United States Golf Team Captures Ryder Cup From Britons 9 Matches To Three

(By Bob Cavagnaro, Associated Press Sports Writer)
RIDGEWOOD, N. J., Sept. 29.—The professional golf team supremacy was restored to the United States today when a band of American shotmakers defeated a British side nine matches to three and recaptured the $15,000 gold international Ryder Cup.
This was the fifth biennial meeting between the players of the two nations since the competition was instituted in 1927. In the four previous matches the Britons won twice at home, in 1929 and 1933, and the Americans won in this country in 1927 and 1931. Thus, by virtue of their victory today, the Americans gained a 3-2 upphand in the series.

Eagles Must Continue In N.H.L., Ruling

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
TORONTO, Sept. 29.—St. Louis Eagles must continue to participate in National Hockey League play this winter or throw up their franchise, President Frank Calder ruled at the annual meeting of the League today.

Request for suspension of the Eagles' franchise for one year made by Redmond Quain, Club representative, was rejected at the meeting with the next move being left to the St. Louis Club. Quain intimated that if the suspension was granted he would rent his players out to other teams in the loop.

Quain further said he had been offered $30,000 for his roster of 23 players but thought the offer too low. He had asked a sum not in excess of $100,000 for his team, he said.

Transfer of the franchise of Les Canadiens Hockey Club of Montreal was accepted at the meeting. J. E. Savard was elected Governor of the club to succeed Leo Dandurand. Dandurand's resignation was accepted with regrets.
Because of the unsettled condition of the St. Louis problem, it was impossible to draw up a schedule of games for this season. The schedule will be arranged at a later date. The question of referees was left in the hands of President Calder.

Crutchfield Critically Injured

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
SHAWINIGAN, QUE., Sept. 29.—Nelson Crutchfield, centre of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, was in hospital here tonight critically injured following an automobile accident. His injury was diagnosed as a severe fracture of the skull.

Early tonight preparations were being made for an operation on Crutchfield who has been prominent in Canadian sport for several years. He was a star on McGill University's hockey team for several years as an undergraduate, joining Canadiens last season. While at McGill he played in the Maritimes in Allan Cup play-off games.
He was rushed to the Joyce Memorial Hospital here last night following collision of L'oneil Swift's roadster with a sedan driven by Ernest Trahan of Montreal. Crutchfield and Miss Brigitte Bourassa were passengers in Swift's roadster.

The two automobiles collided on a curve and the lighter car turned over, rolled into a ditch and rebounded on the road, standing on its wheels. Crutchfield was critically injured but Swift and Miss Bourassa escaped with facial cuts. Trahan and his family were not injured.

Alphons St. Onge, reaching the scene just after the collision, aided in removing the unconscious hockey player from the car and ambulances removed all three to hospital.
The accident took place about five miles from the Crutchfield home here. His party was driving to Three Rivers when Mr. Trahan was enroute to Shawinigan Falls.

Massachusetts Golf Team Captures Tournament

(By Bill King, Associated Press Sports Writer)
OSTERVILLE, Mass., Sept. 29.—The Massachusetts Lesley Cup golf team, invincible on one of its home courses, registered one of the most decisive victories in the trophy's 30-year history today over the metropolitan, Pennsylvania and Eastern Canadian forces in the foursomes and singles matches at Oyster Harbors.
The Bay States ended the two-day competition with a total of 64 points, 17 more than the New York State team. A second day split put Pennsylvania in third place with 37 points and the Canadians trailed with 32 points.
Foremost in the victorious ranks of the 10-man Massachusetts team one of the strongest that has represented this state in this international amateur competition, were Mel Merritt and Joe Batschelder of Salem, who were unbeatable in their four starts, as partners and solo performers. Their clean-sweeps provided the Massachusetts team with 18 of its points.
Francis Oulmet, former United States open and amateur titlist, supplied momentum to the Bay State's closing surge by sweeping all three of his singles matches. He nosed out Hugh Jaques of Montreal by capturing the final hole, after subduing Eddie Held, one of the metropolitan districts' brightest stars, 3 and 2, and Bill Marks of the Pennsylvania team, 5 and 4.
Joe Lynch, the Boston boy who went to the semi-final round in the recent amateur championship play at Cleveland, failed to live up to Saturday's promise when he gained 2 1-2 points for his team, but he did succeed in giving New York's brilliant Mark Stuart a 2 and 1 setback while holding Jack Nash of London, Ont., even, and bowing to the sub-par 71 turned in by Dwight Armstrong of Pennsylvania.

Canadiens To Train In Quebec

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—Canadiens of the National Hockey League will pitch their training camp at Quebec next month, Maurice Forget, one of the new owners announced today following his return from the N. H. L. meeting yesterday at Toronto.
While at Toronto Forget completed plans with Art Ross of Boston Bruins for a pre-season inter-club series in Quebec and possibly a short tour of the Maritime Provinces.
Forget expressed deep regret at the accident last night which sent Nelson Crutchfield, rookie centre, to a Shawinigan Falls hospital with a fractured skull. The club was anxiously awaiting word of an operation which the young player was to undergo.
Forget said that Vancouver, Winnipeg and Quebec had been under consideration as training sites but Quebec was picked after successful arrangements had been closed with Bruins. Boston has prepared for the winter campaign in Quebec for the past two years and last autumn travelled to the Maritimes, where Canadians were in training at Saint John, and played exhibitions with the Montreal team in Saint John, Moncton and Halifax, concluding the series with a contest in Quebec.
Among amateurs expected to get troyous with the flying Frenchmen are Roland "Dizzy" Deslites who hails from Stratford, Ont., and has campaigned in the Maritimes, George Tapin of Montreal, Maxie Bennett, former Hamilton Tiger star, and M. Nadeau, 192-pound defence star of Quebec Aces.

Cowboys Win H. R. Softball Championship

The Cowboys annexed the championship of the Holy Redeemer Softball League over the week-end by virtue of their double victory over the Brighton Hawks 15-5, 12-10.

The McCourt coached team, after playing anything but softball in the opening game, rallied in the second game to give the Cowboys one of the hardest fights to date. Down 12-10 going into the last of the ninth, the first two Hawks up filed out to the infield. Burke then singled to centre and McCourt advanced him to third by slugging a drive over second base. Trainor, who was the heavy hitter for the Hawks during the encounters, then popped out to Walsh at second, finishing the ball game and giving the Cowboys the championship. "Lefty" Garrett was the heavy hitter for the Cowboys, slugging out 6 home runs in the two games.
Batteries were:
Hawks—Trainor and Coyle.
Cowboys—Callaghan and Blanchard.

Arky Vaughan Leads National League Hitters

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—While Floyd (Arky) Vaughan of Pittsburgh Pirates was assured of the batting championship held last year by his teammate, Paul Waner, a stirring race for the American League title wound up today with the issue still in doubt.
Buddy Myer, Washington veteran, slammed out four hits in five times up in his final game against the Athletics and according to unofficial records nosed out Joe Voornik of Cleveland for the title. The four-point gain on the final day gave Myer a mark of 350 while Voornik, hitting only once in four attempts, dropped a point to 348. A complete re-check of the official records will be needed before it is decided some time next winter, whether these marks will stand.
Vaughan wound up with an unofficial 385 mark and a margin of 32 points over his nearest rival, Joe Medwick of St. Louis.

Split Twin Bill

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The Yankees and Red Sox took turns at shattering each other's winning streaks today as they split their final doubleheader of the season before 16,170 fans at Yankee Stadium.
Boston won the opener 4-3 as Jack Wilson outpitched Walter Brown and weighed in with a timely single to drive in two runs. The Yanks came back with a 4-0 victory in the second game, called after a 4-1-3 innings because of darkness.
A four run rally, including three walks, two errors, Red Rolfe's double and Red Ruffing's single gave the Yanks all their second game runs in the third inning. The Yanks had won seven straight games and the Sox four before today's defeats.
The Athletics wound up their season by topping Washington Senators 11-8 and also winning the series' two games to one, at Philadelphia.
Jimmy Foxx hit two home runs, his 35th and 36th of the season and Buddy Myer, contestant for the hitting title, made four clean hits in five times up.
The Indians took the second game of a closing doubleheader 7-4 in six innings from St. Louis Browns at Cleveland after losing the first 9-7. The second game was called because of darkness.
Cleveland ended the season in third place for the second consecutive year and the Browns finished seventh after occupying the cellar most of the season.
The American League champion Detroit Tigers fell twice before the White Sox in closing their regular season schedule at Chicago, 3-2, and 14-2. Eiden Auker, the submarine hurler, was belted hard in his final tune-up for the world series.
Before Auker retired after two innings of the second game, the White Sox had exploded 10 singles to tie the American League record for one-base hits in one inning and pounded over eight runs. They added six more in the third off Joe Sullivan, while Les Tietje yielded only five hits.
The final game was called after 5 1-2 innings to enable the Tigers to catch an early train back to Detroit.

Home Run Circuit

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics walloped two home runs in his final game of the season yesterday to share honors for the 1935 major league season with Hank Greenberg of Detroit Tigers. Each hit 36 homers for the year—far below last year's high marks and even farther below the records set by Babe Ruth in his heyday.
Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, who topped both leagues last season with 49 boundary belts, had only 30 this season. Wally Berger of Boston Braves led the National League with 34.
Home Runs Yesterday: Foxx, Athletics; 2, Estelle, Senators; Delaney, Cardinals; Camilli, Phillies; Stripp, Dodgers, one each.
The Leaders: Greenberg, Tigers, 36; Foxx, Athletics, 36; Berger, Braves 34; Ott, Giants, 31; Gehrig, Yankees, 30; Johnson, Athletics, 28; Trout, Indians, 26; Camilli, Phillies, 25.
League Totals: American 663; National 661; total 1,324.

Fast Record Stallion Is Purchased

On Saturday Frank McKay, Lawndale Farm, East Royalty, completed the purchase by wire of the registered trotting stallion Abbe Worthy, 2:05, son of The Abbe, 2:05 and May Worthy by Guy Arworthy, 2:08 1/2. This beautiful horse will be remembered by local race-goers as the winner of the free-for-all trot at Charlottetown four years ago when he established the present trotting record for P. E. Island of 2:10 1/2 when under the ownership of Mrs. Chas. Ballard, North Sydney and driven by Billy Hood. The last two seasons he has been in the stud in Cape Breton and has sired some beautiful colts and fillies. Mr. McKay's intention is to have him available as a stock horse and there is no question but that he will be well patronized.

Cardinal Rookie Halts Cubs Winning Streak; Foxx Clouts Two Homers

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The Cardinals' farm system set a fourth bright star to bolster the 1936 Red Birds in Bill McGee, Houston right hander, who today made his major league debut with a 2-1 victory over Chicago Cubs at St. Louis.

The recruit, allowing but three hits, handcuffed the new National League champions so effectively that he was in danger in only one inning, the seventh, when the Cubs scored their lone run.
Billy Herman opened the inning with a double and seemed destined to stay there as Freddy Lindstrom and Hank O'Dea failed to find safe territory. Frank Demaree, however, came through with a resounding triple to drive Billy across. He died at third when Phil Cavarretta fled out in the second.
There were only two other Cub base runners. Herman, who singled in the fourth and Hank O'Dea who walked in the second. Neither advanced past first.
Boston Braves ended their National League season as they started it—by beating New York Giants. The score was 3-0, and came after a 5-3 setback in the opener of a doubleheader at Boston.
Danny MacFayden pitched the Bostonians to their 38th victory of the campaign in the nightcap, yielding six hits and gaining the decision over fat Freddy Fitzsimmons who gave seven.
In the opener, Al "Lefty" Smith chalked up his 10th victory for the Giants, who made all their runs off Ed Brandt in the first three innings.
The Dodgers trimmed the Phillies 2-0 in the first game of their concluding doubleheader at Brooklyn as Van Lingle Mungo turned in a two-hit game and whiffed 15. The second contest wound up in a 4-4 tie as darkness halted it after eight innings.
Joe Strip hit a home run in the opener while Dolf Camilli led the Quaker attack in the nightcap with a double and his 26th circuit swat of the year.
The Reds split a double bill with Pittsburgh at Cincinnati, losing the first 5-1 and winning a wild and woolly nightcap 9-6 to close the season in sixth place on the National League ladder.
The first game saw Mace Brown hurling four-hit ball for the Pirates, but the second found the Reds pounding Passo and Birtkofer for 10.

Looking Over The World Series Rivals

(This is the first of three stories comparing the World Series rivals, Detroit and Chicago).
By Paul Michelson,
Associated Press Sports Writer
(By Guardian's Special Wire)
CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Big Hank Greenberg and his home run hat give the Detroit infield an edge in attack over the sensational Chicago Cubs, but from the standpoint of defensive excellence it's a case of close your eyes and take your pick.
Taking man for man in the two infields, who have dashed their respective leagues, you can't give Greenberg a wide edge of superiority until you get to big Hank. Although a flop at the plate last fall when the St. Louis pitchers sidetracked him into helplessness, Hank rates as the one-man question mark over the Cub World Series hopes.
Greenberg and 19-year-old Phil Cavarretta, guardian of first base for the series' foes, represent striking contrasts. The Detroit star is steady, experienced and brilliant; Cavarretta, just out of high school, is inexperienced and his judgment, at times, is shaky. Phil undoubtedly will be a great star some day but right now he's far from being a star. Greenberg, who is batting .334 with 36 home runs to Cavarretta's 27.
Comparisons of the other infield regulars fail to disclose any such convincing superiority as Greenberg holds. Charley Gehring and Bill Herman are the finest second basemen of their circuits, defensively and offensively, but in fielding you have to give Bill Jurgens of the Cubs the nod over Bill Rogell and Stan Hack an edge over Marvin Owen of Detroit, at shortstop and third, respectively. Jurgens can't hit with Rogell but he can cover more territory; Hack is superior to Owen at bat and in competitive spirit, a margin that is reflected some by his inherent weakness in fielding bunts.
Mickey Cochrane, one of baseball's greatest figures, is faster on his feet than the great Cub backstop, Leo "Gabby" Hartnett, whose lack of speed contributes a lot of double plays to the enemy, but there isn't much to choose between them.
The rival pitchers stack about even on fielding.
