FOX MEN ATTENTION

Experts tell us young foxes require bone meal. The safest and most satisfactory way in which it can be fed is by feeding the IMPERIAL FOX BISCUITS. These Biscuits contain a good percentage of fats, both animal and vegetable, and, when fed in skim milk, produce excellent results. Be sure IMPERIAL FOX BISCUITS form a large part of the diet of your growing foxes this season.

MARKET

COMMENTS ON LIVE STOCK MARKETINGS DURING THE MONTH OF JUNE 1919

Compared with the month of June 1918, there was a decrease in total cattle receipts at stock yards of approximately 18 per cent.

Receipts of hogs showed an increase of 35 per cent over the offerings during June 1918.

Receipts of calves were 8 per cent more during June 1919 than during June 1918.

Sheep offerings were 5 per cent more during June 1919 than during June 1918.

The increase shown in the total offerings of hogs was made to Eastern markets. Western stock yards show a total decrease in receipts of slightly over 28 per cent, compared with the same period of 1918.

Western markets received an offering of sheep during June, about 18 per cent larger than that during June, 1918. On Eastern markets the increase was approximately 5 per cent.

Strike conditions seriously affected trading operations and volume of receipts on Western markets. The effects of labor troubles were felt less severely in the East.

Compared with quotations during the month of May, prices on choice butcher steers were off 75 cents to $1.00 per hundred in the Eastern markets, and 50 cents to $1.00 per hundred in the Western markets. The decline was more apparent than real, as the standard of quality on practically all markets was lower during June than during May.

With the normal, there was a very narrow margin between the prices of heavy butcher cattle and light butcher cattle.

In the East there was a noticeable decrease in the offerings of butcher steers weighing under one thousand pounds.

In the West there was a marked increase in the offerings of light butcher steers weighing one thousand pounds and under.

Of the total cattle receipts on all markets, about 19 per cent were steers weighing over ten hundred pounds.

During the latter part of June heavy marketings of light cattle were made from Southern Alberta on account of poor pasture conditions and prospects of a protracted dry spell.

At the close of the month the market for cattle was unsettled, although light receipts had a somewhat steadying influence, as also had the report that the packing house coolers were rather short in supply. Hogs, however, were accumulating additional strength.

Receipts of live stock at Canadian Stock Yards during the six months ending June 30, showed increases on all classes compared with receipts during the similar period of 1918. The increases were: cattle, 16 per cent; calves 5 per cent; hogs, 32 per cent; sheep 108 per cent. In cattle the percentage increase was greater west of Port William than east. In calves the increase in receipts was all in Eastern Canada, the Western markets showing a decrease of about 40 per cent. Western markets received 1888 hogs by 12.5 per cent, than during the same period of 1918, while Eastern yards showed an increase of 18 per cent. While the statement of killings at inspected establishments is not yet available it is believed that the killings will show far stronger increases for the first six months of the year over the same period of 1918, than is indicated by the comparative marketings.

A feature of the trade during the period under discussion was the keen buying of hogs, at country points by packing house representatives.

Export from the yards to United States points during the six months ending June 30th, amounted to 9,975 calves, 39,494 butcher cattle, 22,264 stockers, 18,079 feeders, 980 hogs and 7,878 sheep.

MY GARDEN FAIR

I planted some seed in my garden fair, And watched it with eagerness, Nor grudging the measure of time and care

Bestowed thereon, if it did bear Return for my toil and strength

And in the soul of a street was sown Some seed that might germinate, But I watched not how it had later grown.

Nor seemed to think of it as my own, Till I found it was too late. Shall plants and gardens be more than a youth

And tended with constant care, And he with a soul of wonderous warmth

Be left to himself, while things of earth Are counted beyond compare?

O Soul, grant not that my garden's share Be all that my eye can see. But symbol rather of what were fair That I should render those in my care

For time and eternity! —Fred Scott-Shepard.

HEROES WELCOMED HOME

On the evening of July 2nd the ladies of the Lower Montague Red Cross held a reception in their hall which was tastefully decorated with burning American beauty and Monsieur R. Armand roses, in honor of the last lot of the Lower Montague boys to arrive from overseas, namely Gunners John Clark, Eli Vatcher, Roy W. Aitken, Bombd. Lee C. Allen, Private Roy L. Hewitt and Charles Landry. These boys saw about three years active service and fortunately have been able to return to their homes without any mishap. Mr. Leith Cowan, acting chairman to the satisfaction of all concerned, notwithstanding the onerous nature of his duties. The following well arranged programme was very successfully rendered. Chorus, Welcome home by the choir; Violin solo by Mr. Leith Cowan; Duet by Misses Lillian Beck and Agnes Annear; Recitation by George Dyke; Song by Geo. A. Poole; Violin solo by Mr. Corran with autoharp accompaniment by Miss Cowan; Solo Miss Lillian Beck; Duet by Misses Lena Wright and Agnes Annear; Recitation by Mr. Leith Cowan; Chorus, Canada my Home by the choir; After the rendering of the above programme the following address of welcome was read by Mrs. Dan Stewart and each of the soldiers was presented with a five dollar gold coin by Mrs. J. Wallace Aitken and Mrs. Leslie Cowan on behalf of the Lower Montague Red Cross. Gunner John Clark replied for himself and comrades in a neat and appropriate speech in which he thanked the people of Lower Montague for their kindness in sending parcels of good things while at the front, and now on their return giving this handsome receipt.

Delicious ice cream, cake and coffee was served by the ladies during the evening. This the third of a series of receptions to the Lower Montague returned soldiers was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

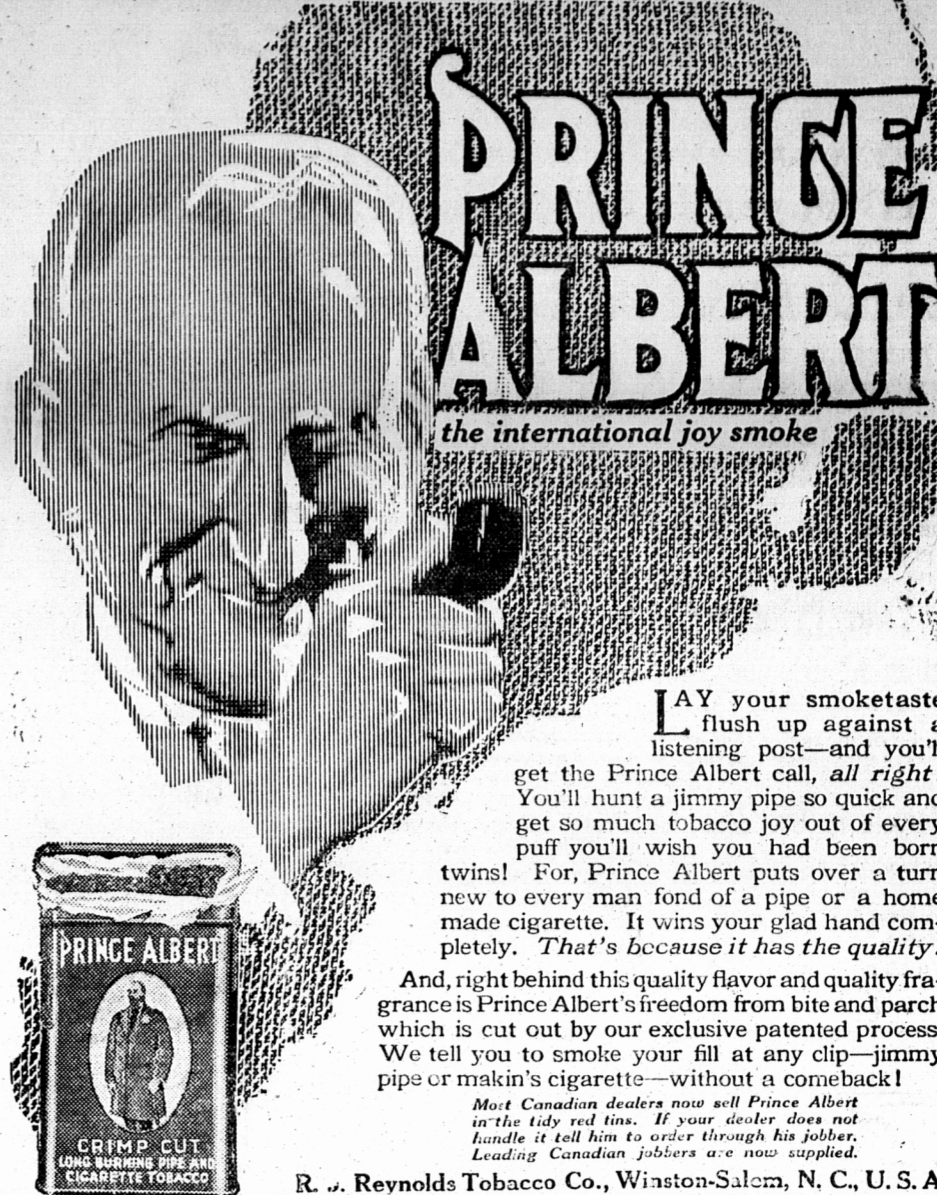

It is with great pleasure that we, your friends and neighbors come here tonight to extend to you a hearty welcome back to your native province, and to show our appreciation of what you have done for the Empire, of which you are loyal subjects. Altho far removed from you in the body we have been with you in spirit, and it is needless to say that you have always had our best wishes and prayers for your safety and success of the Allies. That you have done your bit and done it royally is evident from the utter collapse of the Hun ambition of ruling the world, and that your friends at home have also endeavored to do theirs is evident from the constant stream of munitions, food, etc., that poured across the Atlantic. We are sure that in future years you will feel proud that it has been your privilege to take part in this tremendous undertaking of the last four years in which the world was rid of the most terrible incubus she has ever experienced, namely German Militarism. A great part of the credit for this making a world a safe place for democracy is due to the valor and daring of the Canadian soldiers who have thus won imperishable fame and have shown the overtrained hordes of Central Europe that the sense of right backed by freedom and initiative are of more value in a struggle of such titanic proportions than religious superstition coupled with obedience to autocratic rulers. Had the Canadians failed to hold several strategic points in the onward march of the Allies there might be a different tale to tell and the Hun tax gatherer might now order us to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and the old Union Jack that has always been the emblem of liberty instead of flying away in the breeze would be hidden away. We shudder when we think that the fate of the Armenians and Belgians would doubtless be ours had the cause of the Allies failed, as certainly it would had not the free and intelligent forces of Canada and the United States come to the rescue and let us hope eliminated for all time the desire of any European Autocrat to control the destinies of the world, or even a small part thereof. That we are grateful to you for saving us from this fate is evident and it is for the purpose of putting this evidence in a tangible form that we are here tonight, whether it be our religious training, character or ability that have invoked the Divine favor of the people of Lower Montague is not evident but the fact nevertheless remains that all of the sons of Lower Montague have returned safe and sound in body and let us hope with a broad and liberal grasp of the problems of reconstruction that new confronts the world and now we ask you to accept these coins as slight tokens of the esteem in which you are held by the people of this community. We would ask you to value them not so much for their intrinsic worth, but rather as an expression of the esteem and good will we feel for you, and also that when you look at this coin, that you remember that you are a citizen of a nation in the making and that you use your best efforts to make it a nation, that will be adored and respected by the other nations of the world, not by its inordinate wrath and display, but rather for the intelligence, brotherhood and equality of its citizens.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

To Lance Corporal John H. MacKinnon and Private Neil W. MacQuarrie.

It is with real pleasure and satisfaction we meet tonight to extend to you a cordial welcome and to rejoice because you have been spared to return to your native land after your long experience in welding the weapons of war.

When the clarion call came and every son of British Liberty realized the Empire was in danger, we were proud to know that the boys of Riverdale were ready and willing to fight for King and Country, and that you fought and bled and suffered, should make us willing to honor you and show our gratitude to our young heroes.

And now that the cruel war is over and the dove of peace has again flown over the land that was torn and rent by the terrible and we pray God that the world will never again be shaken by such terrible slaughter.

We ask you to accept this token as a proof that we wish in a small way to show we appreciate your efforts on our behalf and on the behalf of Freedom and Liberty.

Wishing you peace and plenty Signed on behalf of Riverdale School District John M. MacPhee James A. MacQuarrie Archie H. MacFadyen Donald D. MacFadyen M. F. MacKinnon

A similar reception was made for Duncan A. MacKinnon, also of Riverdale a short time previous he was presented with a pair of gold cuff links and a five dollar coin the same as the others.

Miss Mary MacQuarrie reading the address of welcome and Miss Florie MacFadyen, making the presentation.

CAVENDISH SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of Cavendish school took place Friday afternoon, June 27. Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, upwards of twenty-five parents and visitors were present.

The pupils were examined in the different subjects by their teacher, Miss Stella Hayden, assisted by Rev. W. E. Piper and Mrs. Ernest MacNeill. The prompt and accurate answers to all questions testified to the thorough knowledge of the pupils and the careful manner in which they were trained. After the examination a very enjoyable program was carried out, at the close of which several prizes were awarded and leaving diplomas presented to Misses Bertha Wyand and Nellie MacCoubrey. The ladies then served ice-cream and cake and speeches were made congratulating the teacher on the good work done and expressing regret at her departure. Miss Nellie MacCoubrey read a nicely worded address and Miss Marion Webb presented the teacher with a pocket-book and $21. The teacher replied very suitably, thanking them for their nice gift and for the many kindnesses shown to her during her stay for two years, and also for the co-operation shown by parents and pupils in the work. The National Anthem brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.
