Cundall Home Annual Meeting

The following reports were presented at the annual meeting of the Cundall Home on Tuesday:

Superintendent's Annual Report 1934-35

Madam President, the Honourable Chairman of Trustees and Ladies and Gentlemen:

The past year, or, rather, the ten months since our last annual meeting on May 7th last, have been rather more varied than usual but on the whole encouraging. Our students who at that time were nearing the end of the college year, with one exception, passed their examinations, following which they returned to their respective homes for a week. At the end of that time 12 came back to us for the Teacher Training Course which lasted for three weeks, or until June 15.

Following their final departure the house was prepared for summer guests. Only one room required painting and papering, the others needing only the regular cleaning.

During June the help was given each two weeks off and during the latter part of that month and the first week in July your Superintendent took a holiday. Miss Terrell went on vacation in August.

The summer was an exceptionally busy one for us all. A few people began to arrive early in July and as the summer advanced numbers increased. Some spent weeks, others remained for longer or shorter periods.

In all 171 guests were accommodated and for lack of room a good many were turned away. In such cases we were able to recommend them to private homes where they were assured and found comfortable accommodation. It was very encouraging to receive from practically all of these summer visitors, the warmest expressions of appreciation of everything at Cundall Home.

During the summer and early fall a quantity of fruit of various kinds as well as pickles, relishes, chow, etc., were preserved and shelves were well filled for winter use. Supplies of different vegetables also were stored.

For the third successive year, thirteen young lady students came to us at the opening of College. Of this number, two were last year students returning to us for second year work, while the remainder were new girls, three of whom boarded elsewhere previously.

Unfortunately, we were not able as in former years to keep this number long, for, at the end of the first month, one first-year student was obliged to give up for a time and enter the Sanitarium. A month later a second girl, also in her first year was advised by the doctor to return to her home and rest until next fall and then take up the work. This left us with only eleven students until after Christmas. I am glad to say that early in February the first-named was allowed to go home where she will continue the treatment until quite well. Our good wishes follow these bright young girls and we sincerely hope to have them back with us next fall in renewed health.

In November the girls had the usual party with boy and girl student friends as guests. All had a jolly time. Before going to their homes at Christmas a special evening dinner and Christmas Tree was prepared for them when all sat down to a long dining table, after which gifts were presented.

When the winter college term began our household numbered 15 students, three of whom were new, the fourth one of our last year girls returning to take her 2nd year over. The three former boarded elsewhere when in College previously, but decided that Cundall Home was the proper place to stay while attending College.

We have had an unusual amount of sickness this year, though not of a serious nature. Before Christmas we had occasion to call in a doctor more than once. Since then one of our girls was obliged to enter Hospital for an appendicitis operation. She has made a quick recovery and though absent for several weeks is again with us though not yet back to College. This has been followed by a succession of gripe colds but, at the moment, we are thankful to say all are well.

The department of our girls has been excellent and they have seemed happy and contented and appear to take pride in keeping rules. Miss Terrell will report on the girls studies and recreation periods.

The house had been kept very comfortable and warm during even the coldest days of this winter. We were made very happy by our good trustees when the Cundall Home was given a new dress of paint which has added much to its attractiveness.

One cannot but wish that more girls who have been less fortunate in their home surroundings and privileges might avail themselves of this home during their college days. The years in college mean much to a girl in later life. The contacts which girls make in a large household such as this and the influence of various natures each on the other; their discussions and outlook; all of these should have the effect of enlarging their understanding of human nature generally and give tolerance to their views, which, in the succeeding years should prove invaluable.

I wish to thank our Honoured Chairman of Trustees Mr. Justice Hazard for his kind provisions of our needs.

To the Ladies of the Executive Board also our thanks for their readiness to aid in all that makes

NO DIVIDEND PAYMENT BY THE C.P.R.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, March 11.—Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at their regular March dividend meeting today decided against payment of any dividend on 1934 operations.

"After full consideration of the net results of the year's operations," said a statement issued after the meeting, "and the necessity in the present unsettled financial conditions of conserving the company's cash position, the directors have decided that the declaration of any dividend in respect of the year 1934 would not be warranted."

LAST DIVIDEND PAYMENT

The last payment of dividend was on the preferred stock on Oct. 1, 1932. The preferred stock formerly paid four percent per annum, non-cumulative, payable in half-yearly instalments, April 1 and Oct. 1.

The directors had before them the statement for the year ended Dec. 31, 1934 which showed gross earnings of $126,542,954, working expenses (including pensions and taxes) $101,158,931 and net earnings $24,384,023.

After adding special income of $62,793 and deducting fixed charges of $24,578,026 a balance of $64,609,790 was transferred to profit and loss and surplus revenue account.

INCREASED

The profit and loss and surplus account at the end of 1934 was increased to $158,463,470 from $151,993,860 at the end of 1933.

Deductions were then made as follows: Provision for depreciation of ocean and coastal steamships $3,753,660; loss on lines abandoned, $62,793 and deducting fixed charges of $24,578,026 a balance of $64,609,790 was transferred to profit and loss and surplus revenue account.

SPECIAL INCOME

The $6,663,793 special income was made up as follows: Net revenue from miscellaneous investments $1,644,585; interest on deposits, interest and dividends on other securities, exchange, the result of separately operated properties $1,293,002; net earnings on ocean and coastal shipment lines, before depreciation $2,675,346, and net earnings from communications department, hotels, office rentals and miscellaneous $1,644,585.

The statement was preliminary. The final statement is to be placed before the shareholders at their meeting in the spring.

British Minister's Health Suffers

LONDON, March 13.—(C.P. Cable)

—Notwithstanding reassuring official statements regarding the health of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, rumor continued busy today with the possibility of his retirement and succession perhaps by Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader.

It was remarked the Prime Minister recently had withdrawn very much from Parliament, even before he suffered the cold which for a week or so has kept him confined to his room at Chequers, official country residence.

Mr. MacDonald's close associates reply that even his doctors cannot keep him from working.

In view of the widespread domestic political consequences well-informed quarters were indicated to agree it is very unlikely Mr. MacDonald would resign the premiership of the National Government at least until the Royal Jubilee celebrations are over.

Speculation was rather concerned with the possibility that sooner or later Mr. MacDonald might change places with Mr. Baldwin, who is Lord President of the Council and Deputy Prime Minister in which case the "national character" of the cabinet would be maintained.

Reach Climax in German Church Fight

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

BERLIN, March 11.—Germany's Protestant Church fight reached a new and dramatic climax today when orders were served upon Supreme Court Justice Wilhelm Fick to discontinue his addresses to meetings of the Confessional Synod. This synod, opposed to the Nazi movement to unify the church, denounced the Nazi religious attitude in a scathing manifesto read from many pulpits yesterday.

The ban upon Fick came simultaneously with efforts throughout Prussia to suppress the manifesto and was taken in opposition ranks as an indication that measures are under consideration for crushing the opposition.

Fick has been travelling up and down the country assailing the regime of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller, encharged with carrying through the Nazi Church programme, as illegal and unconstitutional.

The fact that the Chief Justice gave Fick leave of absence for his lectures was taken as an indication the Supreme Court in its majority agrees with Fick's stand in the church fight.

Is Eager Quebec Join Curling Asso.

(Special to the Guardian)

WINNIPEG, Man., March 13.—"We are extremely sorry that Quebec did not see their way clear to join the newly formed Dominion Curling Association at the organization meeting in Toronto. The doors are still open and we hope they will soon come in. We will give them a hearty welcome as Quebec is the only province without a membership," stated J. T. Haig, K.C., first president of the new body, who arrived in Winnipeg yesterday with the Saskatchewan and Manitoba curlers, over Canadian National lines.

"The main point of objection on the part of Quebec apparently is the fact that they use irons almost exclusively while the other provinces use granite. They consider the difference in style of game would create confusion. This is entirely an erroneous idea. I have been invited to attend the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Curling Association early in April and will accept. Early next fall I will make a trip east and visit Quebec clubs and hope at that time to discuss the matter with the prominent curlers of Quebec, Montreal and other cities of the province. The Dominion Curling Association will not interfere in the slightest with administration of the game by the provincial associations. The provincial bodies will continue to handle their work within their territorial limitations and there will be no interference from us. Quebec can still play irons and come into the fold and I hope they will do so," continued Mr. Haig.

The Canadian curling championships from which the party has just returned was truly played, in Mr. Haig's opinion Ontario had a very strong rink and played with much confidence. Alberta appeared good value for second. Manitoba drew the tough ones at the start and appeared to have a bit of nerves but they finished strongly, added Mr. Haig.

CIVIL SERVICE BILL BEFORE N.S. HOUSE

Measure Provides For The Permanent Appointment of Civil Servants.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

HALIFAX, March 12.—Creation of a permanent Civil Service for Nova Scotia in line with a recommendation of the Jones Commission, economic enquiry and committee on a bill introduced in the provincial legislature today by Premier Angus L. Macdonald.

Broadly, the measure would place the executive service of the government under a Civil Service Commission and would apply also to provincial boards and commissions. The bill introduced in the provincial legislature today by Premier Angus L. Macdonald.

Explains Organization

In the beginning, the Premier told the House, no elaborate and perhaps unwieldy organization was to be set up. Those who obviously should be under the act would form the nucleus, which would be built up gradually.

Four Classes Employees

There would be four classes of employees: deputy ministers, executive class, clerical class and general class. Appointments would be made by the Commissioner, who also would have power to suspend, though the governor-in-council power to dismiss was not to be impaired.

Other regulations include the provision of a six-months probation period and the stipulation that employees must be British subject and resident in Nova Scotia for five years. There would be competitive examinations in some cases.

Headed By Commissioner

The Commission would be under a commissioner, whose salary would be fixed by the governor-in-council along with that of the employees. The power of naming deputy department heads and members of all boards and commission would remain with the governor-in-council.

Though empowering the commission to exempt any position from its provisions, the act also specifically exempts certain classes. In general, these include court officials, magistrates, justices of the peace, part-time employees and those who ordinarily do not come under Civil Service commissions. Liquor store staffs and employees of the Legislature are exempted also, with certain hospital workers appointed by commission.
