Mickey McMullin, a Cape Breton welterweight boxer who performed in Charlottetown some years ago against "Irish Leo" Kelly, recently issued a challenge through a Halifax paper to any welterweight in the Maritimes, adding that a P. E. Islander would be preferable. Immediately Albert "Kid" Nickerson, a local favorite wrote McMullin accepting the challenge and although no definite word has been forthcoming as yet, the "Kid" is in hopes that the match will be arranged shortly.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

It has been a long time since this writer saw Nickerson in action. As we remember him he was a smooth, smart boxer. He doesn't carry dynamite in his punches but can hit sharply all the time and has quite a few victories to his credit both before signing up for the Army and also in fights overseas.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Nickerson is training steadily all the time and those who have been watching him workout say he is as fast as ever and having gained a few pounds in weight is putting more steam to his punches these days. He is anxious to take on McMullin or any other welterweight in the Maritimes and will work himself into the peak of condition for the match.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

A steady downpour of rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of local football fans on Saturday afternoon and as a result a good crowd of spectators saw Saints and Prince of Wales stage a hard-fought struggle in the opening game of the rugby season.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Showing better ability to handle the wet, greasy pigskin Saints capitalized on all their chances to win rather handily but this big, heavy P. W. C. team are bound to be heard from before the season is many weeks older.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

There are a lot of famous "Jacks" in history—the Jack who climbed the bean-stalk—"Black Jack" Pershing of World War One renown—and even Jack the Ripper.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

But as far as baseball fans are concerned, the most famous Jack of all is John W. Coombs—better known as "Iron Jack" Coombs.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Iron Jack came in at the turn of the century with the iron ship and iron horse. In those days, the baseball fans were accustomed to seeing men who were men and Jack Coombs was one of their favorites.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

When baseball was in its infancy double-headers weren't feature attractions — with pitchers like Coombs they just weren't necessary. The "spit ball" and the "emery ball" kept scoring to a minimum, and sitting through a single game was enough for any ball fan.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Coombs broke into the majors "cold." He went straight from Colby to the Philadelphia Athletics and pitched under the old master—Connie Mack. Today Coombs is a college baseball coach. Baseball crazy kids with an eye on the big leagues go to Duke University for training under this same Iron Jack.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

A few months after joining the A's, Coombs pitched the longest game on record in the American League. It was this game that earned him the title "Iron Man."

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

His first year he won 10 and lost 11 games. It was not until 1910 that he really hit his stride. That year Jack won 31 out of 40 games—shutting out 13 teams to set an all-time American League record. At one time he won 10 straight, and had a string of 53 scoreless innings.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

In the 1910 world series, Coombs pitched and won three games against Chicago, beating "Three-Finger" Brown twice and Ed Ruelbach once.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Only one other pitcher—Herb Pennock—ever has won five world series games without a defeat.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

During his career in the majors, John McGraw's teams never beat Iron Jack—and neither did the great Christy Mathewson. Coombs beat Mathewson three times and the Giants 11 times. With the exception of world series contests, Coombs played in 351 games. He won 159 and lost 110.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Coombs began coaching college ball at Williams and Princeton. In 1929 he went to Duke. During 1934, 1935 and 1936 his Duke teams won 65 and lost 10 games.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Naturally, Coombs is proud of all these records. But he got his greatest thrill in a game he pitched in 1906. The A's were playing at Boston that September day—it was the opening game of a crucial series.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Because the game was so important, the fans were amazed when Connie Mack announced that newcomer "John Coombs" would start.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Very few fans even had heard of Coombs. The sportswriters could write everything they knew about him on the back of a postage stamp. They scoffed at the idea that a kid fresh out of college pitching against the Boston Red Sox—one of the toughest teams in the league. But they were wrong about Coombs. He wasn't a kid—he was a man, an iron man.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

At the end of nine innings the score was tied one-all and Coombs still was on the mound. Inning after inning went by, with Jack turning back every Boston bid for a run. Even if it had stopped in the ninth, it would have been a brilliant pitching job.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

But it didn't stop in the ninth—nor the 10th, nor the 12th, nor even the 15th.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

The A's had forced two Red Sox pitchers to leave the game but they couldn't score. Meanwhile, Coombs still was hurling effortlessly. The 20th inning rolled by and still the kid from Colby went on. The sun dropped lower and lower and the shadows stretched across the infield. The fans were tired and cramped from sitting so long—but they didn't leave.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

The 22nd inning came up with the score still deadlocked at 1 to 1. Finally in the 24th, the Athletics scored three runs to give Coombs his first major league victory. And Coombs walked into the clubhouse with a new name—"Iron Jack" Coombs.

Saints Beat P. W. C. 17-3 In Exhibition Football

Pushing across three tries in the first half, one of which was converted and then adding two more in the second session, St. Dunstan's University senior squad Saturday beat Prince of Wales 17-3 in an exhibition game played on the University gridiron. Prince of Wales lone try came early in the second half of the tussle.

Played in a steady down pour of rain both squads were guilty of many fumbles, mainly due to the slippery condition of the ball, but nevertheless, a good crowd of fans who braved the elements saw both fifteens stage another of their usual spirited struggles all the way through.

The game was a little better than a minute old when Saints struck for their opening score, Green, taking a long pass 45 yards out to sneak his way down the sideline and go over standing up. At a difficult angle the kick for the extra points was short.

Holding the play in Prince of Wales territory most of the time, Saints made it 6-0 at the fifteen minute mark when A.J. McAdam picked up a loose ball ten yards out from the touch line to plunge his way over. McAdam planted the ball directly between the posts but again the convert was off the mark.

Pressing back determinedly Prince of Wales started a march up field only to be turned back twice in a row when it appeared as if they were gonig to steamroller their way over the Saints line, and it was Saints who pushed their way back for a third touchdown, C. MacDonald doing the trick on a smart passing play. The try for the extra points was good as Don McDonald booted the oval between the uprights to make the score 11-0.

Outplayed all during the first half, Prince of Wales came out to hold their opponents practically on even terms all during the hard-fought second session. For the first ten minutes they pressed the wearers of the red and white back into the shadows of their own goalposts, and finally were rewarded when "Brick" Gormley, just recently returned from overseas duty plunged across from 10 yards out as he gathered in a loose, bounding ball.

Five minutes after this score "Sock" O'Hanley of Saints made it 14-3 for the Saints as he raced over the line and then to complete the scoring five minutes before the end Mike Hennessey fell on the ball across the P.W.C. line after Green, who had accounted for the first try of the game, had dribbled it over the line from 35 yards out.

The lineups:

Saint Dunstan's: Fullback, Cameron; three quarters, Green, Hennessey, Bradley, Mahar; halves, McAdam, D. McDonald, Smith; forwards, Mullin, O. Mullin, Gillis, Sark, Pendergast, C. McDonald, Burge, O'Hanley, Dalziel.

P.W.C.: Fullback, Forsythe; three quarters Blanchard, Nicolle, Quigley, Dalziel, Reddin; halves, McDonald, Burhoe, Proude; forwards, Robertson, Hodgson, Hooper, Gormley, Large, Carr, Court, McLennan.

Louisville Colonels Win Little World Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 14 — (AP) — Louisville Colonels nailed the 1945 Little World Series pennant to the Parkway Field flagpole here this afternoon by defeating Newark Bears 5-3 in the sixth game before 7,882 shivering fans.

Newark had got briefly back into the running for the pennant by a 5-3 victory Saturday in the fifth game of the series.

Held to five hits by three Newark pitchers, the Colonels broke a 3-3 tie in the last of the eighth when they scored the pair of runs which won the series.

Rex Cecil went the route for the Colonels, fanning eight men and keeping the International League club's 10 hits well scattered. Both sides played errorless ball.

The Little World Series opened in Newark and Louisville of the American Association won the first three games in a row. Then the teams moved here and Newark won two in succession. It was a four-of-seven series.

Rule Third Game Needed To Decide Jr. Baseball Title

SPRINGHILL, N.S., Oct. 14 — Saint John C.Y.O. and Springhill Commandos must play a third game before the Maritime junior baseball championship can be awarded, president A Mason of the Nova Scotia Baseball Association ruled here today.

Saint John and Springhill split the two games played in the series, C.Y.O. taking the first 8-2 at Saint John, and Commandos winning by an 8-4 count at St. Joseph. Saint John claimed the championship on the grounds it had been decided previously that the series would be decided on total runs scored in two games, but Springhill contended it was a best-in-three series.

Coach Henry Babineau of Springhill agreed to the total run angle at Saint John before the first game, but previous arrangements by Bill Nolles of Springhill, were for a best-in-three series, with the third game played at St. Joseph., which Springhill chose as home grounds.

New World's Golf Record Is Set

SEATTLE, Oct. 14 — (AP) —A world mark for a 72-hole golf tournament was placed in the records of the profesional golfers Association today by Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., who battered sun-mathed Broadmoor's par for 62, 68, 63, 66—259 in the $10,250 Seattle open.

His 21 strokes under regulation figures earned Nelson $2,000 in war bonds and put him so far in front of the field the only argument was over second place. Amateur Harry Givan of Seattle and Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., finished in a deadlock for runner-up spot at 272, Givan stroking even par 70 today and McSpaden romping home in 67.

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 — (AP) — Interest in soccer and all other sports is sweeping post-war Russia.

Football games have been drawing big crowds and attendances ranging up to 70,000 and 80,000 are not uncommon.

A hockey schedule is being laid out. This year also will see a revival of basketball, previously played by the Russians but not intensively. Boxing and wrestling will be regular fixtures for the winter season.

Soviet sports are followed by every one from Red Army marshals to small school boys who have saved enough rubles for tickets. Sports are not expensive here and it is usually a question of getting a seat, especially for soccer.

At 4:31, Richard combined with Blake to score Canadiens second goal. In the remaining minutes of the stanza, the Canucks peppered LeClerc with the disc and failed to count.

Ease Restrictions

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 — (CP) — A general easing of the supply situation in the United States and Canada has made possible the revocation of two priorities orders, one dealing with the use of steel strapping and the other with assistance to small manufacturers, Munitions Minister Howe announced tonight.

The purpose of the priorities order concerning flat metal strapping was to enable Canadian users and distributors to obtain the product from the United States on the basis of their various ratings.

The other order provided automatic procedures for manufacturers requiring priorities assistance to obtain relatively small amounts of production materials to be imported from the United States during the first few months following VE-Day.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 — (CP) — The Prices Board announced tonight an order revoking the restrictions governing the manufacture of paper napkins, tray covers sputum paper and toilet paper rolls.

Restrictions governing the maximum brightness specifications in the manufacture of paper towels and the use of colored stock in paper napkins remain in force for the time being as a pulp conservation measure, the announcement said.

Montreal Man Fatally Beaten

MONTREAL, Oct. 14 — (CP) — Although police investigation of the death of Morris Day, 74, apparently fatally beaten two weeks ago by an unknown airman has has not been completed, a coroner's jury decided Saturday that Day's death was accidental. He died in hospital Friday after being unconscious most of his stay.

Mrs. Day, the victim's widow, said that on the night of Sept. 28, while she and her husband were in their living room, the doorbell rang and an airman in uniform rushed into the apartment, shouting he was seeking the secret of the atomic bomb.

When the man knocked her husband down on the floor, she said, she rushed out of the house to a nearby grocery store to seek help. When she returned she saw the man leaving the apartment building.

Police arrived shortly afterwards and found the room upset, with furniture and other objects scattered about the place. Day, before lapsing into unconsciousness, told police the airman had given him a terrific punch in the jaw.

Leopold Roy, apartment superintendent, testified that on the night of the attack, he saw an airman trying to open doors in the building. When he asked what he was doing, the man told him: "I'm looking for a friend who has cut his throat."

Temperance Lecture At Heartz Hall

"If five of the old "scripts" per month per physician are enough for medicinal purposes, as Mr. Large, the Attorney General, told us at an executive Temperance Federation meeting, then why is he issuing new ones by the thousands?" Rev. Dr. John Coburn asked a capacity meeting at the Heartz Memorial Hall last night.

The occasion was the showing of two films, "It's the Brain That Counts", and "The Pay Off." The Rev. S. J. Davies, Milton, presided.

Dr. Coburn said he liked the Attorney General. Mr. Large had been frank and, Dr. Coburn believed, sincere in his remarks to the Federation executive. "But he is very young," Dr. Coburn added, "and has not had much experience. I have had 50 years experience in fighting the liquor traffic and I can tell Mr. Large that any changes in the Prohibition Act in Prince Edward Island, such as the new amendment, which makes intoxicating liguor easier to procure, will not reduce the sale of it, but will increase it."

The speaker said one argument the liquor interests were using with great effect was that "our boys who fought for freedom overseas were now returning to fight for freedom here. Meaning by that," he added, "that they should have the freedom to have a drink when they wanted it. But the real object behind the appeal is the freedom for the liquor interests to put more millions into their pockets," he concluded.

Dr. Coburn said he was much impressed by a statement made by Premier Jones that the average wage earner in Prince Edward Island only earned about half of the average wage earner in British Columbia. "This," said Dr. Coburn, "is only another argument why the Island wage earner should not have his small wage taken from him by the liquor interests."

Seek To Restore Order In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 14 — (AP) —Gen. Eduardo Avalos and Vice Admiral Vernengo Lima, firmly in control of the government and the armed forces, moved swiftly today to bring order out of Argentina's political chaos.

The two new "strong men" who Saturday night took over six of the most important of Argentina's 11 cabinet posts gave an immediate demonstration of their control over the military establishment by ordering a drastic shake-up in the army high command.

At the same time, it was reported authoritatively that Avalos had asked all 14 provincial interventors to submit their resignations at once. These posts, which carry the authority of governor, were all filled by vice president Juan Peron when he was in power.
