SUMMER FURS, ESPECIALLY FOX, VERY FASHIONABLE.

From Fashion's New York court comes the word that summer furs are all the rage this season. Fox furs of all kinds are being given the preference, principally on account of their lightness and beauty. The cross and silver fox is noticeable at many of the most fashionable summer resorts, where wealthy people go. Round soft boas made of fox fur, continue to be very popular, as well as boas of ostrich, and other light furs, ermine and chinchilla are worn quite extensively, and however warm the weather may be, the ladies very seldom appear without their fur stole or boa.

Mr. John Anderson Visits the West

Mr. John Anderson, Provincial Auditor has returned from a trip to Saskatchewan. Mr. Anderson left Charlottetown on May 17th and went by way of Chicago where he spent a day with two old Belfast friends—Messrs. Daniel and Roderick McKee—sons of the late Donald McKee of Pinnette, Belfast. They both hold very responsible positions in the Commonwealth Edison Company, one of the largest electrical concerns in the world. Mr. Anderson states that Belfast has certainly a reason to be proud of these men who are among the brightest minds that ever left P. E. Island.

At Winnipeg Mr. Anderson met Mr. Major Schurman, of Summerside, who has large property interests in that city. Mr. Schurman up to lately has been contracting and building on a large scale in Winnipeg and fills a large place in the business community there.

Mr. Anderson also met Mr. M. A. McQueen son of Mr. John McQueen of Orwell, who is now a prominent barrister of Winnipeg. Mr. McQueen has certainly "made good" in the West and is using his means without stint to help the deserving.

Another Islander whom Mr. Anderson met was Mr. Cecil McNeill, brother of Dr. McNeill of Summerside. He has attained to a prominent position in the Grain Exchange and can be classed as a "successful Islander."

Another Islander whom Mr. Anderson met and who gave him a pleasant time was Mr. C. Ferguson, son of the late Senator Ferguson. He is the General Manager of the Great West Insurance Company and is well known in the insurance world. Mr. Ferguson is yet but a young man and his remarkable success at so early an age gives promise that he will yet fill a much larger place in the public eye.

At Regina Mr. Anderson had the pleasure of meeting Mr. F. D. Darke, formerly of Brookfield. Mr. Darke is the proprietor of a large business block in the centre of that city, and is interested in many other large enterprises.

Mr. Anderson's three sons are farming a section and a half of wheat-land and this year have three hundred acres under wheat, which promises an excellent crop all round. They are also going into the producing of heavy horses—Clydesdales. They have twenty-seven head of horses and about twenty head of Shorthorn cattle. Last year they produced 8,500 bushels of wheat and there is prospect of their producing more this year. These young men made nothing by speculative enterprises, but are in a fair way of being independent. Homesteading requires application and a good deal of self-denial with hard work, yet the one who sees it through comes out with a measure of self-reliance which is not easily obtained otherwise.

Mr. Anderson met quite a number of other Islanders who all appear to be doing well.

Five years ago he went over this same section of the West and was struck with the evidences of advancement made there since then.

Mr. Anderson has kindly consented, in a future issue to supply some further observations in the way of comparison in the way of farming conditions in the West and in P. E. Island.

Suit or Overcoat Made-to-Measure

Made-to-Measure

From the Tailor-Made habit, with it goes a standing among men of affairs. The careless "I will do it tomorrow" fellow USUALLY wears "hand-me-downs." The "go-ahead" fellow MUST work and plan—and buying a Made-to-Measure Suit or Overcoat is the best proof that you possess these requisites. The tailor-made habit gives you an opportunity to bring out your own ideas. It develops individuality. At $15 we build you garments that it will be impossible for you to match anywhere.
