Lost Time.

The late Sylvanus Miller, civil engineer, who was engaged in a railroad enterprise in Central America, was seeking local support for a road and attempted to give the matter point. He asked a native: "How long does it take you to carry your goods to market by muleback?" "Three days," was the reply. "There's the point," said Miller. "With our road in operation you could take your goods to market and be back home in one day." "Very good, senior," answered the native. "But what would we do with the other two days?"—Boston Record.

The Last Luxury.

Ten-year-old Arthur had been telling impressively of the number of servants employed in his home. He continued, "And our house is fixed so that if you want a drink or a window raised or to go upstairs or anything all you have to do is to pull a chain!" "But what do you want with so many servants in that sort of a house?" asked one of his hearers. "Oh," replied Arthur, "we have the servants to pull the chains."—Judge.

Drops and Minims.

Drops vary in size according to the conditions under which they are produced. Some are large and some are small, some long and some short. The drop of the druggist is called a minim, of which 480 go to make a fluid ounce and 76,800 to make a gallon. An actual experiment in filling a one ounce measure will probably show that 400 drops make a fluid ounce. The average drop is 20 per cent larger than the minim.

Too Big a Pill.

The man in bed had never been sick before. The doctor, wishing to ascertain his temperature, pointed the thermometer at him and commanded, "Open your mouth, Jim." "Wait a minute doc," objected the patient. "I don't b'lieve I can swallow that."—Judge.

All habits gather by unseen degrees. As brooks make rivers, rivers run to seas.—Dryden.

Got A Pain In Your Back?

IF YOU HAVE HEED THE WARNING.

You get a pain in your back, and you wonder what is the matter. When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Heed the warning; cure the weak, lame, aching back and dispose of any chances of further trouble.

If you don't do this, serious complications are very apt to arise, and the first thing you know you will be troubled with Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease; the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

On the first sign of a pain in the back, Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the backache and prevent any further complications arising.

Mr. Stewart Johnston, Richardson Mines, N.S., writes:—"For years I was troubled with my back, and I had to give up work. I tried Dr. after Dr., and was getting no better. I had almost given up hope when I began to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I took three boxes of them, and found I was completely cured. I feel I owe my life to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

KILL SHARKS FOR FUN.

Kanakas Can Whip the Man Eaters in a Fair Fight. In the Pacific ocean lives a race of men who outswim fish and who can kill man eating sharks in a fair fight. They are Kanakas, the seamen who are natives of the Hawaiian Islands.

"A native can whip a shark because he can outswim him," states an American who has been living in the islands many years. "I never heard of a native being injured by a shark, and there is a superstition among them that a shark is afraid of a Kanaka and will refuse to fight. This is not true, however, and grew out of the fact that a native always whips a shark. A Kanaka will spy a shark and, taking a knife between his teeth, dive in after him. It is a fair fight, because the shark has teeth that are as deadly as the knife. The shark will make for the swimmer, and when it is in range will flop suddenly on its side, which position is necessary before it can use its powerful jaws to crush an enemy. As the shark turns the native will sink rapidly and come up and rip the creature open with a quick slash of the knife. Sometimes they will avoid the shark time after time, cutting it on the nose and pricking it to arouse its anger. "For excitement it outrills a bull fight."—Detroit Free Press.

TUBES FOR LUNGS.

Complex System by Which Insects Are Enabled to Breathe.

While mammals have lungs and fishes gills, insects have neither one nor the other. Instead they present a complex system of tubes running throughout the length of their bodies, whereby the air is conveyed to every part of the system.

To guard insects against collapse from pressure of air, nature has furnished the little creatures with a fine thread running spirally within the walls of the tube, just as a garden hose is protected with wire.

Many flies live first in the water as larvae. Arranged along each side of their bodies is a series of exceedingly thin plates, into each of which runs a series of blood vessels. These plates are placed to absorb the oxygen contained in the water. The tail ends in three featherlike projections, and by means of these the larvae cause currents of water to flow over the gills, and thus their efficiency is increased.

Gnats also exist in the water as larvae. But they have no gills. Their breathing is accomplished by means of a tube situated at the tip of the tail. The larvae floats along head downward in the water, with this tube just above the surface, so that the creatures may breathe.—Harper's Weekly.

Another Testimonial

The heating system you have installed in my home, consisting of a jacket heater and four radiators, is doing really wonderful work. By this system every room in the house is heated to a sunny temperature at the cost of fuel for one stove. There is less ashes, bother and trouble with this system than with the ordinary stove and the gain in comfort and the saving in fuel more than pays for cost of the system. I did not know what real winter comfort was until I tried your system.—Wm. Long, West Royalty.

LURE OF DANGER.

Tragic Recklessness of a Trio of Fire Fighting Heroes.

Former Chief Croker of New York in the World's Work says that, although the whole fire service is founded on the principle of obedience, it is almost impossible to drag a man from danger when his battle blood is up. "In 1905," he says, "I lost three good men in a big warehouse fire in Thirtieth street through recklessness inspired by this spirit. The building had been pretty well gutted, and one of the walls was getting shaky. Directly under this wall were three men from an engine company hugging a 'lead' of hose, their helmets down over their eyes and playing their water on the flames, which almost singed their faces. I saw their danger—it would have been obvious to any one but these three fight maddened heroes—and shouted: "Get back there, men! Get back from that wall!"

"They paid as much attention to me as if they had been stone deaf. I ran over and shoved one after the other back into the street out of danger. "When you're told to get back, get back," I said. "You obey orders." "Then I turned my back and hurried to another point of the fire. The wall fell before I had gone ten yards. I looked around for the three men. They were nowhere in sight! The moment my back was turned they had rushed back to play their stream in that place of peril, and when the wall fell it buried them beneath the bricks—dead."

Had Boils On Neck and Arms.

Had Them Lanced But, Got No Relief Until He Used Burdock Blood Bitters.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still, at the same time are very painful. They are caused entirely by bad blood, and for you to get rid of them it is absolutely necessary to put the blood into good condition. For this purpose there is no remedy that can compare with Burdock Blood Bitters. This preparation has been on the market for about 35 years, and has a reputation unequalled by any other for the making of pure, rich, red blood. Mr. H. J. Batten, Stratford, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled for several weeks with boils on my neck and arms. I had them lanced by the doctor, but as soon as one went others came. I tried all kinds of so called remedies, but could get no relief till I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I am pleased to say I am now quite free from those most painful things, and feel much better in every respect. "My boy, of nine years, had a rash come over his back and legs, so we gave him a few doses and now he is all right again." Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T.
