Friday morning a northwester struck suddenly at about four in the morning and has continued stormy up to Monday, and no fishing boats could get out, which was a drawback to the lobster fishermen and herring fisherman also. But Saturday was, however, a good farming day, and many planted potatoes. At Big Pond, which is a high and dry settlement, potato-planting was general. They weren't planting cobbles or seed stock, which is to be noted, but the old varieties in stable manure. Vincent McPhee, Michael C. McPhee, Leo S. McCormack and others were planting. It was a fine, clear day, though a high sea was running in the Gulf.

300 acres. It has a herd of cattle ranging from 60 to 100, sheep, horses, a big herd of pigs and about 300 poultry. The boys will be taught to adapt themselves generally to farm life.

In addition to the hostel the Committee are using Cabot House—reminiscent of that Sebastian and John Cabot who sailed from Bristol to discover North America—and here the boys will learn carpentering, boat repairing, and cloth mending, and be generally taught to become handy men.

His Royal Highness in opening the Hostel, said:—

"It furnishes an example of what can be done by whole-hearted co-operation between all sections of the community. I am glad to know that the hostel has been generously supported by the City Corporation and by the Government. From my personal knowledge of the Dominions, I am certain that they offer great opportunities to British boys. At the same time, it is vital that boys going to the Dominions should be tested and prepared for the new life they are to live out there. The testing and the training which will be given at this hostel will undoubtedly stand them in good stead.

"Just over 400 years ago, the citizens of Bristol equipped Sebastian Cabot to sail from this port on a voyage which is famous even in your famous annals. They do better than they knew, for, though the voyage showed no commercial profit, it was the first practical step towards founding our Empire overseas. (Applause.) I believe Cabot took with him five cabin boys from this district, no doubt boys of similar ages to those I see round me now; and it is, I think, specially appropriate that the Corporation and citizens of Bristol should follow up and consolidate the work by helping their young manhood to maintain the British stock, and the British traditions in our great Dominions overseas. (Applause.) I know that these boys will be heartily welcomed there by their kith and kin. They are going to help in the creation of wealth from

Living Buddha Found in Tibet

(By British United Press)
LONDON, May 21.—Guarded by monks, given death's head rattles to play with, "treated" to devil dances by worshippers dressed as skeletons and monsters, and lulled to sleep by trumpets and gongs, the most remarkable child in the world, according to a story reaching London, has just been given his first public presentation as a god.

He is the two-year-old Mongolian boy who has been created the "Great Immortal White Lama" the spiritual head of millions of Asiatics, and in whom part of the soul of the god Buddha is supposed to reside.
An amazing story lies behind his elevation to the position of "living Buddha." When the former holy Lama of Tibet died, the priests believed, according to custom, that the spirit of the god living within him had been reincarnated in the soul of a baby born the same day.
Search was at once commenced throughout Mongolia and Tibet for a child born with the marks upon the body which the priests held to be proof that it had been chosen by Buddha. For months the quest went on until the present infant Lama was discovered.

From now till the day of his death he will be treated exactly as a god would be. Nothing will be denied him except liberty, for it is decreed that the holy Lama shall always remain a virtual prisoner.

No woman is allowed to attend him. Everything concerning him is directed and organized by the Grand Abbot, who acts as regent during his infancy, and by lesser priests. All day a watch is kept by priests, who believe that at any moment the living Buddha may manifest through his lips.

Every item of baby prattle is carefully taken down by scribes and analyzed by the priests in the hope that it will reveal some hidden message from the god.

His rattles are ornamented with skulls and bones in order to scare away evil spirits. Another toy is a huge drum made from human skulls. "The Great Immortal White Lama" of Mongolia is comparable to the Dalai Lama, the most important living Buddha on earth. In him, it is claimed, there has entered a larger portion of the Buddha than any other.

Guarded by 10,000 monks, the Dalai Lama lives in utter seclusion in a monastery towering to the sky. Upon his death the priests cut a hole in the top of his head so that the divine spirit can escape into another body.

BRISTOL BUILDING BOYS

For Australia and Canada
H. E. H. Prince Arthur of Connaught, visited Bristol, England, on May 9th, to open a commodious hostel in which forty boys are in residence for training for work in Australia and Canada. A course of twelve weeks training course is projected, so that 120 to 160 boys and youths will be sent out each year.

This scheme has been launched by the Bristol Migration Committee, which has the Lord Mayor at its head, and which, with the co-operation of the City Council, will be able to train the boys on the Corporation Farm of

FRANCIS PAULINE MACKENZIE

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Duhan MacKenzie, French River, on March 22nd the angel of death visited their home and claimed for his own their infant daughter Francis Pauline at the early age of seven weeks this being the first death in their family circle, and also on May the 12th, God claimed for his own their second daughter, Kathleen Joyce at the early age of three years and six months all that medical skill and kind nursing could do God called the two loved ones to be with Him in Heaven where there is no Sorrow and Pain. Our sincere sympathy goes out to the bereaved parents in the passing of their two dear loved ones. The funeral services were conducted by their Pastor Mr. Fleck who spoke on "Life from the Cradle to the Grave." The beautiful solo Over the River was sweetly rendered by Mr. Roy Phillips. Their little caskets were covered with beautiful flowers and wreaths from kind friends and neighbours. There are left to mourn besides the parents one brother Donald Leigh and one sister Beverly Jean. The pall bearers were, Eric Daleny, Harold Bernard, Ralph Ozen, Oliver Bernard. The remains of the loved ones were laid to rest in the Geddie Memorial Cemetery.

Dearest loved ones thou have left us,
Gone to be with God on High,
Though we miss thee from the circle
We will all meet bye and bye.

King Expected To Set June 16 As Thanksgiving Day

LONDON, May 21.—It is understood that Sunday, June 16, has been selected as the date that King George will appoint as a day of thanksgiving for his recovery from his recent grave illness.
The program as unofficially forecast contemplates a special service at Westminster Abbey attended by the King and Queen and other members of the royal family, to which the public will be admitted.
It is recalled the King, in a special message from Craigwell House on April 22 said he looked forward to joining with his people "on some appointed day" in thanking God not only for his own recovery, "but for the new evidence of growing kindness significant of the true nature of men and nations."
