musical staff, tell of their modulations in his own enticing way, and of their inspiring power in the bright sunshine of early spring. Mr. Thompson-Seton would tell of speckbreast on the oak limb, and would breathe in language full of human passion the love story he told to Brownie on the willow over the stream. Both ways are true, and he is he who would limit the possibilities of emotion even in the song-sparrow.

THE OLD FAMILY CIRCLE.

Modern Distribution of the Various Members of an Ordinary Family.
Where is the home life that used to be? Where is the dad who sits in the circle and reads the paper to the family, and who is ready to discuss the style in hats or the price of corn in Egypt? He is a rare bird.
Where is the daughter Mary, who once was one of this family circle in the days of the used-to-be? Oh, Mary is upstairs getting ready to go to the opera. Her beau will be along in a minute.
Where is Tom, who used to be one of this happy circle that sat in the old-fashioned room before the wide-mouthed grate? Tom belongs to the Always Up and At 'Em Society, and is going out to-night to debate on the question, "Is It Right to Get Rich Quickly?"
And Jim?
Well, Jim, you see, is the wonderful master of the Ready to Aid Fraternal Association, and this is lodge night.
Then where is Bill?
Why, Bill is chief lamp-post holder of "The Stand On the Corner, Spit and Remark Club." This club meets nightly, and Bill is decorating the sidewalk.
But ma?
Oh, yes, mother is chief needle-keeper in "The Matrons Sew for the Shirtless Association," and ma is out at a meeting of the sewers.
But that rip in Bill's trousers?
Hish! never a word.
Then what about Pa?
Well, dad is a true, faithful, and consistent member of two bodies,
"The Sit Up With the Sick Friend Society" and the "I Must Go Out to See a Man Club."
So the key is left under the mat, and the cat minds house listening to the ticking of the clock and keeping his eye peeled on the rat-hole by the sink.
Oh! for the days of the good old home life, when fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, enjoyed the delights of the family circle; when the chairs were drawn about and the old man romped with the kids and made a monkey of himself for their sake.
Say, dad, do you ever play with the youngster now, or do you go home from work, light your pipe, grab a paper, and draw yourself into your shell, or do you hike upstairs, take a wash, put on a clean collar, and scoot?
Do you know your child, or do you push him away when he comes up and pulls your paper? Do you growl when he asks you: "Say, pa, what did the teacher mean when she said the earth moved? It ain't moving now."
Get up and have a romp, and answer the kid. You would answer a stranger on the street. Unbend.
Kings have done it. Don't mind if you bag your trousers, there are tailor's irons. Let them muss your collars and rumple your hair: there are laundries and brushes and combs and mirrors.
And then, when the years draw down and your footsteps are faltering near the brink, when the light is dim and the road uncertain, do not be surprised if your arm is held and your feet are guided by some son, some daughter you loved and romped with. Romping beats whipping.
"Yes, but don't I buy clothes and feed them?"
Yes, that is true. The farmer also feeds his pigs, blankets his horses.
But you can't purchase a pound of fellowship or two pounds of love and romp at a store and send it home.
You carry that, my friend, beneath your vest.—Charles F. Raymond, in Toronto Star.

THE OLD FAMILY CIRCLE.

Modern Distribution of the Various Members of an Ordinary Family.
Where is the home life that used to be? Where is the dad who sits
in the circle and reads the paper to the family, and who is ready to discuss the style in hats or the price of corn in Egypt? He is a rare bird.
Where is the daughter Mary, who
once was one of this family circle in the days of the used-to-be? Oh, Mary
is upstairs getting ready to go to
the opera. Her beau will be along
in a minute.
Where is Tom, who used to be one
of this happy circle that sat in the
old-fashioned room before the wide-
mouthed grate? Tom belongs to the Always Up and At 'Em Society, and
is going out to-night to debate on
the question, "Is It Right to Get Rich Quickly?"
And Jim?
Well, Jim, you see, is the wonderful master of the Ready to Aid Fraternal Association, and this is lodge
night.
Then where is Bill?
Why, Bill is chief lamp-post holder
of "The Stand On the Corner, Spit
and Remark Club." This club meets nightly, and Bill is decorating the sidewalk.
But ma?
Oh, yes, mother is chief needle-
keeper in "The Matrons Sew for the Shirtless Association," and ma is
out at a meeting of the sewers.
But that rip in Bill's trousers?
Hish! never a word.
Then what about Pa?
Well, dad is a true, faithful, and
consistent member of two bodies,
"The Sit Up With the Sick Friend
Society" and the "I Must Go Out
to See a Man Club."
So the key is left under the mat,
and the cat minds house listening to
the ticking of the clock and keeping
his eye peeled on the rat-hole by the
sink.
Oh! for the days of the good old
home life, when fathers and mothers,
sisters and brothers, enjoyed the de-
lights of the family circle; when the
chairs were drawn about and the old
man romped with the kids and made
a monkey of himself for their sake.
Say, dad, do you ever play with
the youngster now, or do you go
home from work, light your pipe,
grab a paper, and draw yourself in-
to your shell, or do you hike upstairs, take a wash, put on a clean
collar, and scoot?
Do you know your child, or do you
push him away when he comes up
and pulls your paper? Do you growl
when he asks you: "Say, pa, what
did the teacher mean when she said
the earth moved? It ain't moving
now."
Get up and have a romp, and answer the kid. You would answer a stranger on the street. Unbend.
Kings have done it. Don't mind if you bag your trousers, there are
tailor's irons. Let them muss your
collars and rumple your hair: there
are laundries and brushes and combs
and mirrors.
And then, when the years draw
down and your footsteps are falter-
ing near the brink, when the light is
dim and the road uncertain, do not
be surprised if your arm is held and
your feet are guided by some son,
some daughter you loved and romped
with. Romping beats whipping.
"Yes, but don't I buy clothes and
feed them?"
Yes, that is true. The farmer also
feeds his pigs, blankets his horses.
But you can't purchase a pound of
fellowship or two pounds of love and
romp at a store and send it home.
You carry that, my friend, beneath
your vest.—Charles F. Raymond, in Toronto Star.

THE FIRST ROBINS.

Ornithologists explain that the first robins are all male birds, and they act the part. They do not upon their arrival come down into the shrubbery and carol sweetly to the weary passer-by; instead they seek the upper branches of the elms, sweat at each other, hurl down imprecations upon pedestrians, and relieve the monotony by an occasional fight.
And, truth to tell, the robin has has a good deal to make him bat-tempered, says H.D.C. in The Star.
To begin with, he is always too soon, and invariably provokes a snowstorm that leaves him no where to plant his feet, besides rendering him hard-up for victuals. If he goes swooping around the old home he finds last year's nest in a shocking state of disrepair. The rain always gets in and floods the house.
Besides he has his wife to think about. She stayed behind down south for a week or so because her new traveling dress hadn't come home from the dress-maker's, and how does he know that she'll get through safely? Women are such careless creatures and so unreliable when they're traveling, and the thought of "baching it" all summer in case she doesn't get through drives paterfamilias robin wild. These things are merely stated in order that the reader will be induced to be tolerant with the early robins.

Old Canadian Maps Located.

The archives of the Chateau de Ramezay have been ransacked to provide material to prove the Canadian contention in the Alaskan boundary dispute. Mr. Joseph Pope, Under-Secretary of State, had a careful search made through the large collection of documents, amassed by the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, with the result that Mr. Thomas O'Leary, of the Chateau, discovered a couple of Atlases, published in the years 1823 and 1824, which give boundaries of Alaska when that territory was in possession of Russia.
Mr. Pope obtained permission from the museum people to take these documents to Ottawa, where the maps will be photographed. They may be of service to the Canadian commissioners in the coming conference with the United States.
Later on Mr. O'Leary found another Atlas, printed in 1860, seven years before the territory passed into the hands of the United States.
This will be forwarded to Mr. Pope in London.

How He Fooled Them.

Ireland's Vice-Chancellor, the Rt.
Hon. Hedges Eyre Chatterton, aged 83, has just got married. He has held his office since 1867, and appears in a new vig every time it is reported that he means to retire on the ground of old age.

England has 120 artesian wells of over 100 feet deep.

NATURE'S VOTARIES.

Wherein John Burroughs Differs From
Ernest Thompson-Seton in Writing
of Animals and Birds.

A schism or deflection in any class
or cult is generally the first sign of
strength, and the criticism of Ernest
Thompson-Seton by John Burroughs
is a sure and certain proof that nature's
votaries are increasing in numbers.
When trees were only to be
cut down, wild flowers to be uprooted
or burned off, and the wild life
of the forest to be killed off or driven
away, such men would have been
too glad of each other's existence to
find even a difference of mental attitude.
The recently the man who
found companionship in the ways of
the "lower orders" or friendly greetings in the unfolding leaves was
known in his community or regarded
with a kindly tolerance. Kindred
spirits were so few and rare that he
would never think of dwelling on differences,
says The Globe. But the
riches which surrounded us in such
abundance have been rapidly receding,
and with their threatened disappearance
has come a sudden realization
of their priceless charms. It would be unpardonable to profane a
communion with nature by calling it
"popular," but the pilgrims to the
few remaining shrines are increasing
in numbers. This is disturbing to those long reconciled to their loneliness,
while the voices through which
nature is speaking to the multitude
are heard in criticism.

In the Atlantic Monthly Mr. Burroughs
disapproves of Mr. Thompson-Seton's revelations. The author of
"Wild Animals I Have Known,"
has been decidedly personal and has
mentioned names. Mr. Burroughs
thinks the picture false, and suggests
that the title should be "Wild Animals
I Alone Have Known." Mr.
Thompson-Seton has brought us
nearer to the animal world by sing-
ling out specimens—perhaps from his
standpoint they might better be
called individuals—weaving the incidents
which came under his observation, in his close and careful study
of nature, into their life histories,
and embellishing the stories with a
human-like analysis of their thoughts
and emotions. It is easy to regard
the stories as true or false, according to the point of view. Mr.
Thompson-Seton's careful observation and fidelity to what he has
seen and heard cannot be questioned.
But all who like controversy will
find material in his profuse analysis
of the impulses of his friends of the
woods. The familiar but always
welcome call of the song sparrow is
now heard throughout the land.
What does it mean? One writer may
express its meaning in all the fervid
and profuse language that a novel-
ist puts into the mouth of his hero
when declaring his love to the hesitating, trembling heroine. Whose
questions that revelation must remember that he is measuring and
circumscribing thought and feeling
by language. Mr. Burroughs would
designate the familiar notes a love
call; interpret them on the musical
staff, tell of their modulations in
his own enticing way, and of their
inspiring power in the bright sun-
shine of early spring. Mr. Thompson-Seton would tell of speck-
breast on the oak limb, and would
breathe in language full of human passion the love story he told to
Brownie on the willow over the
stream. Both ways are true, and he
is he who would limit the possibilities of emotion even in the song-
sparrow.

THE FIRST ROBINS.

Ornithologists explain that the
first robins are all male birds, and
they act the part. They do not up-
on their arrival come down into the
shrubbery and carol sweetly to the
weary passer-by; instead they seek
the upper branches of the elms,
sweat at each other, hurl down imprecations upon pedestrians, and relieve the monotony by an occasional
fight.
And, truth to tell, the robin has
has a good deal to make him bat-
tempered, says H.D.C. in The Star.
To begin with, he is always too
soon, and invariably provokes a
snowstorm that leaves him no where
to plant his feet, besides rendering
him hard-up for victuals. If he goes
swooping around the old home he
finds last year's nest in a shocking
state of disrepair. The rain always gets in and floods the house.
Besides he has his wife to think about. She stayed behind down
south for a week or so because her
new traveling dress hadn't come
home from the dress-maker's, and
how does he know that she'll get
through safely? Women are such
careless creatures and so unreliable
when they're traveling, and the
thought of "baching it" all summer
in case she doesn't get through
drives paterfamilias robin wild. These
things are merely stated in order
that the reader will be induced to
be tolerant with the early robins.

Old Canadian Maps Located.

The archives of the Chateau de Ramezay have been ransacked to
provide material to prove the Canadian contention in the Alaskan boundary dispute. Mr. Joseph Pope, Under-Secretary of State, had a careful search made through the large
collection of documents, amassed by
the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, with the result that Mr. Thomas O'Leary, of the Chateau, discovered a couple of Atlases, published in the years 1823 and 1824,
which give boundaries of Alaska
when that territory was in possession of Russia.
Mr. Pope obtained permission from the museum people to take these
documents to Ottawa, where the
maps will be photographed. They may be of service to the Canadian
commissioners in the coming conference with the United States.
Later on Mr. O'Leary found an-
other Atlas, printed in 1860, seven
years before the territory passed in-
to the hands of the United States.
This will be forwarded to Mr. Pope
in London.

How He Fooled Them.

Ireland's Vice-Chancellor, the Rt.
Hon. Hedges Eyre Chatterton, aged 83, has just got married. He has held his office since 1867, and appears in a new vig every time it is reported that he means to retire on
the ground of old age.

England has 120 artesian wells of
over 100 feet deep.

THE CANADA LIFE'S

NEW 1903 ACCUMULATION CONTRACT

Is the most liberal policy on the market to-day.
This policy backed by the Company's 3 per cent reserve is incomparable as an insurance contract. See its terms and premium rates before insuring elsewhere.

E. R. Brow, W. K. Rogers
Special Agent. Branch Manager Charlottetown.

1903, SEASON, 1903,

FARM SEEDS

We now have on hand and to arrive a large stock of best selected Imported WHEAT, TIMOTHY and CLOVER SEED, which we have bought direct from the most reliable Seedsmen.

Ontario White Russian, Manitoba White Fife,
Manitoba Red Fife,
Peas, Corn, Vetches,
Early, Late, Alsike &
White Clover & Timothy

All of which we are selling at lowest prices.
Wholesale and Retail.
Also a full line of the well known Frost and Wood Co's.
Steel plows, Spring Tooth Harrows, Spike Tooth Harrows, Disc Harrows, One Horse Seeders, Sectional Seeders, Grain Drills, Cart Wheels, Truck Wagons, Road Carts, Wagons, Buggies and Harness.

Our prices are low and our terms of payment made easy.
Call at our Show Rooms and see the goods and get prices and terms.
Handsome Catalogues, Hangers and Calendars furnished on application.

A. HORNE & CO.

Ta, Th and W 177

STANDARD DESK

SPECIAL

Delivered to you for $16.50.

We will deliver to your office a five foot standing desk for the above amount.
This is a bargain which you cannot afford to let pass. The desk is of elm wood, well made and nicely finished, fitted with two large drawers. We guarantee satisfaction.

THE OFFICE SPECIALTY MFG CO., Limited.
TORONTO, ONT.
Eastern Representative H. F. Barker, Box 41, Halifax, N. S.
12-17 177

NEW DENTAL PARLORS

IN SUMMERSIDE.

Having opened up a suite of Dental Parlors in Brace McKay & Co's Brick Block, Water Street, Summerside, I am prepared to attend to all kinds of Dental Work.

Preservation of natural teeth a specialty. Crown and Bridge work after the latest and most approved methods.
Painless Extraction. Gas administered when required. Artificial Teeth at short notice.
Satisfaction guaranteed. Charges moderate.

J. A. McMURDO, D. D. S

First Honor Graduate Class 1902 Baltimore College Dental Surgery 1012 LAW AND WATER

PUMPS

For Deep Wells

It is very important to have a good CYLINDER

Our Cylinders are giving satisfaction in wells as deep as 119 feet.

Fennell & Chandler

VICTORIA ROW.