

Bald Heads Not Wanted

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age

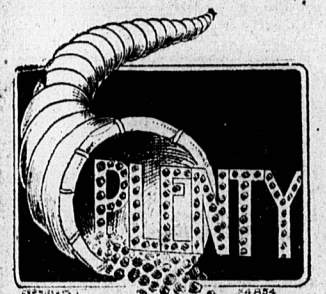

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of hair if they will follow our healthy advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Rochester who is suffering from any scalp or baldness to try our Rexall '93' Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Charlottetown, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The MacKinnon Drug Co.

The Guardian omitted to state in Wednesday's issue that a little excitement was created in the Opera House, Charlottetown, the previous evening during the presentation of "Human Hearts" when a young man in one of the seats near the back in the centre aisle fainted. He was at once carried out and soon recovered.

Persons desiring advertising of any kind inserted in The Guardian are requested to leave their order for same at this office as early as possible during the day, as the writing staff at night requires all their time for their own work, and finds it difficult to handle even emergency advertising, which latter but lessens the amount of news in that issue.

A window which attracted a great deal of attention in Charlottetown yesterday was that of the Two Mac's Drug Store on Gt. Geo. Street. Here was a unique exhibition in the form of relics from the Old Queen's County Jail. These included the chair used by Dowie, who was convicted and hanged for murder many years ago, the black flag which was hoisted at the time of the execution, the bell from the jail gate, several immense locks from the doors, hinges, keys and shackles, and also the six coins found in a bottle under the corner stone with the moulded parchment which was beyond recognition. The display was an interesting one and many hundreds viewed it during the day and evening.

We want a few knockers.—We are striving to make our store service superior to any in the city. We want you to make yourself at home in our store, so be convinced that this is your store whose main consideration is a desire to please you every wish. We want you to kick and kick hard if you find our store service lacking. We are going ahead rapidly but not rapidly enough to please ourselves and only by finding out our faults can we improve them. If our store is not bright and clean enough, our salesmen obliging, courteous and prompt enough or our delivery service not as good as your desire let us know. MARKET MAN, MARKED A MAN?

AMHERST, N.S., April 2.—There is quite a sensation in police circles in Amherst today. Last week Leo Bradshaw, a prominent market man, had information laid against him by Inspector Carter on a charge of violating the Canada Temperance Act. The charge was postponed from Friday, until Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Early Sunday morning policeman Helm was on his rounds on the main street of the town and saw a light in Bradshaw's house. He was trying the door to ascertain if it was locked, when the proprietor put in an appearance. Policeman Helm says that Bradshaw and two of his friends assaulted him. What the other side of the story is has not yet been divulged, but Helm's face is rather badly disfigured. Bradshaw was placed under arrest today and gave bonds for $500 for appearance for trial on Wednesday.
