The committee has learned, since receipt of the above telegram, that the two men are at Pictou and it is expected they will arrive by the car ferry this morning.

PROMOTION.—Mr. W. C. Sinclair formerly of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff, Charlottetown, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Manager of the St. John branch where he has been for the past year. His many Charlottetown friends will be glad to learn of his promotion.

C., on October 16th, when Miss Annie May McLean was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Gordon Callbeck, both of Prince Edward Island. The Rev. A. W. McLeod, assisted by the Rev. G. S. NATIONAL SERVICE.—In connection with the inventory which the National Service Board of Canada is now making of all males between the ages of sixteen and sixty-five, inclusive, residing in Canada, the Postmaster General has issued a circular letter to all Postmasters in this Province requesting their hearty co-operation in order to ensure the complete success of the project. It is also pointed out that the Postmasters by prompt efficient action in this respect will be rendering vital service to the country at a moment of great national peril. Cards and self-addressed envelopes are to be supplied to every male inhabitant. The cards are to be filled out and placed in the self-addressed envelope, which will be returned to the National Service Board without postage. Post Office Inspector Wheat is also taking the matter up with the Postmasters with a view to having the cards thoroughly distributed, properly filled out and promptly returned and it is hoped that all the people will co-operate with the Postmasters in order that the Government may have a proper idea of the full man power of Canada.

On September thirteenth, nineteen hundred and sixteen the spirit of Mrs. Isabella Anne Hood, Tryon, passed peacefully to Him who gave it. Born January first, eighteen forty two, Mrs. Hood was in the seventy-fifth year of her age, at the time of her death, her husband having predeceased her almost four years. She was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. John Leard, "Creek" Tryon, and of a large family of sons and daughters she is survived by one brother, Mr. Charles Leard, "Creek" who is now totally blind. For the past few years Mrs. Hood has resided with her niece, Mrs. George H. Callbeck, North Tryon, they being greatly attached to each other, and who cared for her as if she was her beloved mother. Mrs. Hood was also very much in love with Tryon and its people, in which place she lived, died and was buried. She was a true member of the Methodist Church there, and in her last days was attended by the pastor, Rev. G. M. Young. About two and a half weeks before her death she accidentally fell and injured her back. She seemed to recover and continued active until a half hour before she expired, when she became unconscious and slept away. She leaves to mourn, one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Callbeck, Summerside, and three sons, W. H., J. P., and R. B., the two former of whom are in Calgary and thus could not be present at her death or burial. Another beloved daughter, Miss Jennie, died suddenly in eighteen eighty nine at the age of twenty-three. The pall-bearers were Messrs William, Frank and Hedley Muttart and Wallace Lowther. Thus has ended the life of a good lady whose home, and whose family, and whose church were her delight, and who daily lived for a life of everlasting happiness.

REGRETTABLE ACCIDENT.—A regrettable accident occurred on Queen Street on Saturday night. Mrs. David Cavanagh, an elderly lady, falling in front of one of the stores, fracturing her hip. Quite a number of other people fell on the same icy section of sidewalk that same evening but luckily escaped injury. It is to be hoped that this will be a lesson to merchants to sprinkle a little salt on the sidewalks when in a glib condition and thus avoid such painful accidents.

WEDDING BELLS.—Miss Mary Ellen DesRoches and Representative Fletcher W. Lawton were married on Thursday, Nov. 30th in New Port R. I., in St. Joseph's Church by Rev. Edward A. Higney, in the presence of a small company of friends. The bride was attended by Mrs. Michael H. Dyman and the groom by Mr. Thomas S. Lane. The bride is a graduate of the Newport Hospital School for nurses. The groom is a member of the Representative Council, has been a representative in the General Assembly since 1911 and is prominent in local political circles.

Mr. John McQuillan received a telegram from Cambridge, Mass., Sunday announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Livingstone. She leaves to mourn a loving husband, two brothers and two sisters. John McQuillan, merchant of this city, Jas. McQuillan, Cambridge, Mass., Mrs. Phillis Coyle and Mrs. Michael Carragher of this city. The deceased who was fifty-six years of age, left Charlottetown thirty-five years ago. She had hosts of friends in the city of her adoption as well as in this city who will mourn the loss of a kind and good neighbor. To her immediate relatives and friends The Guardian extends sincere sympathy.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Grace Church Mission Band was celebrated last evening. After a pleasing programme had been given by the children, they were treated to a well prepared supper, to which they did full justice. The celebration of the evening was the presentation of an appreciative address and a beautiful silver teapot to Mrs. Thomas Pickard in commemoration of twenty-five years faithful service as leader of the Mission Band. The presentation was made on behalf of the ladies of the W. M. S. by their president, Mrs. Wm. Long, to which Mrs. Pickard fittingly replied.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. Joseph Coulson, of Sea View, an old and respected resident went to the woods on Friday last. In the act of cutting down a large tree it lodged against another one, and Mr. Coulson went up about twelve feet to free the lodged one when the limb he was standing on gave away and he fell to the ground and lay for an hour or more. Mr. William Campbell hearing the cries of man in trouble, searched and found the aged gentleman. He telephoned to Kensington for a doctor and with willing neighbors took Mr. Coulson home. When the doctor arrived he found his arm and shoulder broken and other internal injuries causing him great suffering. At last accounts the patient was resting easier.

RED AND WHITE.—The December St. Dunstan's "Red and White," just issued, is a particularly attractive number. Besides the usual number of excellent original articles it has a pleasing Christmassy flavour. Lucy Gertrude Clarkin's beautiful poem, "For Us," is given the place of honor on the first page while an appropriate setting is given to it on the opposite page in a fine reproduction of the "Obedience to the Child King." Another excellent poem which shows more than ordinary literary merit and originality is "A Thought Suggested by the New Year," by Mr. T. Campbell. The vaudeville read at the Convocation in May last by Mr. Edwin L. Doyle, "Canada's Place in the World" by Mr. Finlay Muttart, several original stories and other contributions make up a most interesting number. "Red and White" costs only 50 cents a year and any single number of it is more than worth it.

An adjourned meeting of the P. E. Island Fish and Game Association was held last night. President A. E. Morrison in the chair. Among others present were Messrs W. W. Stanley, James McMillan, Gilbert Gaudet, Isaac Carter, John McLaren, Aeneas A. McDonald, Thomas Morris, Charles Dalziel, Frank Riggs, John Pierce, and Frank Fraser.

It was agreed that the sum of $10 be awarded by the Association for information that will lead to conviction for violation of the Game and Fisheries Act.

Mr. J. M. Haynes of the firm of Gaudet & Hazard was appointed attorney to have charge of the Association's prosecutions.

Notices regarding the above matters are to be printed and distributed about the city and province. The collection of dues was among other matters discussed and it was decided to make a canvas of the amounts now about due.

On last Tuesday morning a large funeral procession followed her remains which were laid to rest in the quiet Catholic cemetery of Wellington under the shadow of St. Mary's of the Immaculate Conception—the church where she had so often knelt in prayer and which had so often known the offering of her pastor Rev. J. A. McDonald and the service at the grave performed by her life-long friend Rev. S. A. Boudreau of Egmont Bay. During her illness she was frequently visited and consoled by her pastor and the Rev. F. L. Connolly.

The dark shadow of her death falls heavily upon her husband John R. Larkin, her daughter Mrs. Gillis, Sydney, C. B., her sons, Emmet with the colors in England and Byron on the battle line on the blood-red field of France. Besides a legion of friends and acquaintances who will miss her for her cheerfulness, her charity and her unselfish Christian virtues, after the darkness may she see the light she hoped for and in her flesh may she see her God in the land of the living.

And to the friendless prove a friend.

What about the Belgian Children's Christmas?

This is not an appeal to give the children of our Ally the same kind of a Christmas that our own little ones expect, with Santa Claus and toys and candy. They have given up hope of that till after the war.

It is simply a call for food—for enough bread and soup to stop the pangs of hunger that hundreds of them feel every day.

The cost of a moderate size turkey—of two or three boxes of chocolates—of one of the many presents we have formed the habit of giving to those who do not need them, will feed a Belgian family a whole month!

Don't you think the money will do more good if this year you give some of it to the Belgian Relief Fund? Will it not be more pleasing to Him whose birth we celebrate? Send your contribution weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees, or
