U. S. INVESTIGATION NOW EXTENDED

Probe Will be Conducted Into Affairs of Daugherty Bank.

(Canadian Press) WASHINGTON, April 9.—A wide array of new charges has been thrown into the already crowded records of the senate Daugherty investigating committee.

Witnesses have spoken of drug selling, the parades at federal penitentiaries, referred to bootlegging operations in New York, crossed the continent to tell of munitions being furnished revolutionists in Lower California, and came back to relate alleged instances of liquor supplies being brought to "the little green house on K street," in Washington, mentioned many times during the progress of the investigation as a rendezvous in recent years of high government officials.

Faced with the mass of material, already deeply occupied with executive session inquiries into war contract questions, decided to recess until Monday.

"The investigating is directing us, rather than we directing it," Chairman Brookhart remarked.

Rapid Fire Testimony

During the intervals in the examination of witnesses, the committee decided to send two of its members, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, its prosecutor, and Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, to Washington Court House, Ohio, with power to hold either open or executive investigations into the affairs of the Midland National Bank, operated by M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney-general.

Rapid fire testimony was heard during the day from witnesses who included J. E. Dyche, once warden of the Atlanta prison; W. J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice and Daniel Smith, a former negro butler at "the little green house on K street."

Dyche was the first to take the stand and declared that he had instituted an investigation into extensive supplies of narcotic drugs to convicts, obtained the aid of "under cover men" from the Department of Justice, and had four prison guards indicted. Herbert H. Votaw, federal superintendent of prisons, ordered the investigation suspended, Dyche said, adding that later he received a hint to resign, and did so, subsequently accepting an appointment in the prohibition service.

Dollar a Year Man.

From Mr. Burns the committee learned that Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, was a $1 a year man on the Department of Justice investigation service staff, and that E. B. McLean, the Washington publisher, had recently resigned such a position. Both men were of service, Burns said, resenting a statement by Chairman Brookhart that these agents "were a part of the millionaire bunch most dangerous to the country."

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Enjoyable Supper Was Followed by Speeches by Premier Stewart, Mr. A. C. Saunders, Mayor McKenna, U. S. Consul Moomaw and Others. — Charlottetown Will Be Port of Call For Steamer Lovatt On Magdalen Service.

The quarterly meeting of the Charlottetown Board of Trade was held last evening in the Cafe Beau and was preceded by a very pleasant supper and social hour. Addresses were given by Premier Stewart, Mr. A. C. Saunders, Mayor McKenna and Mr. Moomaw, American Consul. Mr. A. E. Dewar also gave an interesting account of his recent visit to Ottawa where he presented island express rate grievances on behalf of the Board of Trade. Among those present were Mr. J. LeRoy Holman, of Summerside, past president of the Maritime Boards of Trade. The president, Mr. S. A. McDonald, presided at last night's meeting.

Mr. McDonald referred to the regrettable death of Mr. L. S. Brown, general manager of the Atlantic Division, C. N. B., and then touched upon matters which have recently been engaging the attention of the Board of Trade. The double train service has been secured from April 27th this year and it is hoped eventually to have this service all the year around. To further the activities of the Tourist Association it is felt that Charlottetown should have the same service accorded as cities in other provinces. Local claims in the matter of the Magdalen Islands service have been stressed and he believed it was the intention of the Lovatt steamship company to make Charlottetown a port of call at least once a week. He referred also to Mr. Dewar's successful visit to Ottawa.

Premier Stewart

Premier Stewart who, with Mr. A. C. Saunders responded to the toast "The Provincial Legislature," was warmly applauded. The commendable activities of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, he said, are very well known. It is an splendid exemplification of what can be done by co-operation. He cited the Egg and Poultry Association and the Potato Growers' Association as other instances of successful co-operation. He believed it would not be long before the dairymen would also be banded together for similar purposes. The fox industry has been growing and in this connection he hoped and that shortly an experimental feeding ranch will be placed here. A ranch of this kind has been located at Ottawa for some time and the result of experiments carried on there have already been beneficial to the fox breeders in this Province. It is hoped now to bring this station here at "Tomline this work with Dr. Allen's experiments in fox diseases. The great field for co-operative work however is still ahead. In a small province like this the need of co-operation was even greater than in larger communities, because unless we stand together we have no chance at all. We need greater co-operation between city and country, and between different classes, and different sects. While we have our parties politi-

BRITISH COAL STRIKE IS NOW PROBABLY OFF

Contrary to Expectations Miners Nearly all Vote Acceptance of Terms Offered.

(British United Press) LONDON, April 9.—The first results of the balloting by the coal miners on acceptance or rejection of the final offer of colliery owners upon result of which will probably depend the calling of a strike showed a big surprise since only a small majority favored rejection of the terms offered whereas it was confidently predicted that the vote would go overwhelmingly against acceptance. Results still to come in were recorded in districts in which it is expected that the majority will favor acceptance.

The result shows a remarkable and totally unexpected change of feeling throughout the entire industry, and it is generally thought this morning that a strike is improbable if not altogether out of the question, not altogether clear inasmuch as the engineering industry this morning makes a demand for an advance of one pound per week all round on their weekly wages. This will affect several thousands of men directly and if it eventuates in a strike may throw many thousands more out of employment.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY

Legislative Chamber, Wednesday Mr. Saunders began proceedings by asking the Leader of the Government, if the Government of the Province had any Solicitor Attorney or agent to attend the recent trial of Andrew Fraser Mitchell in England; if so, what was the name of this person? and what did this man receive for his services? and when were his services retained?

Mr. Saunders replied that the Provincial Government has been communicating with the office of the High Commissioner at London. The prosecution against Mitchell was conducted by a private organization there, representing the retired army officers, and the P. E. I. Government were not represented by counsel at all. Therefore no expenses have been incurred. Major C. Lionel Hanington, a New Brunswick barrister, who is now practicing in London, was on the island in the fall during the time the Mitchell enquiry was being held. He voluntarily offered any assistance he could give and at the trial in London he appeared as a witness, giving evidence as to his knowledge of the land in this Province. He was not engaged by the Provincial Government and the Government is under no financial obligation to him.

Mr. Saunders asked the leader of the Government if the Government of this Province has made any representations to the Governor General in Council at Ottawa or any communication of any kind regarding the standardization of the Prince Edward Island Railway.

Premier Stewart said the answer to this question was "No." Such representations to the Governor General in Council will be dealt with through the House, as in previous years, by an address presented to His Excellency from the whole House.

Mr. Shaw MacMillan asked the Commissioner of Public Works, if he has received a petition from William McQueen and others, residents of Mount Vernon, Wood Islands, Belle River and Caledonia to have the hill, commonly known as "McQueen Hill" in Mt. Vernon straightened and the road repaired, and what the Government proposes to do in reference to same.

Hon. J. A. McDonald said a petition had been received and when conditions were fit to deal with the matter, in the spring, the Department will investigate and decide on the best course to take.

Mr. McEwan presented petitions from members and adherents of the Presbyterian churches at Montague, Malpeque, Darnley, Bloomfield, Alberton, Granville, Rose Valley, Bradalbane, Cardigan, and St. James Church, Charlottetown, against the proposed union with the Methodist and Congregational churches.

Mr. Buntain presented two petitions from the inhabitants of Hunter River and vicinity in favor of the proposed union.

Hon. Mr. McDonald submitted the annual report of the Provincial Library.

On motion of Mr. J. B. McDonald the Bill to incorporate the Peakes Rural Telephone Company, Ltd., was read a second time and committed. It was reported agreed to without amendment.

On motion of Mr. McLean the

PLANNING NEW MONARCHY IN FATHERLAND

Monarchists' First Move Will be to Undermine the Socialist Republic.

(United Press) BERLIN, April 9.—German monarchists hope that through the Reichstag elections of May 4 they can begin laying the foundation for restoration of a monarchy in the land of the Hohenzollerns.

It is their aim to get the Nationalists and Folkists in the saddle, and then to begin systematically working for the reintroduction of the old order of things. All their policies are aimed at undermining republicanism. Their curses against the republic are quite frank, fervid and free.

Kapp, Ludendorff and Hitler failed to get the reactionary government which the monarchists needed as a stepping stone to a monarchy. But social, economic and international political conditions have granted at least the framework for such a regime, where the arch plotters stumbled.

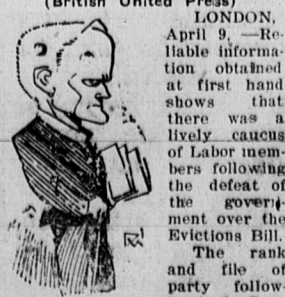

The Pan Germans—they of the shorn heads, slashed faces and manes—have ridiculed republicanism so much that the people, untrained in thinking politically for themselves, are beginning to believe that republicanism means something inherently wrong about it. Sneers about this or that Republican Minister have had their effect. German memories are short; they do not recall certain ridiculous tendencies of the great William, ruler by the grace of me and Gott.

Then, too, the post-war years, with their distressing exploitation of the middle classes and the workers, have left deep furrows on the minds of thousands of voters. They do not perceive that some of these economic developments would have also occurred under a Kaiserium. They only know that under a republic they have become paupers. Hence, they argue, let's make an end to the republic, or at least to the socialist brand of republic.

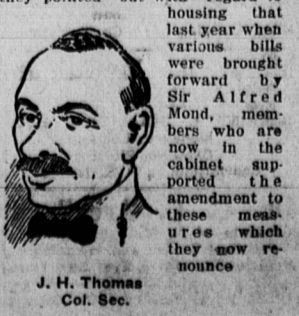

Further, the systematic hymn of hate against the French has also borne fruit. The French are blamed for such troubles as the republic cannot be shouldered with. The constant dining of damn, damn, damn the Franzmann into the ears of the German populace has made them easy prey for the Polkist campaigners, who will "free you from the French yoke, the Marxist yoke, the Semitic yoke"—and any other existing yokes.
