PLAY IN HUNTER RIVER — The Stanley Bridge cast played "Mr. Beane from Lima" in Hunter River the 19th. The only drawback was the rain. Every minute of the play was interesting and humorous. It is an old story told in a new way. An ambitious and designing mother wants her attractive daughter married to a high-toned city boy, but the daughter's heart is set upon the boy of her own choice. When the mother can't get her own way, she throws a fit, declaring she has heart failure, and is apt to die in their hands. But the doctor tells them nothing is wrong with her but bad temper. Mrs. Joslyn St. Clair is not the only one who has tried that trick in real life.

Overestimated Dangers At Chalk River Plant

MONTREAL, April 26 — (CP) — Canada overestimated the dangers when she built her atomic pilot plant at remote Chalk River, Ont., 120 miles north of Ottawa, Dr. C. V. MacKenzie, head of the Atomic Energy Control Board said tonight.

He told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy "We now feel such a plant could be placed quite close to a large city and the employees housed at a site near the plant without undue risk." More than 1,000 workers now are transported daily 10 miles or more to their posts.

In his speech prepared for delivery, Dr. MacKenzie said Canada's atomic effort has placed her in the forefront of the developments "for peaceful purposes." He said Canada has nothing to do with the A-bomb.

The Roosevelt-Churchill - King conference at Quebec City in 1945 laid the groundwork for three-country co-operation in atomic energy. It was decided there that Canada should build the heavy water pile which now allows her to conduct experiments "of the greatest importance" which cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

In the field of raw materials, "it may very well be that Canada's contribution in uranium and uranium's contribution to the economic prosperity of Canada may some day solve many of our problems." Currently, said Dr. MacKenzie, "there is a growing knowledge of reactors and much thought is being given to different kinds to serve different purposes."

Dr. MacKenzie thought the peacetime significance of the energy is "far greater" than its war role. Canada's radioactive pile was "producing in small quantities the most valuable material in the world—fissile plutonium—a material which I am sure some day will be the raw material of great industrial developments."

When Age Shall Come

By F. H. MacArthur
When Time shall draw deep furrows 'cross your brow,
And busily spin silver threads of hair,
Your youth and beauty that men gaze on now
Will be a faded rose, and none will care.
Then, looking back, you'll sadly muse and say:
"How futile are the things in which I've just
The friends we cherish most, soon fade away
And mingle with all other forms in dust."
Grieve not for that which Youth and Beauty give
To all. For knowledge, never Youth's to hold,
Will come when Age shall teach us how to live.
To dimming eyes the future will unfold
New types of beauty only Age can know:
A treasure-house of memories long ago.

HAMPSHIRE W.M.S.

The Hampshire United W. M. S. were entertained for their April meeting by Mrs. John Clark. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Hilbert Tremere. The theme: A new advance in Christian Missions, Christian Missions were born on Easter day. The first message of the Risen Christ to his disciples was, "Go tell the world"—and they obeyed His command.

Passages of scripture from Mark 16 and Acts 1, 2, on the Easter story were read by Mrs. C. Proud and Mrs. C. Newson. A challenge was extended to each member, to help share in an advance towards W. M. S. work this year, such as: 1. Attend meetings regularly; 2. help to enlist new members; 3. be more faithful in Bible study and prayer; 4. read at least one more missionary book; 5. help in the missionary education of children; 6. increase my givings. Soldiers of the Cross, Arise! was sung and this hymn closed the devotional period.

The president, Mrs. C. Edwards presented a chapter from the study book, "West of the Gorges," which portrays very beautifully how eager the Chinese people are to hear and to be taught about the Gospels. Eight members responded to roll call and two new members were heartily welcomed, namely: Mrs. E. Clow and Mrs. E. Stewart.

The Easter thank offering envelopes were opened and a good sum was reported by the treasurer from the same. A lovely warm quilt had been completed within the last month and was left with the supply secretary, Mrs. G. Kilson was asked to take the study book for the May meeting and Mrs. Hilbert Tremere kindly invited the members to her home for that evening. Correspondence was read by Mrs. J. Easton and a discussion took place on the W. M. S. Rally. The meeting closed with Mizpah Benediction.
