MISSING GIRL LOCATED—Frances Hawkins, 15 year old Charlottetown girl who had been missing since Monday was located in the city last night.

UNITS INSPECTED—The various units comprising the 18th Infantry Bridge made a most commendable showing yesterday morning at the inspection which took place at Victoria Park. Brigadier General H. F. H. Hertzberg, District Officer commanding Military District No. 6 reviewed the brigade. This Honour Lieutenant Governor DeBlois also took the salute.

BROKE CAMP—The P. E. I. Light Horse which has been under canvas for the last week at the Exhibition Grounds under command of Col. F. I. Andrews, broke camp yesterday. Members of the various companies left for their homes. Before breaking camp the unit was inspected by Brigadier Hertzberg, D. O. C., Military District No. 6.

OFFICERS ENTERTAINED — Government House last night was the scene of a delightful dance given in honor of Brigadier General H. F. H. Hertzberg, commander of Military District No. 6, and the officers of the 1935 militia camp. The guests were received by His Honor Lieutenant Governor DeBlois and Mrs. DeBlois and Brigadier General Hertzberg and Mrs. Hertzberg. Government House and the grounds were very beautifully decorated for the occasion.

CORRECTION—Sergeant Orville Darrach, Kensington, was not rendered unconscious during a wrestling match at Militia Sports at Brighton as was reported in a recent issue, but was rendered unconscious for four and one-half hours following a fall and kick from his saddle horse during the Prince Edward Island Light Horse Sports at the Exhibition Grounds on the afternoon of July 17. He was taken at once to the 26th Ambulance Corps, Victoria Park, but due to the seriousness of his condition was removed by Military authorities to the City Hospital for X-Ray and further treatment. His condition at present is much improved.

INFORMATION RE HIT AND RUN DRIVER—As previously reported Samuel Yorston was knocked down and seriously hurt by a hit and run driver in the vicinity of the Hillsboro Bridge on Sunday night last at about 9.15 p.m. Since this time the R. C. M. Police have been busily engaged in trying to locate a fast travelling vehicle which crossed the bridge toward Charlottetown at an excessive rate of speed. A number of motorists who were using this highway at the above time were questioned with regard to the identity of this car but owing to the dust, etc., were unable to note its license number. The R. C. M. Police are therefore requesting information concerning the identity of this vehicle from any person who may have been fortunate enough to discern same, with a view to connecting this car with the accident. Any information in this regard should be communicated to the R. C. M. Police immediately.

The exports to the United Kingdom suffered most, the amount in June being $17,513,976 as against $26,498,948, the decline being $8,984,972 or 36 per cent.

The most outstanding decline was in the export of wheat which fell from $14,367,000 to $5,149,000 to all countries and to the United Kingdom the decline was from $10,101,000 to $3,411,000.

SHARP BARES

ditching, but could be used only for scraping. Under the present government the Borden road, a gravel asphalt road costing $11,600 per mile, is being built. The Federal Government is contributing $5,500 per mile. Under the Liberal Government the McIntyre Highway was constructed, a sand asphalt road, at a cost of $27,000 per mile.

Mr. Sharp also pointed out that there will be a considerable increase in the revenue derived from the gasoline tax due to the longer time the Borden road will be open for traffic in the spring and fall.

The Conservative Government is paying the old age pension which brought comfort to a large number of old people. In his rebuttal Hon. Mr. Sharp, answering criticism of the Southport highway, pointed out that it was built with the express purpose of finding a cheap type of road to link the different sections of the province with the main highways. Regarding criticism by the Liberals that he and Premier MacMillan were at variance as to who was to pay for the repairs Mr. Sharp pointed out that it was not correct. The oil company will repair the road at their own cost. Last fall they laid the surface meterial before the sub grade was prepared. The only work that had been done was the ditching. Now the Government will do the sub grading which should have been done before the surface material was laid. The oil company took the chance last fall and laid the road when only the ditches had been machined.

Hon. Mr. Sharp received loud applause not only at the beginning and end of his address but on numerous occasions during his speech.

Mr. L. P. Tanton, who spoke on behalf of Mr. Beaton, in the course of his address pointed out that the increase in fire insurance rates in this province was not due to the increased license fees as claimed by Mr. Stewart, but to the loss sustained by the companies in the number of large fires in the province in recent years. Because of fire losses several companies withdrew from the province.

The Liberals always talk a lot about economy when they are in opposition. Under the Bell Government they increased the sessional indemnities and ministers salaries. At the same time they added $400,000 additional taxes but due to indignation collected only $200,000. Mr. Tanton also received a large amount of applause.

Mr. Alan Stewart, the first Liberal speaker, took up a large part of his time criticising the Government.

Speaking about Falconwood Hospital, Mr. Stewart claimed that it would be better to send the few patients wanting special treatment to Montreal to be treated rather than build a hospital here. Mr. Stewart took very little time to deal with the platform of the Liberal party.

Mr. D. N. MacKay also spent considerable time discussing the record of the Government. He did not discuss the Liberal platform but in conclusion told the audience that it was not necessary for him to read it as they could get it for themselves.

Mr. J. P. McIntyre spoke on behalf of the Liberal candidates. He also took all his time discussing the record of the Government. He said the Liberals would burn the Falconwood Hospital plans if they were returned to power.

Mr. McIntyre also discussed federal politics. He blamed the Bennett Government for ruining the markets of the world.

Mr. Peter Toole capably presided.

Plane Crashes As It Leaves Moncton Airport

MONCTON, N. B., July 18—A De Haviland Dragon twin-motored biplane crashed as it left the Moncton airport this morning injuring its two occupants, Earl Jellison, the pilot, and Herbert Lovett, a photographer.

The two men were about to use this new Canadian Airways machine for a photographic expedition to the Salmon River District. Upon crashing to earth shortly after taking off, the plane at once burst into flames, and soon nothing remained but a heap of refuse and ashes.

According to officials at the airport nothing was saved. Equipment, including $3,000 worth of new camera material, was a total loss.

Fortunately, the two flyers were able to crawl from the wreck before the flames reached them.

Jellison suffered an injured foot and Lovett was hurt when he was hit with a camera.

This was Moncton's first air accident which involved the destruction of a plane.

The machine, heavily loaded with photographic material, was caught in a "down-draught" from nearby buildings, causing one of the wing tips to strike the ground, crash and quickly burst into flames.

No blame is attached to either pilot or machine.

Charity is only skin deep, but selfishness goes to the bone.

It is better to be loved and bossed than never to be loved at all.

Extended Congratulations

In opening his address Premier MacMillan congratulated Messrs. Bethune and Currie on the successful manner in which they had been conducting their campaign. "An event unprecedented in the history of the Province has occurred," he said. "Your opponents have quit the fold so far as platform speaking is concerned in this part of the district." (Applause and laughter).

The Premier stated that the contest was a remarkable one, because the Liberals were trying to beat "the worst Government in the history of the world."

He had heard only one Liberal give a word of praise for the work done by the present Government, he said. The only request which the Premier had made was "Let the truth be told and let the people judge for themselves." The speaker had said elsewhere that there were Liberal speakers who went on the platform and did not utter one word of truth from the beginning to the end of their speeches, nor did he intend to take back the statement.

Contrary to Liberal accusations that Prince Edward Island was in danger of having to go under a Commission Government, Prince Edward Island was in the best financial condition of any province in Canada. Quebec was the only province which could approach Prince Edward Island in this regard.

Mr. Lea had said that the external auditor had said that the Liberal debt was $900,000. The Premier proved that the Liberal increase was $1,177,000, by subtracting the liabilities of 1927 from those of 1931. Reference was made to Mr. Lea's illness. "With Mr. Lea out of the Liberal party, what's left?" he asked. "LePage," came a laughing reply from the audience. Mr. Lea had been seen to shake his head at the impossible statements of Mr. LePage, the speaker related.

Accusations Answered

The Premier answered Liberal accusations relative to Conservative extravagance, by showing the Liberal record of extravagance during the last eight months of their term.

What did the Liberal plank of a balanced budget mean, the Premier asked.

Last year the Liberals advocated cutting out two-thirds of the road work and other public works to balance the budget. Did the people think that the Government was spending too much money in this work, he asked.

No Goose-eggs

"We did not come home with a handful of goose-eggs as our Liberal friends did," said the Premier in discussing subsidies. Included in the $829,000 federal money received was $125,000 grant for the Rustico-Hunter River Highway. The Liberals had said it was a bluff, but the Premier could assure the people it was no bluff, but a reality.

The Government was criticized for spending too much money when it spent money on relief at a time when children were going to bed hungry, said the Premier in a crushing denunciation of Liberal campaign methods.

The hypocrisy of the Liberals regarding the Old Age Pensions was revealed by the speaker, who showed that they had never even considered implementing their 1927 plank. In contrast with this record the Premier indicated that the Conservatives had carried out the Liberal promise. The Liberals condemned the Government for its Christian act in spending $168,000 in Old Age Pensions.

The Government intended after the election to fight the claims of the province for more subsidy. The Liberals in their platform had ignored the claims, and Mr. Campbell had said, "the door is closed." The Government, on the contrary, was determined to press the claims on the ground of the minority report. If the Government had increased the debt by a million it had increased the revenue by three million, and thus left the Province two million dollars better off.

The Liberals who had continually raised taxes in this Province, were now complaining about the two cents increase in gasoline tax. They ignored the decrease in license fees and the decrease in th price of gasoline, said the speaker who justified the action of the Government on the grounds that the tax fell on those who used the roads most.

Subsidy Records

The Premier outlined the record of the Conservative Governments as regards the subsidy question. Why had not the Liberals in those opportune years, 1927-31, got the claims settled? Mackenzie King had said that the Maritime Provinces had not pressed their claims. Mr. Lea had said that Conservative premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick would not co-operate.

Premier MacMillan then read the Saunders-Robb correspondence which revealed that it was ex-Premier Saunders who had refused to co-operate. Mr. Saunders had been told by Mr. King that in discussing claims they were only wasting time. Liberal governments had also failed to take advantage of the Act regarding railway taxation, by which the Stewart Government had gained $40,000 in lieu of railway taxes. "The door is never closed as long as there are men with backbone enough to open it," was the Premier's final statement on the matter of subsidy claims. The Liberals had promised an investigation into road building, into the feasibility.

The speaker divided the "investigations" promised in the Liberal platform as empty gestures which meant absolutely nothing and obligated the party to nothing.

Premier MacMillan discussed the Conservative platform in some detail and contrasted the attitude revealed in it with the attitude of the Liberals.

Education and Public Health

"One of the surprising things of the campaign," he said, "is the Liberal attacks on education and public health. Educated men like Thane Campbell and Walter Jones, men who themselves attended Prince of Wales College, are decrying our efforts at progress along those two lines. The standard of public debate has been lowered to a point where it is disgraceful."

"The Conservatives have brought in $200,000 from the Carnegie Corporation for libraries and education," the Premier stated, and indicated how the money had been spent. "Yet men who presume to be educationists stand up and decry it."

Answering Liberal criticism of expenditures on the Department of Public Health, the Premier said: "Six weeks before the Liberals went out of power they made the bargain with the Canadian Tuberculosis Association through Dr. Wodehouse. The poor, silly Patriot is criticising the bargain their own government made, and under which this Government is working. What do you think of that for logic, ladies and gentlemen? Criticising their own argument. The Premier compared the records of the Liberal and Conservative governments regarding public health. The Liberals were criticising the Government for its actions in touching humanity, for work for th people and children in their homes. The Premier also vigorously defended the Government's policy regarding the Falconwood Hospital. "Because we have not been able to carry out the plans for the benefit of the insane, for suffering humanity, we have to listen to their slander regarding the expenditure. They say they can't be used. I say they will be used," declared the Premier emphatically.

The Premier graphically described the disgraceful condition in which the Government had found Falconwood. By building a cold storage plant in Falconwood the Government had saved enough money in three years to build three sets of plans.

LePage's Insincerity

To examine Mr. LePage's sincerity and consistency in his criticism of the Government's policy in rebuilding Prince of Wales College, Premier MacMillan read excerpts from speeches delivered at different times during the past three years. "You will notice," said the speaker, "that first he says $100,000 might be saved by using the old foundation. Later he says $150,000, then $200,000, but in an interview recently which would go beyond the Province he though he had better not go too high and says $50,000. There's four different statements by Mr. B. W. LePage. What do you think of them?

Voice: "Not much."

"Mr. LePage also said that unpaid bills amounted to $200,000 when legislative records prove that the statement is false. The bills amount to $28,000,"

Premier MacMillan stated that the reason for the fact that school books in Ontario sold more cheaply than in Prince Edward Island was that the Ontario Government absorbed the difference. Moreover, the small number of books sold in the Maritimes did not permit of securing reduced prices.

Premier MacMillan then discussed the overdraft. "The Government did not receive a firm bid from any bond house in Canada, but they say we did not call for tenders,' said the Premier in reference to the sale of bonds. The Government, in disposing of the bonds had received a price which a member of the syndicate later admitted was better than they could have offered.

Among all the numerous issues at that time, the Ontario Government was the only one which received a better price, and that was two months later, the Premier pointed out. In the Spring of 1931 the Liberals could have got 4 per cent for the bonds but failed to take advantage of the opportunity.

"You can balance on one side and go in debt on the other," the Premier stated with reference to ordinary and Capital expenditures. "But when you add them together are you not still in debt?" he asked, pointing out that such had been the Liberal method of balancing the budget on ordinary account."

Gave Warning

"If the Liberals go into power again I would not be surprised to see the taxes go up. They are the same crowd that was in power in 1919," was the speaker's warning.

In closing Premier MacMillan paid a high tribute to Mr. Bethune and Mr. Currie and assured the electors that both would prove worthy representatives.

Stevens Visits Camp Strikers

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, July 18—A group of about 50 relief camp strikers who succeeded in completing their trek to Ottawa were visited today by Hon. H. H. Stevens, leader of the Reconstruction Party, at their headquarters in the Ukranian temple here. Following a conversation during which the new party chieftain shook hands with each of the men he agreed to meet a delegation from them on Monday.

"While I think this trek to Ottawa of thousands of men may be ill-advised," said Mr. Stevens, "if you want work I am heartily behind you.

"I am not speaking without experience of conditions. I feel terribly perturbed at what might happen should a large mob of men get together in the capital. The government has already turned down the proposals of other strikers. I am not excusing their actions, however," Mr. Stevens said.

The former Minister of Trade and Commerce was assured by the strikers they were thoroughly organized and discipline was being well maintained. The men intended carrying on in a peaceful manner knowing they "would not get anywhere unless they did," said one of the spokesmen for the trekkers.

"I want to see you fellows get a chance to earn a decent living," Mr. Stevens said. "That is what you are entitled to. You are a pretty decent looking bunch of boys. I take it you want to work. If so, I'm with you."

Liberals Worsted At St. Georges

Premier MacMillan did not spare critics of the Government at the joint political meeting held at St. George's on Wednesday night. Messrs. J. Howard MacDonald, Mr. Reid Underhay and Hon. J. A. MacDonald also upheld the policies of the MacMillan Government and defended it against all attacks.

Against the vigorous defense offered by the Conservative speakers the desperate attempts of Messrs. Wade Hughes and George Saville, the latter appearing also for rebuttal, were absolutely futile and unavailing.

Mr. William Sigsworth was chairman.

a desire to conquer Ethiopia." he said, "and since last August her preparations have been intensified.

"We refused to comply with humiliating demands but announced our willingness to arbitrate and bow to the decision of any impartial tribunal.

"Italy, on the contrary continued warlike preparations. Mussolini encouraged his soldiers to believe they were about to write a glorious page in the anals of history.

"Italy is provided with all the modern methods of warfare. Ethiopia is a poor country but we shall show the world how a united people can fight to preserve its independence.

Many in the audience wept as he continued:

"Soldiers: when on the battlefield you learn the death of your beloved and respected chief, who has fallen in the defence of liberty, do not weep and do not despair, but think of those who died for the fatherland as happy mortals."

"Soldiers, traders, peasants, young and old men and women: unite and cooperate for the defense of your country!"

Revealing for the first time that Ethiopia had accepted Britain's tentative suggestion for three-way exchange of land to avert war, which Italy rejected, Haile Selassie reminded parliament, the soldiers and the country that Ethiopia wanted peace.

Efforts to avert war have been unsuccessful, however, the Emperor continued, because of Italy's determination to avenge in blood the defeat Italy suffered at Adua, Ethiopia, in 1896.

LONDON, July 18. — Emperor Haile Selassie's stirring appeal to Ethiopia to defend its independence to the last man, interpreted in some diplomatic quarters here as tantamount to general mobilization, today gave new impetus to Britain's efforts for peace.

Discussions at Rome and Paris seeking ways to avert war continued, while various peace organizations and advocates pressed for decisive action based on the League of Nations covenant.

The Cabinet met, considered Britain's move at the forthcoming Council meeting at Geneva and determined to speed up its diplomatic activity despite the dark outlook. What specific decision, if any, as to procedure the Cabinet reached was not disclosed.

Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, vigorously supported conciliatory policies in an address delivered to the Foreign Press Association.

Anthony Eden, Minister for League affairs who will head the delegation to Geneva, assured Geoffrey Mander, of the Liberal Opposition in the House of Commons, that Britain would not join Italy in exerting pressure on Ethiopia, but would have full regard to the rights and obligations of states members of the League "during the present negotiations."

ITALY'S AIMS

ROME, July 18 — (A.P.) — The authoritative review "Affari Esteri" (foreign affairs) today said Italy's aims in Ethiopia were absolute control of Ethiopia's military forces and the right to settle Italians in the African empire.

That disclosure came shortly after Premier Benito Mussolini informed the nation that Italy's military preparations in Eritrea, her colony lying just east of Ethiopia, were already in shape "to face present and future tasks."

He telegraphed to General Emilio De Bono, who for six months has been high commissioner for East African colonies after receiving De Bono's reports:

"All that is necessary for the life of a population ten times increased and of the metropolitan and native army — roads, water, foodstuffs, barracks, communications, hospitals and an infinite number of other necessities—have been provided for despite the difficulties which have been immense.

"In regard to military services, much remains to do, but I believe the most difficult period has passed."

"Affari Esteri," which often reflects official opinion, said Italy would like to achieve her aims in Ethiopia peacefully, if possible. If not, the article said, Italy stands ready to try other means.

MONCTON, N. B., July 18—One of the outstanding events in the Maritime Provinces this year will be the celebrations in connection with the 150th anniversary of the City of Sydney, Cape Breton, July 29th to August 4th, according to R. Stevens Will Be Candidate In East Kootenay

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, July 18. — Hon. H. H. Stevens, Leader of the Reconstruction Party, today announced he would be a candidate in the General Election for East Kootenay, B.C.

Mr. Stevens said his nomination would take place in the riding within a few days. He would have practically the same organization as backed him in the 1930 by-election when he was elected for East Kootenay by acclamation after joining the Bennett Government as Minister of Trade and Commerce, he stated. "I cannot say," Mr. Stevens replied when asked if a candidate would be nominated on the Conservative ticket to oppose him.

Appointment of two western organizers was announced by the new party leader. W. L. McQuarrie, Saskatoon, will be oganizer for Saskatchewan and A. O. MacKay, Calgary, for Alberta.

Mr. Stevens left tonight for Hamilton where he will speak tomorrow evening.

Crop Prospects Good In West

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, July 18 — Hot weather has benefitted crops in the Prairie Provinces and moisture conditions are generally satisfactory except in southern Alberta and western Saskatchewan, according to the latest issue of the Bank of Montreal crop report. Grain in these two regions has suffered from drought.

In scattered areas, says the report, there has been some damage from hail and rust is still in evidence in southern Manitoba and southeastern Saskatchewan.

In Quebec the growth of all crops is considered satisfactory and an average harvest is anticipated. Excessive rain in Ontario has caused some "lodging" of grain and hay but crop conditions generally are satisfactory. Harvest of fall wheat will begin next week. In the Maritime Provinces the weather continues favorable to growth. Warm weather has promoted the growth of all crops in British Columbia, with heavy rains contributing.

Details for the Maritime Provinces follow:

In Prince Edward Island grain crops continue to make excellent progress. Hay has benefitted by the weather of the past week but the yield will be below normal. Throughout New Brunswick and Nova Scotia grains show satisfactory growth. Haying has commenced and should be general next week; the crop is expected to be about average. Potatoes and other roots continue satisfactory progress. Apples are sizing rapidly and small fruits are promising.

Parents are often the hardest problems for their children.

Japanese Trade Problem Under Discussion

By Glenn Babb,
Associated Press Foreign Staff
(By Guardian's Special Wire)

TOKYO, July 18.—Japan, steadily expanding her influence in continental Asia, came into conflict with Mongols, Russians and Chinese today.

A new crisis was reached in negotiations for settlement of border disputes between Manchoukuo, Japanese-dominated Empire, and independent Outer Mongolia, Rengo (Japanese) news agency reported, with the possibility that Manchoukuo might demand demilitarization of part of Mongolia.

Earlier Rengo dispatches from Harbin, Manchoukuo, said Japanese seeking alluvial gold in the Amur River July 9 were fired upon by Soviet guards, and the engine of their small river boat disabled.

Manchoukuo's foreign office announced its intention to protest energetically to Moscow this latest in the long series of "incidents" along the disputed Manchoukuo-Siberia border.

Meanwhile reports from Kalgan, Chahar Province, North China, said the Japanese Kwangtung army had demanded that Japanese advisors be placed in all departments of the Chahar government. Chinese termed this an indication of further Japanese expansion in North China.

Japan's newest verbal clash with Outer Mongolia occurred at Manchuli, the Rengo correspondent reported, when the Japanese member of the Manchoukuoan delegation delivered "representations on behalf of the Manchoukuoan foreign office" said to insist on "an exchange of resident representatives between Manchoukuo and Outer Mongolia, with freedom of facilities to communicate with their respective governments in order to prevent a misunderstanding in disputes between the two countries."

Should Mongolia refuse, Rengo's dispatch said, "Manchoukuo may be constrained to request Outer Mongolia to withdraw all troops from the area east of Tomskutsum," village southwest of Lake Bor.

What would happen should this second request be refused was not staged but the implication was that military pressure would follow with the Japanese army, on behalf of its protege Manchoukuo, using all means necessary to compel demilitarization of Mongolian territory just as parts of Chahar and Hopeh provinces, Ihina, were demilitarized.

Still Searching For Fortune

CAPETOWN, South Africa, July 18—A thorough search was on today all over the Union and also in Northern and Southern Rhodesia to find some trace of the huge fortune said to have been left by Harry Kozack and now belonging to heirs in Montreal and New York.

A firm of Capetown attorneys have received cable advice from the reputed heirs, Abraham Starr and his family in New York and six brothers and sisters in Montreal, asking them for all obtainable information.

A member of the firm, which is prosecuting enquiries in every province, said it was possible the late millionaire may have changed his name on arrival in South Africa from Poland 20 years ago.

PARIS, July 18—Miss Joan Warner, United States blond, learned today that it cost 50 francs, which is $2.30, to "outraze the morals" of Paris.

That sum was the fine fixed by a court which tried her for her nude cabaret dancing on complaint of the National Association for the increase of the French populat'on. Miss Warner immediately entered an appeal from her conviction.

On Wednesday July 17th, Zion Church Sunday School held their annual picnic. A large number of pupils, teachers and friends left Charlottetown at 1.30 p. m. on the S. S. Harland, and enjoyed a delightful sail to West River Bridge.

After arriving at the picnic grounds a programme of sports and games was carried out.

A delightful supper was served by the teachers of the Sunday School to both kiddies and guests, the guest table being exceptionally well patronized.

On the return sail a sing song was much enjoyed.

Yacht Racing At Borden

An impromptu yacht race staged off Borden Wednesday afternoon was won by the Agatha of Summerside, owned by Lawrence Gerlevsen, with Willard Leard's Northwind a very close second. The schooner-rigged cruiser, Drift, owned by Donald Burns of Boston finished third and Roy Sherry's Noreen was disqualified through a misunderstanding of the course.

A fresh southerly wind was blowing, which made for some real smart sailing. All the boats competing except the Drift were 20 to 24 ft. sloops.

Mr. A. P. Ceretti acted as judge.

The several owners are looking forward to more races this summer as all the boats are evenly matched. —S.
