A special service was held in St. Mark's Church on Sunday last when the newly organized juniors were admitted as missionary workers of the church. The Rev. Dr. B. Fream spoke of the importance of the work they have undertaken, emphasizing the fact that unless they listen they cannot know what God wants them to do. He also illustrated the difficulty and need of perseverance. The Junior Auxiliary missionary hymns were sung and new members received their membership cards.

Last week the children held their monthly missionary meeting at the home of which came an exciting surprise. Tiny mine pies and jam tarts were served along with hot cocoa in tiny cups. The next few weeks will doubtless be some further additions made at the revisions which take place during this week. A gain of six hundred adults in the town's population should mean at least one thousand total increase, which must mean that Summerside is approaching the 5,000 mark. There are sixty-six polling divisions in the town, two of these, by reason of having 350 names on their lists, will be given double polls, making a total of 132 polls in the town. In the same building, and the lists will be split up near the center as possible, between two letters of the alphabet. There will be two complete sets of poll officers and equipment. The lists will be complete with supplies, will be sent to Deputy Returning Officers by registered mail, and will be returned in the same way. Returning Officer at Summerside.—S.

O'Leary Meeting Gives Dr. MacPhee Big Reception

National Government Candidate Addresses Large Audience On Vital Questions.

At a largely attended meeting last night at O'Leary, Dr. MacPhee, the Conservative candidate in his opening remarks recalled the large convention at O'Leary last August at which he was nominated to contest the county. Since that time the Empire has become engaged in another great war against the same foe she fought in 1914-18. A war which threatens our Christian civilization and which will require the resources of our great Empire to bring it to a successful termination. He dealt with the arbitrary dissolution of Parliament in January 25th last an act which disrupted the democracy of Parliament and the efficiency of the very principles for which we are fighting. He referred to the "people decide" but he did not allow them to hear the evidence on which they might come to a decision. Regarding the government efficiency in carrying out the war program—he referred to Canada's unpreparedness for war notwithstanding that war was imminent for over a year. He stated that the outbreak of war there was very little to show for the huge expenditures on defence since 1935. He also referred to the inefficiency of the Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie and the Bren gun scandal.

He referred to the lack of clothing and equipment for the men who enlisted and also to the lack of proper accommodation for the men. This was all due to the lack of foresight and even elementary knowledge of wartime requirements.

He referred to what has been done for our Island Province by the Conservative Party, the Borden Car Ferry and the reduction of automobile rates on the ferry. He stated that the record of the King government both in peace and war was a sorry one and he scored the government for its handling of unemployment and relief and the youth problem.

He referred to the increased cost of farm machinery since 1935 also to the failure of the government to assist the fishermen of the Maritime Provinces. He referred to the benefit of a National Government as proposed by Dr. Manion and dealt with Mr. King's criticism. He stated that National Government in Britain has resulted in a very effective prosecution of the war and said that it was obvious that a national war needed a National Government. He dealt with the bog of conscription and stated that Dr. Manion was as much opposed to conscription as Mr. King but that the latter had interjected this issue to cause disunity although he preached unity.

He stated that the refusal of Premier King to adopt the Air Training Scheme as advanced by the British over a year ago was a great blunder and a costly one to Canada. He stated that a soldier Premier in the person of Dr. Manion would have the interest of the returned men at heart and that he himself was quite familiar with the problem of the returned men. He stated that Dr. Manion was the man of the hour, the man who would bring Canada's war effort to a high state of efficiency and do away with all the shortcomings and abuse of the present administration.

Canada Stronger In Basic Metals

WINNIPEG, March 12.—(CP)—Canada in the present emergency of war is in a much better position to supply the Empire with basic refractory metals essential for the production of steel, copper, nickel and other war metals and a wide variety of chemical products, than she was at the start of the First Great War in 1914, according to E. Lathé, of the National Research Council, Ottawa in a paper at the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

When supplies of Austrian magnesite were cut off in 1914 metallurgical operations in Canada and many other countries were seriously hampered by the lack of suitable refractories, but thanks to developments since that time, such a situation cannot again arise, Mr. Lathé said.

Two major factors are responsible for the changed conditions. Deposits of magnesite dolomite at Kilmar, Quebec, have been opened up on a substantial scale, and other present or potential sources of magnesite as a refractory have been discovered elsewhere in Canada. Work undertaken by the National Research Council in co-operation with the Department of Mines and Resources has resulted in the development of a large number of new and improved refractory products, which are not only finding a market in Canada but are being exported to England and other countries.

A great deal of attention has been paid to the development of chemical bond for refractory materials and numerous products with unusual properties have resulted. These include a special refractory for the tap-holes of steel furnaces, which gives many times the service
