The Guardian has received from Mrs. W. Murray, Fredericton, Lot 67, who is a constant reader of The Guardian, an almanac, entitled The Family Christian Almanac of 1888, although forty-one years old it is in good repair and proves most interesting reading. The owner is justly proud of the almanac and wonders who can beat its age.

George Laidlaw, returned from Prince Edward Island last week. He told the Halifax Maritime Merchant that spring business was very good, and that once the Northumberland Strait is clear of ice, trade generally will be brisk in the Province, as there is a fair amount of farm produce yet to be shipped, and the prospect is that it will bring good prices.

Irving Jardine and Alexander MacKay who left Boston, Mass., last spring, on an extended tour of the Canadian west, have extended their trip to the western states and are now in Seattle, Washington. Messrs. Jardine and MacKay were formerly of Bangor and they expect to visit their old home after they return from the West. Their many friends are looking forward to an account of their interesting journey. Com.

Miss Annie Sullivan, head milliner of Stanley Bros, arrived home Saturday night from an extended business trip to St. John, Boston and New York. While in these cities Miss Sullivan attended millinery openings and displays of both the wholesale and retailers, obtaining the latest and newest millinery ideas for the ensuing spring and summer. Large hats such as the lampshade models are all the rage and are being trimmed with huge banks of flowers and feathers. A great quantity of jet trimming is also being used, while ribbons, silks and crape are to be seen on some of the new models.

It was a rich literary treat that was accorded the students of St. Dunstan's College last night when Judge Fitzgerald lectured in the college hall on "The Times We Live In." The learned lecturer held the rapt attention of his audience for two hours during which time he ingeniously showed them the real greatness of the present age. He dwelt intelligently upon the marvelous improvements that have been effected in the scientific fields, the great progress that has been effected in electricity and aerial navigation. At the close of the lecture a vote of thanks was moved by J. McDonald and seconded by P. H. Gallant to which the judge warmly replied.

The mail train arrived yesterday at one twenty.

W. A. O. Morson, City, has recovered from his recent indisposition.

There will be a meeting in Y. M. C. A. today at 4 p. m. to settle the matter of the coming of Dr. Elliot to carry on evangelistic work for a few weeks in this City. Ministers, Y. M. C. A. directors, and all Christian workers are most cordially invited to attend by their presence and counsel in the settlement of this most important question. Word was received from Dr. Elliot last evening as to date and terms.

J. D. Jenkins showed The Guardian yesterday some very fine specimens of mink skins and a splendid otter skin of large size recently purchased. Otter are rarely caught in this Province now and a good one in his winter coat is very valuable. Mr. Hayter of Mitchell River was the lucky trapper in this case. The mink and otter shown by Mr. Jenkins are very fine specimens, well dressed and with fur at its best.

The funeral of the late Thomas Wood, Alexandra, was attended by a large circle of relatives and friends who came to pay their last respects to an old and honored citizen. The Rev. Mr. Erb conducted the funeral services at the house of mourning, when the body was taken to the church, where a most appropriate and comforting sermon was delivered by the pastor. The text was from Psalm 63 Ch and the ensuing spring and summer. Large hats such as the lampshade models are all the rage and are being trimmed with huge banks of flowers and feathers. A great quantity of jet trimming is also being used, while ribbons, silks and crape are to be seen on some of the new models.

The deep-sea fishermen of the Maritime Provinces received the sum of $156,114 as bounties on their respective catches of sea fish for the season of 1907. Of this amount the owners of 927 fishing vessels and their crews received $61,875. The balance $94,239 was distributed amongst 20,520 boat fishermen. The distribution by provinces was as follows:—Nova Scotia, $39,331; New Brunswick, $16,454; Prince Edward Island, $10,175; Quebec, $36,102. Since its inception in 1882 the sum of $4,105,815 has been distributed among the deep-sea fishermen of these provinces.
