The Late Captain A. Douglas Borden

His many friends in this city town were greatly shocked to learn of the sudden death of Captain A. Douglas Borden which occurred at Port Hope, Ont., in the forenoon of Wednesday, September 8th.

The deceased, who was born at Wolfville, N. S., was a son of the late Clarence W. Harris and Mrs. Borden; he was a nephew of the late Sir Frederick Borden and a cousin of Sir Robert; he was educated at Acadia University, graduating with honors and receiving his degree of B. A. in the class of 1915. He served with distinction in the world war, having enlisted as a private in the 55th Nova Scotia Highlanders, was promoted to lieutenant and received his captaincy in France; his only brother Robert was killed at Passchendaele, and he himself was so severely wounded in the Spring of 1917 that he was rendered unfit for further active service, and was sent out by the Government as lecturer on Military Science and Modern Warfare to Brown University, Providence, R. I. He was publicly thanked by the President of the University and the chairman of the Red Cross and Liberty Loan Committees for the splendid work he accomplished while in Providence, after the cessation of hostilities he became associated with the great Nicholson File Company, in which he was fully advanced, and last June was promoted to the position of assistant manager of the company, and at the end of his second year was to have assumed the full management; he was without a day's leave for Vancouver on a business trip on the afternoon of the day of his death, and left his home about ten o'clock, called at the railway ticket office and purchased his ticket, telling the agent he proposed going for a long walk before Jessie Strong presided at the lunch; his walk was along the beautiful lake shore road, and as it was a hot day he evidently decided to go in for a bath, he placed his Hillard Muttart, Harry Silliphant, Colin Dickie, J. Frank Arnett, Fred Wright, and Lucas Allen. The bathing suit at the time, waded out to where the water was about two feet deep, and as he plunged in the heart failed and he was found smothered; the body was found floating face down on the surface of the water just where he had been, one foot resting on the bottom, and there was no sign of water in the lungs as would be the case had he been drowned, and as there was not the slightest appearance of foul play the Coroner, Dr. A. G. Aldrich decided that an inquest was unnecessary and in his report simply stated that the deceased came to his death from accidental causes.

Captain Borden carried a number of pieces of shrapnel in his body, one piece being so close to the heart that the doctors were unable to operate for its removal, and the Coroner gave it as his opinion that this may have contributed to the shock to the heart caused by the sudden immersion in the cold water of the lake.

Captain Borden was married at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, Nov. 1913, to Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKinnon of this city, and they have two sons, Robert, and one daughter, Mrs. H. F. Pinneore of Montreal are left to cherish the memory of a devoted husband, father and brother. The body was taken to Wolfville, N. S., on Monday.

TEACH SPEAKERS HOW TO SNUB HECKLERS OXFORD, Oct. 6.—David Lloyd George, himself the centre of many a verbal battle with hecklers, was an interested spectator recently of the methods used by the school for Liberal speakers to fortify students against the terrors of heckling. Several speakers were chosen by lot and a group of expert hecklers were chosen to annoy them. The hecklers permitted the speakers almost to reach their points before hurling disconcerting questions at them. "What do you mean by incubus?" demanded one heckler. "Is it some kind of an incubator?" "If the gentleman will come forward," replied the student speaker, nonchalantly, "I will show the audience what an incubus is like."

Eagle Feminine Strength BERLIN, Oct. 8.—When men placed the eagle on the national coat of arms as an emblem of manly strength, says Dr. Helen Schulte-Vaering, women's rights advocate, they paid the greatest possible compliment to womankind. Among the eagles it is the female which represents strength, she claims. Frau Schulte-Vaering suspects that men had one put over on them by the women of ancient Egypt during the period of petty government there, she asserts, "who claimed the eagle as national emblem, because the stateliness and strength of the female eagle far surpassing that of the male, exactly suited their fancy."

Contempt Sentence Cost County Judge His Seat EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 8.—Bret Hart's practice when he was a county editor here in the sixties of freely criticizing the conduct of judges and court decisions, seems to be a treasured heritage of the California redwood country. For Denver Sevier, superior court judge of Humboldt county, a sentence an editor for contempt in the last four years, ran fifth and was nosed out at the primary election after a long term of service. The issue resulted from the 1,000 day jail sentence given Alfred Lindsay, editor of the Humboldt News, for commenting on the conduct of Judge Sevier while he was sitting in a case in which Lindsay
